Disclosure Regarding Forward Looking Statements

This Prospectus includes statements that are forward-looking statements including statements regarding our expectations, hopes, beliefs, intentions or strategies regarding the future. All statements other than statements of historical facts included in this Prospectus, including, without limitation, statements under Prospectus Summary, Risk Factors, Management's Plan of Operations, and Business regarding our financial position, business strategy and other plans and objectives for future operations, and future product demand, supply, costs, marketing, transportation and pricing factors, are forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements included in this Prospectus are based on information available to us on the date

Although we believe that the assumptions and expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, we can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to have been correct or that we will take any actions that may presently be planned. Certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations are disclosed under Risk Factors and elsewhere in this Prospectus. All written or oral forward-looking statements attributable to us or persons acting on our behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by such factors.

Risk Factors

Any investment in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following information about those risks, together with the other information contained in this Prospectus and any other filings we make with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission before you decide whether to buy our shares. The risk factors set forth below do not purport to be all of the risk factors which may exist with respect to the Company, its plan of operations and/or this Offering. Investors should fully analyze, along with their legal, tax and investment professionals, the Company, its business and this Offering. Should any one or more of these risks actually materialize, the results of our operations and our financial condition would likely suffer. In that event, the market price of our common stock could decline, and you could lose part or all of your investment. We have incurred losses from inception and may never generate profits.

We cannot guarantee that an active trading market will develop for our common stock.

There is no public market for our Common Stock and there can be no assurance that a regular trading market for our Common Stock will ever develop or that, if developed, it will be sustained. Therefore, purchasers of our Common Stock should have long-term investment intent and should recognize that it may be difficult to sell the shares, notwithstanding the fact that they are not restricted securities. There has not been a market for our Common Stock. We cannot predict the extent to which a trading market will develop or how liquid a market might become.

We plan on having a market maker file a Form 2-11 with the National Association of Securities Dealers (the NASD) to have our Common Stock quoted on the OTC-Bulletin Board. To date, this has not been done and the NASD has not cleared our Common Stock to be quoted on the OTC-Bulletin Board and there is no assurance that our Common Stock will ever be quoted on the OTC-Bulletin Board.

Kore Nutrition, Inc. is a Penny Stock

The Penny Stock Reform Act (Securities Exchange Act Sect. 3(a)(51A)) defines a penny stock as an equity security that is not registered on a national stock exchange or authorized for quotation on NASDAQ, and that sells for under $5.00 per share. Kore Nutrition, Inc. will be considered a penny stock under said Act. A purchase of a Penny Stock is an extremely high risk stock purchase that could result in the entire loss of an individual's investment. Since Kore Nutrition, Inc. stock will be considered a penny stock, a broker-dealer is required to provide a risk disclosure statement detailing the inherent risks in investing in a penny stock to a customer prior to recommending the sale of its stock. This could severely limit the ability to create a market for shares of Kore Nutrition, Inc. s stock and make it difficult for an Investor to liquidate his or her shares.

There is no guarantee that a Broker/Dealer will file a 15c2-11 on behalf of the Company. There is no assurance that our common stock will be cleared to trade on the over-the-counter Bulletin Board.

Broker-dealers who sell penny stock to certain types of investors are required to comply with the Security and Exchange Commission s regulations concerning the transfer of penny stock. If an exemption is not available, these regulations require broker-dealers to: make a suitability determination prior to selling penny stock to the purchaser; receive the purchaser s written consent to the transaction; and, provide certain written disclosures to the purchaser. These rules may affect the ability of broker-dealers to make a market in, or trade Kore Nutrition, Inc. shares. In turn, this may make it very difficult for investors to resell those shares in the public market.

The Company s officers and directors control a significant percentage of the outstanding shares of the Company and therefore have disproportionate control over the Company s activities

Former officers and directors beneficially own approximately 77% of the issued and outstanding shares of our common stock. As a result of this ownership these persons can control the Company s activities including the election of members of the board of directors. Investors may not agree with the control exerted over the Company s activities by such officers and directors nor may Investors agree with the decisions, effecting the Company, made by such officers and directors. As a result of the control by officers and directors Investors may have limited, if any, opportunity to affect the Company s business activities.

