PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

THIS SUMMARY HIGHLIGHTS INFORMATION CONTAINED ELSEWHERE IN THIS PROSPECTUS. THIS SUMMARY DOES NOT CONTAIN ALL OF THE INFORMATION YOU SHOULD CONSIDER BEFORE BUYING SHARES IN THIS OFFERING. YOU SHOULD READ THE ENTIRE PROSPECTUS CAREFULLY, INCLUDING THE RISK FACTORS , BEFORE MAKING AN INVESTMENT DECISION ABOUT OUR COMPANY.

GENERAL

We sell jewelry and bullion products to both retail and wholesale customers throughout the United States and makes uncollateralized and collateralized loans to individuals. Our products are marketed through our facilities in Dallas and Carrollton, Texas, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Mt. Pleasant, South Carolina, and through our four internet websites. Through www.DGSE.com, we operate a virtual store and a real-time auction of our jewelry products. Customers and we buy and sell items of jewelry and are free to set prices in an interactive market. We also offer customers the ability to buy and sell precious metal assets. Customers have access to our two-way markets in all of the most popularly traded precious metal products as well as current quotations for precious metals prices on our other internet website, www.USBullionExchange.com. www.FairchildWatches.com (Fairchild International) provides wholesale customers a virtual catalog of our fine watch inventory. www.CGDEInc.com (Charleston Gold & Diamond Exchange) provides information about our subsidiary and inventory available to purchase, including fine watches, diamonds, rare coins and bullion, and jewelry. Over 7,500 items are available for sale on our internet sites, including $10,000,000 in diamonds, consisting of both inventory and consignments.

Our wholly-owned subsidiary, National Jewelry Exchange, Inc., operates a pawn shop in Carrollton, Texas. We have focused the subsidiary's operations on sales and pawn loans of jewelry products.

On May 30, 2007, we completed the acquisition of Superior Galleries, Inc. Superior's principal line of business is the sale of rare coins on a retail, wholesale, and auction basis. Superior's retail and wholesale operations are conducted in virtually every state in the United States. Superior also provides auction services for customers seeking to sell their own coins. Superior markets its services nationwide through broadcasting and print media and independent sales agents, as well as on the internet through third party websites such as eBay.com, Overstock.com and Amazon.com, and through its own website at SGBH.com. Its headquarters are in Beverly Hills, California. For more information on this acquisition, see the section entitled "Recent Developments" beginning on page 10.

In January 2005, we began offering unsecured payday loans through our wholly-owned subsidiary American Pay Day Centers, Inc.

In July 2004, we sold the goodwill and trade name of Silverman Consultants, Inc.

Our shares of common stock are quoted on the Nasdaq Capital Market under the symbol "DGSE".

PRINCIPAL EXECUTIVE OFFICE

Our principal executive office is located at 2817 Forest Lane, Dallas, Texas 75234, and our telephone number is (972) 484-3662. Our principal website can be accessed at <http://www.DGSE.com/>. None of the information on any of our websites forms a part of this prospectus.

The Offering

This prospectus relates to the following shares of our common stock:

- 163,860 shares issued to stockholders of Superior Galleries, Inc., a Delaware corporation which we refer to as Superior, pursuant to the merger of Superior with and into a wholly-owned subsidiary of our company, which we refer to as the acquisition;
- 708,634 shares underlying warrants issued in connection with our acquisition of Superior;
- 801,190 shares underlying two stock options which we issued to Dr. L.S. Smith, our chairman and chief executive officer, in consideration for his personal guarantee of our credit facilities with Gateway National Bank and First American Bank;
- 44,444 shares underlying a stock option which we issued to Dr. Smith in consideration for a personal loan he advanced to us; and
- 400,000 shares underlying stock options issued to our executive officers between 1992 and 2001 as inducement or incentive stock options.

The 163,860 previously issued shares of the 3,118,128 shares offered by this prospectus represent approximately 1.9% of our common shares outstanding on May 31, 2007. Assuming the 2,954,268 shares offered by this prospectus which may be issued pursuant to the exercise of options and warrants are outstanding, then the 3,118,128 shares represent 27.0% of our common stock. These shares are described under the heading Issuances of Securities to Selling Stockholders , commencing on page 11 of this prospectus.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in our company involves a high degree of risk. In addition to the other information included in this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following risk factors in determining whether or not to purchase the shares of common stock offered under this prospectus. You should consider these matters in conjunction with the other information included or incorporated by reference in this prospectus. Our results of operations or financial condition could be seriously harmed, and the trading price of our common stock may decline due to any of these or other risks.

This prospectus contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements appear in a number of places in this prospectus and include statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations of our management, directors or officers primarily with respect to our future operating performance. Prospective purchasers of our securities are cautioned that these forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements due to various factors. The accompanying information contained in this prospectus, including the information set forth below, identifies important factors that could cause these differences. See Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements on page 9 below.

