On February 16, 2016, the Company entered into certain agreements with the Reporting Person and the Reporting Person's wholly owned subsidiary ES Cell International Pte Ltd ("ESI") described below. A summary of each of the agreements is set forth in this Item 4. The summaries of the agreements do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the agreements, which are filed as Exhibits 1 and 2 hereto and are incorporated herein by reference.

Cross-License Agreement between the Company, the Reporting Person and ESI

Under the terms of a Cross-License Agreement (the "Cross-License") entered into by the Company, the Reporting Person and ESI, the Company will receive a fully-paid, non-royalty-bearing, world-wide, non-exclusive, sub-licensable license under certain patents and related patent rights of the Reporting Person and certain patents and related patent rights of ESI specified in the Cross-License, for all purposes in the Asterias Licensed Field during the term of the license. As additional consideration, the Reporting Person also agreed that if the Company distributes Series A Share purchase warrants to the Company's stockholders, the Reporting Person will waive its right to receive its pro rata share of those warrants based on the number of Series A Shares it then owns. The value of the Series A Shares, used to determine the number of Series A Shares to be transferred to the Company by the Reporting Person, was determined based on the volume weighted average price of the Series A Shares on the NYSE MKT for the twenty trading days prior to the date of the Share Transfer Agreement. The value of the Warrants was determined by application of the Black-Scholes formula. The values of the cross-licensed patent rights and the OrthoCyte stock and Cell Cure stock being transferred by the Company to the Reporting Person were determined with reference to prices established by an independent valuation obtained from an investment banker.

The Share Transfer Agreement also provides that the Reporting Person shall have, upon prior notice, the right to inspect, review, copy, and audit such financial books and other corporate records to the extent necessary to comply with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), until six years after the Reporting Person is no