Kore Nutrition has a lack of substantial operating revenue, which could cause an investor to lose his or her entire investment.

The Company's principal activities to date have been limited to organizing the Corporation, website development, branding and logo design, fundraising and office setup, Consequently, there is limited operating history upon which to base an assumption that the Company will be able to achieve its business plans, which could cause an Investor to lose his or her entire investment. The Company has a net loss and deficit accumulated during this development stage through June 30, 2008 of $181,190.

We are still in the development phase of our business model; there is no guarantee that we will be successful in implementing a successful business plan.

We have only limited management personnel and we are still engaged in structuring our management and our proposed operations. Our operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including the lack of significant operating history. There can be no assurance that future operations will be profitable. Revenues and profits, if any, will depend upon various factors, including our ability to successfully develop and market our products, the expertise of our management, the market acceptance of the products offered, costs and general economic conditions. There can be no assurance that we will achieve our projected goals or accomplish our business plans; and such failure could have a material adverse effect on us and the value and price of our securities.

We have a limited operating history upon which investors may rely in considering investment in our stocks.

Kore Nutrition, Inc., a Nevada corporation ("Company"), was organized on October 13, 2006. The Company's executive offices and primary business plans are centralized in British Columbia, Canada. On January 3, 2007, the Registrar of Companies of British Columbia approved Kore Nutrition as an extra-provincial company authorized to conduct business in the Province. The Company operates on a December 31st fiscal year. Currently, the Company has two employees, both are serving as officers and directors of the Company. The Company is in its initial stages of development with minimal income.

Our operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including the lack of significant operating history. There can be no assurance that future operations will be profitable. Revenues and profits, if any, will depend upon various factors, including our ability to successfully develop and market products, the expertise of our management, the market acceptance of the products offered, costs and general economic conditions. There can be no assurance that we will achieve our projected goals or accomplish our business plans; and such failure could have a material adverse effect on us and the value and price of our securities.

Our funds on hand may not be sufficient to meet our long term business development needs and we may be forced to seek alternative sources of funds, which may be dilutive to our stockholders.

The Company used funds available to it from its first two private placements and funds from loans from officers of the Company totaling $42,724.50 to begin product and brand development and organization costs. At June 30, 2008, the Company had a working capital of approximately $26,215. It is estimated that the Company will require approximately $77,190 of additional funds to meet its long-term obligations and pursue its business plan objectives.

We may be required to seek additional funds and to raise additional capital from public or private equity or debt sources in order to fund our general and administrative costs and expenses, support further expansion, meet competitive pressures, or respond to unanticipated requirements.

There is no guarantee that we will be able to raise any such capital on terms acceptable to us or at all. Such financing may be upon terms that are dilutive or potentially dilutive to our stockholders. If alternative sources of financing are required, but are insufficient or unavailable, we will be required to modify our growth and operating plans in accordance with the extent of available funding. At the present time, we do not intend to obtain any loan financing from a lending institution. If necessary, our officers or other shareholders may make a personal loan to the Company at or below market rates, on terms customarily used by lending institutions in making loans, although there are no formal agreements with either of our officers to do so. At this time there are no existing written agreements with any officers or shareholders to lend the Company any money if such additional funds are needed. There is no guarantee that such officer/shareholder loans will ever materialize if the Company requires additional funds.

If we are required to obtain loan financing, the Company may be deprived from using some or all of its revenues for advancing its plan of operations due to the payment of principal and/or interest on any such loans obtained by the Company. Loan financing may subject our operations to restrictions imposed by the lending institution, hindering our ability to operate in the manner best determined by our management and/or Board of Directors, with the potential that such restrictions will impede or prevent our growth and/or negatively impact our level of profits, if any. Additionally, the use of debt financing or leverage would subject us to the risk that any downturns in the industry and any changes in interests rates (if we have an adjustable rate loan) will substantially increase the likelihood that our operations will not be profitable, possibly causing us to become bankrupt or to dissolve the corporation.

Because we are dependent upon certain officers, and key employees, if any officers or key employees leave Kore Nutrition, the business could fail.

