Main Street Announces Preliminary Estimate of Fourth Quarter 2018 Results

Announces Federal Tax Treatment of 2018 Dividends

Announces Fourth Quarter and Full Year 2018 Earnings Release and Conference Call Schedule

HOUSTON January 17, 2019 Main Street Capital Corporation (NYSE: MAIN) (Main Street) is pleased to announce its preliminary operating results for the fourth quarter of 2018, the tax treatment of its 2018 dividends and its fourth quarter and full year 2018 earnings release and conference call schedule.

Preliminary Estimates of Fourth Quarter 2018 Results

Main Street's preliminary estimate of fourth quarter 2018 net investment income (NII) is $0.68 to $0.69 per share. Main Street's preliminary estimate of fourth quarter 2018 distributable net investment income (DNII), which is NII before non-cash, share-based compensation expense, is $0.71 to $0.72 per share.(1) The preliminary estimates of NII per share and DNII per share each include a non-recurring benefit of approximately $0.03 per share related to lower operating expenses. The preliminary estimate of DNII of $0.71 to $0.72 per share, or $0.68 to $0.69 per share as adjusted for the non-recurring benefit of $0.03 per share, significantly exceeds both the regular monthly dividends paid for the fourth quarter of 2018 of $0.585 per share and the previously provided DNII guidance range for the fourth quarter of 2018 of between $0.63 and $0.65 per share.

Main Street's preliminary estimate of net asset value (NAV) per share as of December 31, 2018 is $24.04 to $24.14. After adjustment for the semi-annual supplemental dividend paid in December 2018 of $0.275 per share, this represents a decrease of approximately $0.28 to $0.38 per share, or 1.1% to 1.5%, from the reported NAV per share of $24.69 as of September 30, 2018. Main Street estimates that the decrease in NAV per share is primarily due to net unrealized depreciation relating to its Middle Market and Private Loan portfolio investments, which Main Street believes is in large part due to the widening of middle market credit spreads during the fourth quarter. This net unrealized depreciation is partially offset by net unrealized appreciation relating to its Lower Middle Market portfolio investments.

Federal Tax Treatment of 2018 Dividends

Main Street has posted information regarding the U.S. federal income tax characteristics of its dividends that are attributable to 2018 on its website under 2018 Form 1099 Information (<http://ir.mainstreetcapital.com/tax-information>). Main Street paid dividends totaling $2.85 per share that are attributable to 2018 for tax purposes, with approximately 13.2% of such dividends taxed as long-term capital gains, approximately 7.2% taxed as qualified dividends and approximately 79.6% taxed as ordinary income. Long-term capital gains and qualified dividends paid to non-corporate taxpayers (including individuals) qualify for favorable tax treatment under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and, for 2018, will generally be subject to a maximum 20% U.S. federal income tax rate (plus a 3.8% Medicare surtax, if applicable).

Federal Tax Treatment of 2018 Dividends Non-U.S. Shareholders

Non-U.S. resident and foreign corporation shareholders (Non-U.S. Shareholders) in a Regulated Investment Company (RIC) such as Main Street are exempt from U.S. withholding tax on both interest-related dividends and short-term capital gains in accordance with the IRC sections 871(k) and 881(e). In addition, Non-U.S. Shareholders in a RIC are also exempt from U.S. withholding tax on long-term capital gains. Main Street paid dividends totaling $2.85 per share that are attributable to 2018 for tax purposes, with approximately 62.1% of such dividends relating to interest-related dividends, short-term capital gains and long-term capital gains. See the Tax Treatment of 2018 Dividends for Non-U.S. Shareholders posted on Main Street's website for more details (<http://ir.mainstreetcapital.com/tax-information>).

To the extent Non-U.S. Shareholder taxes were withheld on dividends distributed, this information may be considered in connection with any claims for refund of taxes made with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. Non-U.S. Shareholders should contact their tax advisor with any questions regarding this information.

Main Street's fourth quarter and full year 2018 results will be released on Thursday, February 28, 2019, after the financial markets close. (1) Distributable net investment income is net investment income as determined in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, or U.S. GAAP, excluding the impact of share-based compensation expense which is non-cash in nature. Main Street believes presenting distributable net investment income and the related per share amount is useful and appropriate supplemental disclosure for analyzing its financial performance since share-based compensation does not require settlement in cash. However, distributable net investment income is a non-U.S. GAAP measure and should not be considered as a replacement for net investment income and other earnings measures presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Instead, distributable net investment income should be reviewed only in connection with such U.S. GAAP measures in analyzing Main Street's financial performance. In order to reconcile estimated distributable net investment income per share to estimated net investment income share in accordance with U.S. GAAP, $0.03 to $0.04 per share of estimated share-based compensation expense is added back to calculate estimated distributable net investment income per share.
