Edgar Filing: PERFORMANCE TECHNOLOGIES INC \DE\ - Form 8-K

Under the Company's current stock repurchase program, approximately .1 million and 1.6 million shares of its common stock were repurchased for aggregate purchase prices of $.5 million and $8.0 million during the three months and year ended December 31, 2007, respectively. Since the beginning of 2007, the Company has repurchased approximately 12% of its common shares. The Company has 11.7 million common shares outstanding at December 31, 2007.

Cash and investments amounted to $32.2 million, or approximately $2.75 per share, and the Company had no long-term debt at December 31, 2007.

In addition to meeting our fourth quarter projections, we importantly saw continuing signs of traction from our ongoing initiatives, said John Slusser, president and chief executive officer. Our emphasis on increasing our value proposition to our customers resulted in higher gross margin levels for a second sequential quarter, our market diversification efforts resulted in a meaningful increase in our aerospace and defense sector revenues and our ongoing investment in our Signaling Systems Group yielded continued growth in signaling product line revenues. Mr. Slusser further noted, For the 2007 year overall, we are pleased that meaningful progress was made to counteract ongoing challenges we face from weakness in our traditional OEM telecommunications business. Despite a decline in revenue from 2006, our net income improved in 2007, we realized higher gross margins and our overall expenses were reduced, while still making investments for the future. We ended 2007 with a strong balance sheet even after devoting nearly eight million dollars of our working capital to our stock repurchase program. As we optimistically move forward into 2008, we will build upon our established 2007 initiatives by further leveraging our core technologies and making prudent strategic investments supportive of long-term growth.

Guidance

Many customers for our embedded systems products are only placing orders for product when they have orders in hand from their customers. At the current time, the Company's forward-looking visibility of customer orders is very limited. This lack of customer visibility makes it challenging to forecast revenue and generally results in a substantial portion of the Company's revenue being derived from orders placed within a quarter and shipped in the final month of the same quarter.

The OEM telecommunications business continues to be very challenging with significant network upgrades being primarily focused on the growth in text messaging. While the worldwide explosion in text messaging has been positive for our signaling product line, it has not resulted in meaningful shipments of our embedded systems products. Management currently expects shipments for aerospace and defense projects and signaling deployments to grow more rapidly during 2008 than expected declines in our OEM telecommunications business.

The Company provides guidance only on earnings per share expected in the next quarter. Management anticipates results in the first quarter 2008 to range from a profit of $.03 per share, to a loss of $.02 per share. These per share estimates exclude stock-based compensation expense, restructuring charges (if any) and discrete income tax items. In the first quarter 2008, stock-based compensation expense is expected to be approximately $.2 million, excluding any stock options that will be granted during the quarter.

More in-depth discussions of the Company's strategy and financial performance can be found in the Company's periodic reports on Form 10-K and Form 10-Q, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