The Company is substantially dependent upon the efforts of its officers and directors, Deanna Embury, MBA, and Katie Rodgers, CMA, and consultants to the Company. Should any of these cease to be affiliated with the Company for any reason before qualified replacements could be found, there could be material adverse effects on the Company's business and prospects. The Company's management team is small and has limited experience in establishing and managing large-scale operations. We are dependent on the services of Deanna Embury, President and Director, and Katie Rodgers, Secretary/Treasurer and Director. On November 1, 2006, the Company entered into employment agreements with Ms. Embury and Ms. Rodgers who will oversee the following areas: market research, product research and development, fundraising, marketing and general business operations. The term of each contract is for a period of two years. Ms. Rodgers will receive $25,000 per year and Ms. Embury will receive $50,000 per year, each with an option to receive shares in lieu of cash compensation earned or deferred.

We have not entered into any other employment agreements. We do not maintain key-man life insurance on our officers. The loss of one or more of these individuals could materially and adversely impact our operations making it difficult for the Company to be profitable. The day-to-day activities are being executed by the Officers and Directors of the Company, Ms. Embury and Ms. Rodgers, with assistance from consultants. Unless and until additional employees are hired, our attempt to manage our projects and obligations with such a limited staff could have serious adverse consequences, including without limitation, a possible failure to meet a material, contractual, or SEC deadline, or a possible failure to consummate investment or acquisition opportunities.

We may be unable to grow our business at an acceptable pace, or may not be able to effectively manage actual growth, which may cause our business plan to fail.

If we are unable to effectively manage our anticipated growth, our business, financial results and financial condition will be materially and adversely affected. Our inability to effectively manage our future growth will have a material adverse effect on us. If we will have rapid growth in our products, it will place a strain on our managerial, operational, and financial resources. We will initially use outside consultants and specialists to provide legal counsel and preliminary accounting until such persons are required on a full time or ongoing basis. We currently employ two people, Ms. Embury and Ms. Rodgers. We expect to employ six employees within the next 12 months. There can be no assurance that we will be able to effectively manage the expansion of our operations, or that our facilities, systems, procedures or controls will be adequate to support our expanded operations.

We may be subject to government laws and regulations particular to our operations. If we are unable to comply with those laws and regulations, we will cease to do business.

We may not be able to comply with all current and future government regulations. Our business operations are subject to all government regulations normally incident to conducting business (e.g., occupational safety and health acts, workmen's compensation statutes, unemployment insurance legislation, income tax and social security laws and regulations, environmental laws and regulations, consumer safety laws and regulations, etc.) as well as to governmental laws and regulations applicable to small public companies and their capital formation efforts. In addition, we are subject to laws and regulations regarding the production and sale of food items in Canada and the United States. Although we will make every effort to comply with applicable laws and regulations, we can provide no assurance of our ability to do so, nor can we predict the effect of those regulations on our proposed business activities.

We may be unable to pay the numerous expenses associated with our business plan, our business may fail.

We expect to incur numerous expenses in our efforts to research, produce and market our food products. We expect to incur expenses related to product research and development, product testing, employee compensation, market research, website design and development, legal and accounting expenses. Additionally, we will be competing with larger companies well established in our target market. There is no guarantee that we will be able to meet our expenditure requirements. If we cannot meet our expenditures, we may be forced to suspend our active business operations.

Other risks relating to the common stock

Most of our outstanding shares will be free trading after this Offering and, if sold in large quantities, may adversely affect the market price for our common stock.

Upon effectiveness of the Registration Statement of which the Prospectus is a part, 11,000,000 of the 14,294,490 shares of common stock issued and outstanding as of June 30, 2008 may be eligible for resale under Rule 144 under the Securities Act. The possible resale of these shares at that time may have an adverse effect on the market price for our common stock.

The Board of Directors could issue stock to prevent a takeover by an acquirer or shareholder group.

