Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On April 8, 2011, IAC/InterActiveCorp (IAC) amended its paid listings supply agreement with Google and extended the expiration date of such agreement from December 31, 2012 to March 31, 2016 (the Amendment). IAC believes that the amended agreement, taken as a whole, is comparable to IAC s previously existing agreement with Google.

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The forward-looking statements are based on management s current expectations and assumptions about future events, which are inherently subject to uncertainties, risks and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict, and the actual impact to IAC s business caused by the Amendment is currently unknown. Actual results could differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements for a variety of reasons, including, among others: changes in our relationship with, or policies implemented by, Google, adverse changes in economic conditions, adverse trends in the online advertising industry or the advertising industry generally, our ability to convert visitors to our various websites into users and customers, changes in industry standards and technology, and regulatory changes. Certain of these and other risks and uncertainties are discussed in IAC s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Other unknown or unpredictable factors that could also adversely affect IAC s business, financial condition and results of operations may arise from time to time. In light of these risks and uncertainties, these forward-looking statements may not prove to be accurate. Accordingly, you should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which only reflect the views of IAC management as of the date hereof. IAC does not undertake to update these forward-looking statements.
