Item 1.01.

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On January 14, 2010, Element 21 Golf Company (the “Company”) entered into a Trademark License and Product Distribution Agreement (“License Agreement”) with Zeroloft Corp. (“Zeroloft”), effective as of January 1, 2009. Within the field of sport wear apparel, footwear and related sports specialty items, the Company obtained: (i) an exclusive license (the “License”) to the Zeroloft Aspen Aerogels™ trademarks; and (ii) a limited, worldwide, exclusive right to distribute the products bearing the Zeroloft Aspen Aerogels™ Trademark for production and sales of items in such field. The License Agreement has a term of five years, which term is automatically renewable for one year terms unless terminated by either party pursuant to a notice of termination delivered at least ninety days prior to any such anniversary date, or: (a) by either party in the event the other party materially breaches the terms and conditions of this Agreement, provided that the non-breaching party gives the breaching party written notice of any such breach and the breaching party fails to cure (or fails to take reasonable steps to cure) such breach within thirty (30) days thereof; (b) by either party in the event the other party makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy or for reorganization or arrangement under the bankruptcy laws, if a petition in bankruptcy is filed against such party, or if a receiver or trustee is appointed for all or any part of the property or assets of such party, and provided that any such action is not dismissed within thirty (30) days after such action is initiated; or (c) by a written agreement executed by the parties. Zeroloft shall have a right to terminate the License Agreement within ninety days of the Company making an assignment of its rights or obligations under this License Agreement, without the written consent of Zeroloft. In consideration for the License, the Company will issue to Zeroloft $2 million worth of shares of common stock of the Company (“Shares”) for the period beginning January 1, 2009 and ending January 13, 2010, at $0.45 cents per Share and, at the sole discretion of Zeroloft, either: (i) an additional $1 million worth of Shares upon execution of the License Agreement, at the then market price; or installment payments of $200,000 per year for five years. Pursuant to the License Agreement, the Company shall have the right to sublicense and shall pay to Zeroloft a royalty of 50% of the net license revenue resulting from the manufacture, distribution or sale of products by sublicensees. A copy of the License and Product Distribution Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.1.

On January 14, 2010, the Company entered into a Management Agreement (“Management Agreement”) with Zeroloft pursuant to which the Company will render services for the operation and expansion of Zeroloft’s manufacturing and licensing of its proprietary, Zeroloft Aspen Aerogels™ branded weather-resistant fabric, product made of such fabric, thermal insulation and related insulating fabrics. In consideration for providing such services, the Company will receive a management fee of approximately: (i) five percent (5%) on gross receipts of sales of items made of Zeroloft product with a value of less than two (2) US dollars per square foot, less royalties; and (ii) ten percent 10% on gross receipts of sales of items made of Zeroloft product with a value greater than two (2) US dollars per square foot. The Management Agreement has a one year term which is automatically renewable, unless terminated by either party: (a) by either party in the event the other party materially breaches the terms and conditions of this Agreement, provided that the non-breaching party gives the breaching party written notice of any such breach and the breaching party fails to cure (or fails to take reasonable steps to cure) such breach within thirty (30) days thereof; (b) by either party in the event the other party makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy or for reorganization or arrangement under the bankruptcy laws, if a petition in bankruptcy is filed against such party, or if a receiver or trustee is appointed for all or any part of the property or assets of such party, and provided that any such action is not dismissed within thirty (30) days after such action is initiated; or (c) by a written agreement executed by the parties.. A copy of the Management Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.2.

Item 8.01.