Risks Related to the Acquisition of Superior Galleries, Inc.

If we fail to effectively integrate Superior's operations, the combined company may not realize the potential benefits of the combination.

The integration Superior will be a time-consuming and expensive process and may disrupt the combined company's operations if it is not completed in a timely and efficient manner. If this integration effort is not successful, the combined company's results of operations could be harmed, employee morale could decline, key employees could leave, customers could choose not to place new orders and the combined company could have difficulty complying with regulatory requirements. In addition, the combined company may not achieve anticipated synergies or other benefits of the combination. Following the combination, we must operate with Superior as a combined organization utilizing common information and communication systems, operating procedures, financial controls and human resources practices. The combined company may encounter the following difficulties, costs and delays involved in integrating their operations:

- failure to manage relationships with customers and other important constituents successfully;
- failure of customers to accept new services or to continue using the products and services of the combined company;
- difficulties in successfully integrating our management team and employees with those of Superior;

challenges encountered in managing larger, more geographically dispersed operations;

the loss of key employees;

diversion of the attention of management from other ongoing business concerns;

potential incompatibilities of technologies and systems;

potential difficulties integrating and harmonizing financial reporting systems; and potential incompatibility of business cultures.

If the combined company's operations after the combination do not meet the expectations of our or Superior's existing customers, then these customers may cease doing business with the combined company altogether, which would harm the results of operations and financial condition of the combined company.

If the anticipated benefits of the combination are not realized or do not meet the expectations of financial or industry analysts, the market price of our common stock may decline after the combination. The market price of our common stock may decline as a result of the combination if:

the integration of DGSE and Superior is unsuccessful;

the combined company does not achieve the expected benefits of the combination as quickly as anticipated or the costs of or operational difficulties arising from the combination are greater than anticipated;

the combined company's financial results after the combination are not consistent with the expectations of financial or industry analysts;

the anticipated operating and product synergies of the combination are not realized; or the combined company experiences the loss of significant customers or employees as a result of the combination.

Completion of the combination may result in our stock being delisted from the Nasdaq Capital Market.

The completion of the combination may result in our shares of common stock being delisted from the Nasdaq Capital Market. Under Nasdaq Marketplace Rule 4340(a), an issuer must apply for initial inclusion following a transaction in which the issuer combines with a non-Nasdaq entity if the combination results in a change of control of the issuer and potentially allows the non-Nasdaq entity to obtain a Nasdaq listing. Superior is a non-Nasdaq entity and we do not currently, and may not at the time of the combination, satisfy the initial listing requirements of the Nasdaq Capital Market. Accordingly, if Nasdaq determines that the combination will result in a change of control of our company for purposes of its Rule 4340(a), Nasdaq may initiate proceedings to delist our common stock from the Nasdaq Capital Market. In this case, we may seek to be listed on the American Stock Exchange, though it does not currently, and there can be no assurances that it will at the time of the combination, satisfy the initial listing requirements of the American Stock Exchange.

Completion of the combination may result in dilution of future earnings per share to our stockholders.

The completion of the combination may not result in improved earnings per share of our common stock or a financial condition superior to that which would have been achieved by either us or Superior on a stand-alone basis. The combination could fail to produce the benefits that the companies anticipate, or could have other adverse effects that the companies currently do not foresee. In addition, some of the assumptions that either company has made, such as the achievement of operating synergies, may not be realized. In this event, the combination could result in a reduction of earnings per share as compared to the earnings per share that would have been achieved by us or Superior if the combination had not occurred.

Superior has a history of losses and may incur future losses.

Superior recorded a net loss of $2,489,000 for its fiscal year ended June 30, 2006 and a net loss of $616,000 for its fiscal year ended June 30, 2005. Superior recorded net income of $552,000 for its fiscal year ended June 30, 2004 and has incurred losses in prior fiscal years since July 1999. We cannot be certain that following the combination, Superior will become profitable as our subsidiary. If Superior does not become profitable and sustain profitability, the market price of our common stock may decline.

Risks Related to the Combined Company

To facilitate a reading of the risks that we believe will apply to us and Superior as a combined company following completion of the combination, in referring to we , us and other first person declarations in these risk factors, we are referring to the combined company as it would exist following the combination.

Changes in customer demand for our products and services could result in a significant decrease in revenues.

Although our customer base commonly uses our products and services, our failure to meet changing demands of our customers could result in a significant decrease in our revenues.

Changes in governmental rules and regulations applicable to the specialty financial services industry could have a negative impact on our lending activities.

Our lending is subject to extensive regulation, supervision and licensing requirements under various federal, state and local laws, ordinances and regulations. New laws and regulations could be enacted that could have a negative impact on our lending activities.