The Company is authorized to issue up to 50,000,000 shares of its common stock, of which only 14,294,490 shares have been issued and are outstanding. There are currently 35,705,510 shares of our common stock which are authorized but have not been issued and are not outstanding. There are no shares of preferred stock issued or authorized. One effect of the existence of authorized but unissued capital stock may be to enable the Board of Directors to render more difficult or to discourage an attempt to obtain control of the Company by means of a merger, tender offer, proxy contest, or otherwise, and thereby to protect the continuity of the Company's management. If, in the due exercise of its fiduciary obligations, for example, the Board of Directors were to determine that a takeover proposal was not in the Company's best interests, such shares could be issued by the Board of Directors without stockholder approval in one or more private placements or other transactions that might prevent, or render more difficult or costly, completion of the takeover transaction by diluting the voting or other rights of the proposed acquirer or insurgent stockholder or stockholder group, by creating a substantial voting block in institutional or other hands that might undertake to support the position of the incumbent Board of Directors, by effecting an acquisition that might complicate or preclude the takeover, or otherwise. The Company does not contemplate any additional issuances of common stock for this purpose at this time.

The issuance of additional shares of common stock by the Company could also have the effect of diluting the ownership percentage of our shareholders at the time additional shares are issued.

We could offer warrants, options and debentures and dilute holdings of Investors

As of June 30, 2008 there are no outstanding warrants and options to purchase common stock of the Company. Should the Company choose to offer incentive options to its key employees, the existence of these options may hinder our future equity offerings, and the exercise of these options would further dilute the interests of all of our shareholders. Future resale of the shares of common stock issuable on the exercise of any issued warrants and options may have an adverse effect on the prevailing market price of our common stock. Furthermore, the holders of any issued warrants and options could exercise them at a time when we would otherwise be able to obtain additional equity capital on terms more favorable to us.

Additional shares of common stock may be issued without shareholder approval.

Kore Nutrition, Inc. has authorized capital of 50,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, and no shares of preferred stock are authorized. As of June 30, 2008, there were 14,294,490 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Our board of directors has authority, without action or vote of our shareholders, to issue all or part of the authorized but unissued shares. Any issuance of shares described in this paragraph will dilute the percentage ownership of our shareholders and may dilute the book value of the common stock.

The Company does not expect to be able to pay dividends in the near future.

We have not paid, and do not plan to pay, dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future, even if we become profitable. Earnings, if any, are expected to be used to advance our activities and for general corporate purposes, rather than to make distributions to shareholders. Investors will have to rely on an increase in the price, if any, of Kore Nutrition, Inc. stock to profit from his or her investment. There are no guarantees that the price of the stock will increase and Investors may lose part or all of the investment.

We face significant competition in our industry.

The food-products business is highly competitive. Numerous brands and products compete for shelf space and sales, with competition based primarily on product quality, convenience, price, trade promotion, consumer promotion, brand recognition and loyalty, customer service, advertising and promotion and the ability to identify and satisfy emerging consumer preferences. We will compete with a significant number of companies of varying sizes, including divisions or subsidiaries of larger companies. Many of these competitors have multiple product lines, substantially greater financial and other resources available to them and may have lower fixed costs. We cannot assure you that we will be able to compete successfully with these companies. Competitive pressures or other factors could cause us to lose market share, which may require us to lower prices, increase marketing and advertising expenditures, or increase the use of discounting or promotional campaigns, each of which would adversely affect our margins and could result in a decrease in our operating results and profitability. See Business Competition.

We are vulnerable to fluctuations in the price and supply of food ingredients, packaging materials and freight.

The prices of the food ingredients we use are subject to fluctuations in price attributable to, among other things, changes in crop size and government-sponsored agricultural and livestock programs. The sales prices to our customers are a delivered price. Therefore, pending an increase in our selling price, we have to absorb higher prices for ingredients, packaging materials and freight. Changes in these prices have a corresponding impact on the manufactured and delivered cost of finished products and, as a result, could impact our gross margins. Our ability to pass along cost increases to customers is dependent upon competitive conditions and pricing methodologies employed in the various markets in which we compete. If we are unable to pass along such cost increases, it could cause our operating results to be reduced.

Going concern considerations.

The Company has incurred losses since its inception and has not yet been successful in establishing profitable operations. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. Unanticipated costs and expenses or the inability to generate revenues could require additional financing, which would be sought through bank borrowings, equity or debt financing, or asset sales. The fact that there are going concern considerations may make raising additional funds or obtaining loans more difficult. To the extent financing is not available, the Company may not be able to, or may be delayed in, developing its services and meeting its obligations. This could result in the entire loss of investment. The Company will continue to evaluate its projected expenditures relative to its available cash and to evaluate additional means of financing in order to satisfy its working capital and other cash requirements. Details regarding these concerns are included in the notes to the audited Financial Statements included in this filing.