Fluctuations in our inventory turnover and sales.

We regularly experience fluctuations in our inventory balances, inventory turnover and sales margins, yields on loan portfolios and pawn redemption rates. Changes in any of these factors could materially and adversely affect our profitability and ability to achieve our planned results.

Changes in our liquidity and capital requirements could limit our ability to achieve our plans.

We require continued access to capital, and a significant reduction in cash flows from operations or the availability of credit could materially and adversely affect our ability to achieve our planned growth and operating results. Similarly, if actual costs to build new stores significantly exceeds planned costs, our ability to build new stores or to operate new stores profitably could be materially restricted. The DGSE credit agreement also limits the allowable amount of capital expenditures in any given fiscal year, which could limit our ability to build new stores.

Changes in competition from various sources could have a material adverse impact on our ability to achieve our plans.

We encounter significant competition in connection with our retail and lending operations from other pawnshops, cash advance companies and other forms of financial institutions and other retailers, many of which have significantly greater financial resources than us. Significant increases in these competitive influences could adversely affect our operations through a decrease in the number or quality of payday loans and pawn loans or our ability to liquidate forfeited collateral at acceptable margins.

In the coins and other collectibles business, we will compete with a number of comparably sized and smaller firms, as well as a number of larger firms throughout the United States. Our primary competitors are Heritage Auction Galleries, a large scale coin dealer and auctioneer, and American Numismatic Rarities, a comparably-sized coin auctioneer. Many of our competitors have the ability to attract customers as a result of their reputation and the quality collectibles they obtain through their industry connections. Additionally, other reputable companies that sell or auction rare coins and other collectibles may decide to enter our markets to compete with us. These companies have greater name recognition and have greater financial and marketing resources than we do. If these auction companies are successful in entering the specialized market for premium collectibles in which we participate or if dealers and sellers participate less in our auctions, we may attract fewer buyers and our revenue could decrease.

Our earnings could be negatively impacted by an unfavorable outcome of litigation, regulatory actions, or labor and employment matters.

From time to time, we are involved in litigation, regulatory actions and labor and employment matters arising from our normal operations. Currently we are a defendant in several actions. Although we believe the resolution of these actions will not have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operation or liquidity, there can be no assurance as to the ultimate outcome of these or future actions.

A failure in our information systems could prevent us from effectively managing and controlling our business or serving our customers.

We rely on our information systems to manage and operate our stores and business. Each store is part of an information network that permits us to maintain adequate cash inventory, reconcile cash balances daily and report revenues and expenses timely. Any disruption in the availability of our information systems could adversely affect our operation, the ability to serve our customers and our results of operations.

A failure of our internal controls and disclosure controls and procedures, or our inability to comply with the requirements of section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in a timely fashion could have a material adverse impact on us and our investors confidence in our reported financial information.

Effective internal controls and disclosure controls and processes are necessary for us to provide reliable financial reports and to detect and prevent fraud. We are currently performing the system and process evaluation required to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. This evaluation may conclude that enhancements, modifications or changes to our controls are necessary. Completing this evaluation, performing testing and implementing any required remedial changes will require significant expenditures and management attention. We cannot be certain as to the timing of completion of our evaluation, testing and remediation actions or the impact of these on our operations. We cannot be certain that significant deficiencies or material weaknesses will not be identified, or that remediation efforts will be timely to allow us to comply with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. If we are unable to comply with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, investors could lose confidence in our reported financial information.

Changes in general economic conditions could negatively affect loan performance and demand for our products and services.

A sustained deterioration in the economic environment could adversely affect our operations by reducing consumer demand for the products we sell.

Interest rate fluctuations could increase our interest expense.

Although the U.S. Federal Reserve halted a sustained period of regular interest rate hikes in August 2006, interest rates could continue to rise which would, in turn, increase our cost of borrowing.

Our success depends on our ability to attract, retain and motivate management and other skilled employees.

Our future success and growth depend on the continued services of our key management and employees. The loss of the services of any of these individuals or any other key employee or contractor could materially affect our business. Our future success also depends on our ability to identify, attract and retain additional qualified personnel. Competition for employees in our industry is intense and we may not be successful in attracting or retaining them. There are a limited number of people with knowledge of, and experience in, our industry. We do not have employment agreements with many of our key employees. We do not maintain life insurance policies on many of our employees. Our loss of key personnel, especially without advance notice, or our inability to hire or retain qualified personnel, could have a material adverse effect on sales and our ability to maintain our technological edge. We cannot guarantee that we will continue to retain our key management and skilled personnel, or that we will be able to attract, assimilate and retain other highly qualified personnel in the future.

The voting power in our company is substantially controlled by a small number of stockholders, which may, among other things, delay or frustrate the removal of incumbent directors or a takeover attempt, even if such events may be beneficial to our stockholders.

As of May 31, 2007, Stanford International Bank Ltd., which we refer to as Stanford, and Dr. L.S. Smith, our chairman and chief executive officer, collectively had the power to vote approximately 58% of our voting securities, and beneficially owned approximately 71% of our voting securities on a fully-diluted basis (after giving effect to the exercise of all options and warrants held by them which are exercisable within sixty days of May 31, 2007 but not giving effect to the exercise of any other options or warrants). Consequently, these two stockholders may have sufficient voting power to control the outcome of virtually all corporate matters submitted to the vote of our common stockholders. Those matters could include the election of directors, changes in the size and composition of our board of directors, mergers and other business combinations involving us, or the liquidation of our company. In addition, Stanford and Dr. Smith have entered into a corporate governance agreement with us, which entitles Stanford and Dr. Smith to each nominate two independent directors to our board and entitles Dr. Smith, our chairman and chief executive officer, and William H. Oyster, our president and chief operating officer, to be nominated to our board for so long as he remains an executive officer.

Through this control of company nominations to our board of directors and through their voting power, Stanford and Dr. Smith are able to exercise substantial control over certain decisions, including decisions regarding the qualification and appointment of officers, dividend policy, access to capital (including borrowing from third-party lenders and the issuance of additional equity securities), a merger or consolidation with another company, and our acquisition or disposition of assets. Also, the concentration of voting power in the hands of Stanford and Dr. Smith could have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of our company, even if the change in control would benefit our other stockholders. The significant concentration of stock ownership may adversely affect the trading price of our common stock due to investors' perception that conflicts of interest may exist or arise.

We could be subject to sales taxes, interest and penalties on interstate sales for which we have not collected taxes.

Superior has not collected California sales tax on mail-order sales to out-of-state customers, nor has it collected use tax on its interstate mail order sales. We believe that our sales to interstate customers are generally tax-exempt due to varying state exemptions relative to the definitions of being engaged in business in particular states and the lack of current Internet taxation. While we have not been contacted by any state authorities seeking to enforce sales or use tax regulations, we cannot assure you that we will not be contacted by authorities in the future with inquiries concerning our compliance with current statutes, nor can we assure you that future statutes will not be enacted that affect the sales and use tax aspects of our business.

We may incur losses as a result of accumulating inventory.

In addition to auctioning rare coins on consignment, a substantial portion of the rare coins that Superior sells comes from its own inventory. Superior purchases these rare coins from dealers and collectors and assumes the inventory and price risks of these items until they are sold. If Superior is unable to resell the rare coins that it purchases when it wants or needs to, or at prices sufficient to generate a profit from their resale, or if the market value of the inventory of purchased rare coins were to decline, our revenue would likely decline.

If we experience an increase in the rescission of sales, our revenue and profitability could decrease.

Our operating results could suffer if we experience a significant increase in the number of sales that are rescinded due to questions about title, provenance or authenticity of an item. Superior warrants the title, provenance and authenticity of each item that it sells at auction. A buyer who believes that any of these characteristics is in doubt must notify Superior in writing within a certain number of days after the date of sale of the property. If Superior cannot substantiate the questioned characteristics, the buyer may rescind the purchase and Superior will refund the price paid at auction to the buyer. When a purchase is rescinded, the seller is required to refund the item's sale price less sellers' commissions and other sellers' fees.

Our planned expansion and enhancement of our website and internet operations may not result in increased profitability.

The satisfactory performance, reliability and availability of our website and network infrastructure are and will be critical to our reputation and our ability to attract and retain customers and technical personnel and to maintain adequate customer service levels. Any system interruptions or reduced performance of our website could materially adversely affect our reputation and our ability to attract new customers and technical personnel. We are in the process of development and/or enhancement of several portions of our websites that will offer content and auctions for rare coins that may have a lower average selling price than many of the rare coins in the markets we currently serve, and in the future we plan to integrate various of our websites. Continued development of our websites will require significant resources and expense. If the planned expansion of our websites does not result in increased revenue, we may experience decreased profitability.

Our website may be vulnerable to security breaches and similar threats which could result in our liability for damages and harm to our reputation.

Despite the implementation of network security measures, our websites are vulnerable to computer viruses, break-ins and similar disruptive problems caused by internet users. These occurrences could result in our liability for damages, and our reputation could suffer. The circumvention of our security measures may result in the misappropriation of customer or other confidential information. Any such security breach could lead to interruptions and delays and the cessation of service to our customers and could result in a decline in revenue and income.

Changes to financial accounting standards and new exchange rules could make it more expensive to issue stock options to employees, which would increase compensation costs and may cause us to change our business practices.