Management's plan to mitigate the threat to the continuation of the business will be to increase Kore Nutrition, Inc.'s brand awareness throughout the United States and Canada, and through the Internet, as well as to increase recognition and world wide market awareness by the use of market advertising, Internet advertising, and product sampling promotions. Our long-term goal is to offer healthy packaged snacks that have a higher quality standard than the options currently available on the market.

USE OF PROCEEDS

Proceeds from the sale of shares of Common Stock being registered hereby will be received directly by the Selling Stockholders. Accordingly, we will not receive proceeds from the resale of the Common Stock described in this Prospectus.

DETERMINATION OF OFFERING PRICE

The Offering Price of the Shares has been determined arbitrarily. The price does not bear any relationship to our assets, book value, earnings, or other established criteria for valuing a privately held company. Accordingly, the Offering Price should not be considered an indication of the actual value of our securities.

DILUTION

Since no new shares are being issued as a result of this Offering, there is no dilution to the current shareholders.

SELLING SHAREHOLDERS

The following table sets forth the names of the Selling Shareholders, the number of shares of Common Stock owned beneficially by each of the Selling Shareholders as of June 30, 2008, the number of Shares which may be offered for resale pursuant to this Prospectus and the number of shares of Common Stock owned beneficially by each of the Selling Shareholders after the Offering. ## DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

General

Kore Nutrition, Inc. is a for-profit Nevada Corporation formed on October 13, 2006, and registered in the province of British Columbia, Canada on January 3, 2007. The business model focuses on developing niche snack products that offer a healthy solution for a wide market. Please see "Description of Business" located elsewhere in this document for a complete description of our services.

Objectives of the plan and description of the project

People's hectic schedules, individual nutritional needs, and constant exposure to unhealthy grab-and-go food options, make staying on track with a healthy diet very difficult. Readily available healthy snacks provide exactly that: a convenient, inexpensive, nutrition solution that fits our lifestyles.

High-quality products that are nutritious, convenient, and taste good are in high demand. While there is certainly a large selection of convenience foods available for consumers, there is a strong need for properly balanced, healthy foods that actually taste good and are satisfying. Kore Nutrition's goal is to fill this niche in the market by offering healthy packaged snacks that have a higher quality standard than the options currently available.

Common weaknesses of the convenience meal options currently available are 1) the taste and quality of the ingredients are lacking, or 2) the nutrients are insufficient. Kore's goal is to develop a trusted brand and line of products that suit a range of lifestyles and individuals.

The nature of Kore Nutrition's operations

Tapping into a growing trend, Kore Nutrition plans to make eating healthy food on the go easy. Delicious, nutritious, ready to eat snacks prepared to the specifications of the 40-30-30 (carbohydrates-fats-protein) ingredient ratios and Healthy Heart programs, will be available at local convenience stores, fast food environments, small to large retail grocery stores and vending machines.

The business model focuses on developing niche products that offer a healthy solution for a wide market. This enables the company to remain dynamic in the constantly changing multi-billion dollar diet industry.

At the heart of the company's success are three key factors that build and maintain customer loyalty; a) the quality and taste of the products, b) developing a trusted brand name, and c) the results that the product enables clients to achieve (maintaining healthy, balanced eating habits).

The Environment

The nature of operations of our enterprise

Kore Nutrition makes eating healthy food on the go easy. Delicious, nutritious ready to eat snacks prepared to the specifications of the 40-30-30 (carb/protein/fat) ingredient ratios and Healthy Heart programs, will be available at local convenience stores, fast food environments, small to large retail grocery stores, vending machines and other institutional outlets such as cafeterias in hospitals and schools.

The business model focuses on developing products that cater to a wide market, which enables the company to remain dynamic in the constantly changing multi-billion dollar food, health and diet industries.

Products and services

Market entry with freshly prepared Zone and HL compliant snacks with a focus on quick/to go style convenient items smoothies, baked products (waffles, loaves, cookies), veggie snacks, parfait variations of fast, fresh, healthy to go.

Packaged goods mass distribution of healthy snacks, mini meals and desserts.