We prepare our financial statements to conform with generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP, in the United States. These accounting principles are subject to interpretation by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, the SEC and various other bodies. A change in those policies could have a significant effect on our reported results and may affect our reporting of transactions completed before a change is announced.

We are subject to new corporate governance and internal control reporting requirements, and our costs related to compliance with, or our failure to comply with existing and future requirements could adversely affect our business.

We face new corporate governance requirements under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as well as new rules and regulations subsequently adopted by the SEC, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and the Nasdaq Capital Market. These laws, rules and regulations continue to evolve and may become increasingly stringent in the future. In particular, we will be required to include management and independent registered public accounting firm reports on internal controls as part of our annual report for the year ending December 31, 2007 pursuant to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. We are in the process of evaluating our control structure to help ensure that we will be able to comply with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. We cannot assure you that we will be able to fully comply with these laws, rules and regulations that address corporate governance, internal control reporting and similar matters. Failure to comply with these laws, rules and regulations could materially adversely affect our reputation, financial condition and the value and liquidity of our securities.

The revolving credit facilities with Stanford International Bank Ltd. and Texas Capital Bank, N.A. is each collateralized by a general security interest in our assets. If we were to default under the terms of either credit facility, the lender would have the right to foreclose on our assets.

In December 2005, we entered into a revolving credit facility with Texas Capital Bank, N.A., which currently permits borrowings up to a maximum principal amount of $4.3 million. Borrowings under the revolving credit facility are collateralized by a general security interest in substantially all of our assets (other than the assets of Superior). As of May 25, 2007, $4.3 million was outstanding under the term loan and revolving credit facility. If we were to default under the terms and conditions of the revolving credit facility, Texas Capital Bank would have the right to accelerate any indebtedness outstanding and foreclose on our assets in order to satisfy our indebtedness. Such a foreclosure could have a material adverse effect on our business, liquidity, results of operations and financial position.

In October 2003, Superior entered into a revolving credit facility with Stanford Financial Group Company, which we refer to as SFG, which has assigned the facility to Stanford. The facility currently permits borrowings up to a maximum principal amount of $11.5 million, up to $6 million of which Superior may upstream to DGSE. Borrowings under the revolving credit facility are collateralized by a general security interest in substantially all of Superior's assets. As of May 31, 2007, $1.9 million was outstanding under the revolving credit facility. If Superior were to default under the terms and conditions of the revolving credit facility, Stanford would have the right to accelerate any indebtedness outstanding and foreclose on Superior's assets, and, subject to intercreditor arrangements with Texas Capital Bank and other limitations, our assets, in order to satisfy Superior's indebtedness. Such a foreclosure could have a material adverse effect on our business, liquidity, results of operations and financial position.

We have not paid dividends on our common stock in the past and do not anticipate paying dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future.

We have not paid common stock dividends since our inception and do not anticipate paying dividends in the foreseeable future. Our current business plan provides for the reinvestment of earnings in an effort to complete development of our technologies and products, with the goal of increasing sales and long-term profitability and value. In addition, our revolving credit facility with Texas Capital Bank currently restricts, and any other credit or borrowing arrangements that we may enter into may in the future restrict or limit, our ability to pay dividends to our stockholders.

Risks Relating to this Offering and Our Stock

A substantial number of shares we have issued in exempt transactions and in our acquisition of Superior Galleries, Inc. are, or are being made, available for sale on the open market. The resale of these securities might adversely affect our stock price.

The sale of a substantial number of shares of our common stock under our registration statements, or in anticipation of such sales, could make it more difficult for us to sell equity or equity-related securities in the future at a time and at a price that we might otherwise wish to effect sales.

The 163,860 previously issued shares of the 3,118,128 shares offered by this prospectus represent approximately 1.9% of our common shares outstanding on May 31, 2007. Assuming the 2,954,268 shares offered by this prospectus which may be issued pursuant to the exercise of options and warrants are outstanding, then the 3,118,128 shares represent 27.0% of our common stock. In addition, we issued approximately 3.7 million shares of our common stock pursuant to a registration statement in connection with our acquisition of Superior Galleries, Inc. on May 31, 2007.

Sales of shares pursuant to exercisable options and warrants could lead to subsequent sales of the shares in the public market. These sales, together with sales by other existing stockholders and by our new stockholders who were issued our stock in the Superior acquisition, could depress the market price of our stock by creating an excess in supply of shares for sale. Availability of these shares for sale in the public market could also impair our ability to raise capital by selling equity securities.

Our stock is thinly traded, which can lead to price volatility and difficulty in liquidating your investment.

The trading volume of our stock has been low, which can cause the trading price of our stock to change substantially in response to relatively small orders. During the quarter ended March 31, 2007, the average daily trading volume of our stock was approximately 9,000 shares and the shares traded as low as $2.38 and as high as $2.98 per share. Both volume and price could also be subject to wide fluctuations in response to the following:

- the introduction of new products by us or by our competitors;
- interest rates and the price of commodities, such as gold; and
- general market perception of jewelry, rare coin and bullion companies.

Shares issued upon the exercise of options and warrants could dilute your stock holdings and adversely affect our stock price.

We have issued options and warrants to acquire common stock to our employees, directors, consultants, guarantors and lenders at various prices, some of which are or may in the future be below the market price of our stock. If exercised, these options and warrants will cause immediate and possibly substantial dilution to our stockholders. We currently have options and warrants for approximately 3.3 million shares outstanding that have exercise prices at or below the recent closing price of our stock on May 30, 2007 of $2.48 per share. Future options issued under our stock option plans may have further dilutive effects.

Nevada law may delay or prevent a potential takeover bid that would be beneficial to common stockholders.

Chapter 78 of the Nevada Revised Statutes contain provisions that may enable our board of directors to discourage, delay or prevent a change in our ownership or in our management. The combinations with interested stockholders provisions of the Nevada Revised Statutes, subject to certain exceptions, restrict the ability of our company to engage in any combination with an interested stockholder for three years after the date a stockholder becomes an interested stockholder, unless, prior to the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, our board of directors gave approval for the combination or the acquisition of shares which caused the stockholder to become an interested stockholder. If the combination or acquisition was not so approved prior to the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder may effect a combination after the three-year period only if either the stockholder receives approval from a majority of the outstanding voting shares, excluding shares beneficially owned by the interested stockholder or its affiliates or associates, or the consideration to be paid by the interested stockholder exceeds certain thresholds set forth in the statute. For purposes of the foregoing provisions, interested stockholder means either a person, other than our company or our subsidiaries, who directly or indirectly beneficially owns 10% or more of the voting power of our outstanding voting shares, or one of our affiliates or associates which at any time within three years immediately before the date in question directly or indirectly beneficially owned 10% or more of the voting power of our outstanding shares.

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Statements in this prospectus and in the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus that are not statements of historical fact are forward-looking statements. These statements relate to our future plans, objectives, expectations and intentions. You may generally identify these statements by the use of words such as expect, anticipate, may, might and similar expressions.

You should not place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of numerous risks and uncertainties that are beyond our control, including those we discuss in the section entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 3 and elsewhere in this prospectus and in the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus, that may cause our or our industry's actual results, levels of activity, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements express or implied by these forward-looking statements. The information in this prospectus speaks only as of the date of this prospectus and the information incorporated herein by reference speaks only as of its date. Except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. You should not rely on these statements without also considering the risks and uncertainties associated with these statements and our business.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Superior Acquisition. On May 30, 2007, we completed the acquisition of all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of Superior Galleries, Inc., and Superior has become our wholly-owned subsidiary. In connection with this acquisition, we issued approximately 3.7 million shares of our common stock to the Superior stockholders. In addition, we assumed options (including options granted to Superior employees, officers and directors pursuant to Superior's stock option plans) to acquire approximately 95,380 shares of our common stock in connection with the acquisition. Superior's principal line of business is the sale of rare coins on a retail, wholesale, and auction basis. Superior's retail and wholesale operations are conducted in virtually every state in the United States. Superior also provides auction services for customers seeking to sell their own coins. Superior markets its services nationwide through broadcasting and print media and independent sales agents, as well as on the Internet through third party websites such as eBay.com, Overstock.com and Amazon.com, and through its own website at SGBH.com. Superior's principal offices are located in Beverly Hills, California.

Employment Agreements. Upon the consummation of the acquisition of Superior, we entered into amended and restated employment agreements with Dr. L.S. Smith, our chairman and chief executive officer, and William H. Oyster, a director of our board and our president and chief operating officer, and into a new employment agreement with John Benson, our chief financial officer.

Superior Credit Facility. Upon the consummation of the acquisition of Superior, Superior entered into an amended credit facility with Stanford. The amendment decreased the available credit line from $19.89 million to $11.5 million, split into two revolving loans of $5 million and $6.5 million, respectively. Because of the exchange by Stanford of $8.4 million of Superior debt for Superior common stock immediately prior to the consummation of the acquisition of Superior, however, the amended credit facility will continue to have the same availability as Superior's previous credit line. Loan proceeds can only be used for customer loans consistent with specified loan policies and procedures and for permitted inter-company transactions. Permitted inter-company transactions are loans or dividends paid to us. We guaranteed the repayment of these proceeds pursuant to a secured guaranty in favor of Stanford. The new credit facility matures on May 1, 2012.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any proceeds from the sale or other disposition of the shares of common stock or interests therein offered by this prospectus. We will issue an aggregate of 2,954,267 shares of common stock potentially offered by this prospectus only upon the exercise of stock options and stock purchase warrants by certain of the selling stockholders. If the selling stockholders exercise the stock options and stock purchase warrants for cash, we could receive proceeds of up to approximately $4.1 million. There can be no assurance that the selling stockholders will exercise any of these options or warrants, or, if exercised, that they will be exercised for cash, that any of the underlying shares of common stock will be sold under this prospectus, or that we will receive any proceeds from the exercise of the stock options or stock purchase warrants.