Convenient healthy snacks prepped that are compliant with specific ingredient ratios

Frozen as above, but also for budget conscious and consumers who prefer to have frozen products with longer life

Market wide consumer demographic

Brand the name to develop new products that follow diet trends and leave the Company open for widening its product range.

The snacks will be healthy, energizing snacks made from high quality natural ingredients and without preservatives. The product line will be designed to target a very broad spectrum of clientele to accommodate a range of nutritional needs that vary among individuals (eg. healthy snacks, desserts, power cookies range in itself WCP, smoothies, muffins/loaves).

Food preparation will be outsourced to well-qualified producers, therefore the nature of the company's operations is primarily focused on a) sales & marketing to generate new clients (industrial and consumer), b) customer support to maintain customer loyalty among existing clients and c) product development.

The Company's corporate offices are located in Vancouver, British Columbia, the first metro market expected to be served by Kore Nutrition. Services have a target launch in 2008 with a corporate goal of market testing and improving the product(s) in the city of Vancouver over the course of 6 - 12 months following launch. Our goal is to land contracts with local superstores, grocery markets and urban/trendy outlet stores initially. Kore Nutrition will capitalize on the existing and growing demand for healthy and convenient snack items

We will start moving into the US market after we are settled into Stage 2 (as defined below in The Market ) in the Canadian market.

A frozen line, is the next logical brand extension and will start being developed once our fresh line of products is established.

The next 6-12 months will be spent market testing and improving the business model locally in the Greater Vancouver Area and preparing the company for rapid expansion into new cities within this quickly developing new market segment. This will involve test marketing campaigns and service options to find the most profitable formula for market entry and growth. Vancouver will be an ongoing testing ground to evaluate new programs and services, special offers, and marketing campaigns designed to appeal to the widest consumer and industrial audiences.

Major players in our business/ industry (suppliers, distributors & clients)

Production

We will out source to a smaller operation to start production and then look to a larger assembly to make the meals. Spectra Foods is the company we are currently consulting with for the Canadian production. US production facilities will be sourced to a US production company when we are ready to enter the US market.

Distributors

The Company will not require the services of distributors for our products during our early stages of development and operations as we will handle production and distribution directly. Once our market share is large enough to require outside distribution assistance the Company will look to develop such a relationship with a national level distributor.

Retailers

The Company will focus its marketing on three different types of retailers. We will focus first on Tier One retailers. Once we have successfully established a market there, we will begin to focus on Tier Two retailers, followed by Tier Three retailers.

Tier one:

specialty stores

cafes and casual grab & go food stores

chain coffee companies (Blenz, Starbucks)

cafeterias (corporate, hospitals, schools etc)

food courts

athletics and community organizations

online

Tier two:

Specialized grocery stores: Whole Foods, Capers, Choices

Convenience Stores: 7 Eleven, gas stations with food stores

Tier three

Large chain grocery stores

Vending machines (packaged products with extended life cycle bars, cookies, baked items)

The Industry

The nature of the industry

North American culture has changed dramatically over the last fifty years and the demand for convenient, nutritious, high quality and great tasting food is far more prevalent with today's hectic lifestyles.

A recent study showed that almost half of Canadians are watching their weight and the diet industry is booming. North Americans spend 40 billion dollars a year on diets and diet aids. This, combined with the backlash on fast foods and the rise of movies targeting this and the drive from many fast food chains to develop healthier menu choices, yet not exactly gourmet, strengthens the facts behind the demand for better convenience options.

Obesity is being called an epidemic by the World Health Organization. In North America, one third of the population is medically overweight and European countries are not far behind. The problem is the worst in the US, Britain and Canada.

Obesity threatens health and is linked to high blood pressure, increased risk of diabetes, heart attacks, strokes and several cancers. Claude Bouchard, an obesity expert at Quebec's Laval University, estimates that obesity is the underlying cause of one out of every five deaths, causing 3/4 of diabetes cases and a third of heart problems including strokes. Treating this array of obesity related health problems costs the government about USD$15 billion a year.

A recent poll by Leger Marketing found that nearly 60% of Canadians feel their weight is ideal. 35% consider themselves a little on the heavy side. 43% are currently watching their weight. More women than men are currently dieting.