ISSUANCES OF SECURITIES TO SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

This prospectus covers securities which we issued in several separate transactions.

Superior Acquisition. On May 30, 2007, we completed the acquisition of all of the outstanding stock of Superior Galleries, Inc., which sells rare coins on a retail, wholesale, and auction basis. In connection with the acquisition, we issued shares of our common stock in a private placement to certain of the selling stockholders named in this prospectus who were Superior stockholders. These Superior stockholders exchanged 600,000 shares of their Superior common stock in consideration for 163,860 shares of our common stock, which represents the same exchange ratio applicable to the other Superior stockholders.

Stock Purchase Warrants. In connection with this acquisition, Stanford converted approximately $8.4 million of Superior debt into Superior common stock and entered into a new five-year credit facility with Superior. The new facility has a $11.5 million credit line, split into two revolving loans of $5 million and $6.5 million, respectively. Superior may use the latter revolving loan to pay dividends or make loans to us, which loans would be subordinated to loans made under our credit facility with Texas Capital Bank, N.A. In consideration for these transactions, we issued stock purchase warrants, which we refer to as the warrants, to Stanford and its designees, which we refer to collectively as the warrant holders, exercisable for an aggregate of 845,634 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $1.89 per share, which we refer to as the A warrants, and an aggregate of 863,000 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $0.001 per share, which we refer to as the B warrants. All of these warrants will be exercisable until May 29, 2014.

Stock Options. On October 8, 2001, as consideration for the personal guarantee by Dr. L.S. Smith, our chairman and chief executive officer and then our largest stockholder, of our $1.2 million loan from Gateway National Bank, we issued Dr. Smith a stock option to acquire 533,333 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $2.25 per share, then the current market price as quoted on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market. On that same day, in consideration of a $100,000 loan made to us by Dr. Smith, we issued Dr. Smith a stock option to acquire 44,444 shares of our common stock at the same exercise price. On November 5, 2002, as consideration for the personal guarantee by Dr. Smith of our $3 million loan from First American Bank, we issued Dr. Smith a stock option to acquire 267,857 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $1.12 per share, then the current market price as quoted on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market. On December 9, 1992, we issued John Benson, our chief financial officer, a stock option to acquire 50,000 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $1.625 per share as an inducement grant in connection with his joining our company. On December 31, 1993, December 31, 1994 and October 8, 2001 we issued Mr. Benson and William H. Oyster, our president and chief operating officer, stock options to purchase an aggregate of 350,000 shares of our common stock at an exercise price ranging from $2.125 to $2.25 per share. Each of these options was granted with an exercise price equal to the current market as quoted on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market. We refer to each of the stock options described in this paragraph as the options, and their holders as the option holders.

Each of the Superior stockholders and warrant holders represented to us that he is acquiring the securities for investment purposes only and with no present intention of distributing those securities, except in compliance with all applicable securities laws. In addition, each of the Superior stockholders and warrant holders has represented to us that he is qualified as an accredited investor, as that term is defined in Rule 501 under the Securities Act of 1933.

We agreed to file a registration statement, of which this prospectus is a part, prior to June 4, 2007 to register for resale the shares that may be purchased under the warrants. We also agreed to have the registration statement declared effective as soon as possible and in any event by August 27, 2007. Once the registration statement is declared effective, we have agreed to keep it continuously effective until the earliest of:

- the date that none of the securities required to be registered under the registration statement, which we refer to as the registrable securities, are or may become outstanding;
- the date that all of the registrable securities have been sold pursuant to the registration statement;
- the date that the registrable securities may be sold under the provisions of Rule 144 under the Securities Act without limitation as to volume;
- the date all the registrable securities have been otherwise transferred to persons who may trade such shares without restriction under the Securities Act and the certificates for those securities do not have a restrictive legend; and three years from the date the registration statement became effective.

Thereafter, if Stanford or any of its designees owns any registrable securities and we are eligible to register the registrable securities on a Form S-3, we have agreed to maintain the registration statement effective under the Securities Act to register the resale of the registrable securities at the expense of Stanford and its assignees.