The Canadian government recognizes that obesity is creating a health crisis in this country and has recently committed CAD$15 million to study obesity.

Consumer Behavior

Our hectic schedules, individual nutritional needs, and constant exposure to unhealthy grab-and-go food options, make staying on track with a healthy diet very difficult. Readily available healthy snacks provide exactly that: convenient, inexpensive, nutrition solution that fits our lifestyles.

High-quality products that are nutritious, convenient, and taste good are in high demand. While there is certainly a large selection of convenience foods available for consumers, there is a strong need for properly balanced, healthy meals that actually taste good and are satisfying. Kore

Nutrition's goal is to fill this need in the market by offering both healthy packaged snacks that have a higher quality standard than the options currently available.

Common weaknesses of the options currently available are 1) they do not have a nutrient requirement that suits a variety of individuals and 2) the taste and quality of the ingredients are lacking. Kore intends to develop a trusted brand and line of products that suit a range of lifestyles and individuals.

At a cost of $3 to $7 per item, it allows Kore to target a wide range of different consumer groups.

Market Research

Our research done to date outlines the following facts, supporting the need for healthy, convenient snacks and grab and go mini meals. Research has been compiled by our officers and directors and a third party individual through several online and industry specific market research databases and government sources, both internationally and specific to North America. This research included, but was not limited to, the World Health Organization, Statistics Canada, US Census Bureau, Consumer Trends reporting, Neilsons and ER/USDAQ. Highlights include:

Consumer spending on convenience foods is growing rapidly. The typical North American consumer consumes 231 morning snacks, 283 afternoon snacks and 261 evening snacks per year.

2.

Kids averaged 840 snacks per year

3.

World Health Organization data clearly indicates that the prevalence of obesity is rising to epidemic proportions around the world at an alarming rate 4.

Studies indicate that 65% of obesity is caused by fast food and snacks

5.

61% of North Americans are over-weight and more than 28% are classed as obese

6.

Studies with the largest Body Mass Index (BMI) show a strong correlation between spending less time preparing food and becoming obese. When comparing habits in the year 2000 to thirty years ago, half the amount of time is being spent on preparing food, and there has been a 35% increase in the obesity rate.

7.

Approximately one third of consumer daily caloric intake is derived from foods prepared outside of the home.

8.

Long term effects of such high over-weight and obesity rates will be devastating to our future generations and health care system. The rate of Type 2 Diabetes diagnosis is climbing at an alarming rate, particularly in children.

9.

The trend towards eating lighter or healthier versions of snacks is on the rise.

10.

There is a strong international market for healthy convenience foods. Global trends towards the rising demand for convenience foods, over-weight and obesity rates, health concerns and consumer spending follow what we have found in our North American studies.

A healthy diet is fundamental to the effective prevention and treatment of many diseases. Consumers need healthy eating to be convenient and there is a strong market for a trusted company that has a range of product lines that suit a range of individuals (kids, teens, adults, sports enthusiasts, dieting and senior clients). Good nutrition and the adoption of healthy eating habits are fundamental in the control of over-weight and obesity levels.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors

Kore Nutrition Incorporated

(A Development Stage Company)

Vancouver BC, Canada

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Kore Nutrition Incorporated ( Kore ) as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit), and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2007, for the period from October 13, 2006 (Inception) to December 31, 2006. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kore Nutrition Incorporated as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2007, and for the period from October 13, 2006 (Inception) to December 31, 2006, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company's absence of significant revenues, recurring losses from operations, and its need for additional financing in order to fund its projected loss in 2008 raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The 2007 financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business

Kore Nutrition Incorporated ( Kore ) was incorporated in Nevada on October 13, 2006. Kore is a development stage company whose goal is to develop a brand and line of healthy packaged snacks.

Basis of presentation

The accompanying unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information. The interim periods may not include all information and footnotes required by United States generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. However, except as disclosed herein, there have been no material changes in the information disclosed in the notes to the financial statements for the period ended December 31, 2007 included in these financial statements. The interim unaudited information should be read in conjunction with the audit information included in these financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation, consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments, have been made. Operating results for the six months ended June 30, 2008 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2008.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the balance sheet. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

The Company computes loss per share in accordance with SFAS No. 128, Earnings per Share which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the statement of operations. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of outstanding common shares during the period. Diluted loss per share gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period including stock options and warrants using the treasury method. Dilutive loss per share excludes all potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

Inventory

Inventory consists of finished goods held for resale and is recorded at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined on a first in-first out basis.