If we do not comply with our registration obligations, we have agreed to issue to each warrant holder, as of the first day of our failure to comply and for every consecutive 3-month period in which we are not in compliance, as liquidated damages, additional A warrants to purchase five percent of the aggregate number of shares of our common stock issuable upon the exercise in full of the A warrants then held by each warrant holder. The A warrants have an exercise price of $1.89 per share.

SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

We are registering for sale or other disposition shares of our common stock held by the selling stockholders. The term selling stockholders includes the stockholders listed below and their transferees, pledgees, donees or other successors.

The following table sets forth information regarding beneficial ownership of our common stock which is based on information provided by the selling stockholders as of May 15, 2007, and supplemented with securities acquired in the Superior acquisition. The selling stockholders identified below may have sold, transferred or otherwise disposed of all or a portion of their shares of common stock in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act since the date as of which they provided this information.

Except as described below, none of the selling stockholders has held any position or office or had any other material relationship with us or any of our predecessors or affiliates within the past three years other than as a result of the ownership of our securities. We may amend or supplement this prospectus from time to time to update the disclosure set forth in it.

Each of the selling stockholders that is affiliated with a registered broker-dealer purchased the securities described under the heading Issuances of Securities to Selling Stockholders in the ordinary course of business and does not have any agreement or understandings, directly or indirectly, to distribute the shares offered by this prospectus.

DESCRIPTION OF DGSE CAPITAL STOCK

The following is a summary of the rights of our common stock and related provisions of our articles of incorporation and bylaws. This summary is not complete. For more detailed information, please see our articles of incorporation and bylaws, which have been filed in their entirety with the SEC. See the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 15.

Our authorized capital stock consists of 30,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share.

As of May 31, 2007, 8,616,003 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding.

Dividend Rights. The holders of outstanding shares of our common stock are entitled to receive dividends out of assets legally available at the time and in the amounts as our board of directors may from time to time determine. To date, we have not paid any cash dividends.

Voting Rights. Each holder of shares of our common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held on all matters submitted to a vote of our stockholders. Pursuant to the requirements of the Nevada Private Corporations Law and our bylaws, the holders of our common stock may cumulate their votes for the election of directors of DGSE if any stockholder gives notice, at the annual meeting prior to voting, of his or her intention to cumulate his or her votes.

No Preemptive or Similar Rights. Our common stock is not entitled to preemptive rights and is not subject to conversion or redemption.

Right to Receive Liquidation Distributions. Upon a liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of our company, the assets legally available for distribution to stockholders are distributable ratably among the holders of our common stock outstanding at that time.

Amendment of Bylaws. Our stockholders have the right to adopt, amend or repeal our bylaws. Subject to this right of our stockholders, our board of directors may adopt, amend or repeal the bylaws, other than to change the maximum authorized number of directors.

Transfer Agent

The transfer agent for our common stock is Registrar & Transfer Company.

Listing

Our common stock is quoted on the Nasdaq Capital Market under the symbol DGSE .

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling stockholders may, from time to time, sell any or all of their shares of common stock on any stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. These sales may be at fixed or negotiated prices. The selling stockholders may use any one or more of the following methods when selling shares:

- ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker-dealer solicits purchasers;
- block trades in which the broker-dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;
- purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;
- an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;
- privately negotiated transactions;
- short sales;
- broker-dealers may agree with the selling stockholders to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;

a combination of any such methods of sale; and any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

The selling stockholders may also sell shares under Rule 144 under the Securities Act, if available, rather than under this prospectus.

The selling stockholders may also engage in short sales against the box, puts and calls and other transactions in our securities or derivatives of our securities and may sell or deliver shares in connection with these trades.

Broker-dealers engaged by the selling stockholders may arrange for other broker-dealers to participate in sales. Broker-dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholders (or, if any broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of shares, from the purchaser) in amounts to be negotiated. The selling stockholders do not expect these commissions and discounts to exceed what is customary in the types of transactions involved. Any profits on the resale of shares of common stock by a broker-dealer acting as principal might be deemed to be underwriting discounts or commissions under the Securities Act. Discounts, concessions, commissions and similar selling expenses, if any, attributable to the sale of shares will be borne by a selling stockholder. The selling stockholders may agree to indemnify any agent, dealer or broker-dealer that participates in transactions involving sales of the shares if liabilities are imposed on that person under the Securities Act.

The selling stockholders may from time to time pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares of common stock owned by them and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell the shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus after we have filed an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act of 1933 amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus.

The selling stockholders also may transfer the shares of common stock in other circumstances, in which case the transferees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling beneficial owners for purposes of this prospectus and may sell the shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus after we have filed an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act of 1933 amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus.

The selling stockholders and any broker-dealers or agents that are involved in selling the shares of common stock may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. In such event, any commissions received by such broker-dealers or agents and any profit on the resale of the shares of common stock purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act.

We are required to pay all fees and expenses incident to the registration of t