Revenue Recognition and Accounts Receivable

Revenue for the Company is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, products are delivered, sales price is determinable, and collection is reasonably assured. The Company currently does not allow for product returns.

The Company establishes an allowance for doubtful accounts to ensure accounts receivable are not overstated due to accounts that are not collectible. The Company maintains a bad debt reserve based on a variety of factors, including the age of the receivable, payment history, trends and financial condition of customers, macroeconomic conditions, and significant one-time events.

Development Stage Company

The Company complies with Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 7 Accounting and Reporting by Development Stage Enterprises in its characterization of the Company as a development stage enterprise.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Kore does not expect the adoption of recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on the Company's results of operations, financial position or cash flow.

Foreign Currency Translation

The financial statements are presented in United States dollars. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 52, Foreign Currency Translation, foreign denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated into their United States dollar equivalents using foreign exchange rates which prevailed at the balance sheet date. Revenue and expenses are translated at average rates of exchange during the year. Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are included in results of operations.

NOTE 2 - GOING CONCERN

Kore has recurring losses and has a deficit accumulated during the development stage of $181,190 as of June 30, 2008. Kore's financial statements are prepared using the generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. Without realization of additional capital and achievement of profitable operations, Kore may be unlikely to continue as a going concern. Kore's management plans on raising cash from public or private debt or equity financing, on an as needed basis. Kore's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on these additional cash financings, and, ultimately, upon achieving profitable operations through the development of mineral interests.

NOTE 3 INCOME TAXES

Kore follows Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Number 109 (SFAS 109), Accounting for Income Taxes. Deferred income taxes reflect the net effect of (a) temporary difference between carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial purposes and the amounts used for income tax reporting purposes, and (b) net operating loss carryforwards. No net provision for refundable Federal income tax has been made in the accompanying statement of loss because no recoverable taxes were paid previously. Similarly, no deferred tax asset attributable to the net operating loss carryforward has been recognized, as it is not deemed likely to be realized.

The provision for refundable Federal income tax consists of the following:

	December 31, 2007	December 31, 2006
Refundable Federal income tax attributable to:
Current operations	$	$
	30,600	6,800
Less, change in valuation allowance	(30,600)	(6,800)
Net refundable amount	$	$

The effective tax rate of 0% differs from the 34% statutory rate in 2007 and 2006 due to the existence of a valuation allowance.

The cumulative tax effect at the expected rate of 34% of significant items comprising our net deferred tax amount is as follows:

	December 31, 2007	December 31, 2006
Deferred tax asset attributable to:
Net operating loss carryover	$ 37,400	$ 6,800
Less, valuation allowance	(37,400)	(6,800)
Net deferred tax asset	$ -	$ -

At June 30, 2008, Kore had an unused net operating loss carryover approximating $180,000 available to offset future taxable income; it expires beginning in 2027

NOTE 4 LOANS FROM SHAREHOLDERS

The amounts due to shareholders are non-interest bearing and have no specified terms of repayment.

NOTE 5 COMMON STOCK

At inception, Kore issued 6,000,000 shares of stock to its founding shareholder for services valued at $6,000.

During the period ended December 31, 2006, Kore issued 1,600,000 shares of stock for $16,000 cash.

Kore neither owns nor leases any real or personal property, an officer has provided office services without charge. Such costs are immaterial to the financial statements and accordingly are not reflected herein. The officers and directors are involved in other business activities and most likely will become involved in other business activities in the future.

NOTE 7 COMMITMENTS

On January 18, 2008, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with AVRO Capital Resources, to complete its Form S-1 registration statement, obtain effectiveness of such registration statement and obtain a trading symbol with NASD for the Company for total consideration of $45,000, of which $25,000 was paid in 2008 upon signing the agreement, $10,000 to be paid upon completion of the draft Form S-1 filing, and the remaining $10,000 to be paid when the Company receives the first comment letter. $25,000 of this amount has been paid as of June 30, 2008.
