ITEM 1. BUSINESS

General

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. (“we” or “the Company”) designs and markets a variety of popularly-priced safety products consisting primarily of smoke alarms, carbon monoxide alarms and related products. Most of our products require minimal installation and are designed for easy installation by the consumer without professional assistance, and are sold through retail stores. We also market products to the electrical distribution trade through our wholly-owned subsidiary, USI Electric, Inc. (“USI Electric”). The electrical distribution trade includes electrical and lighting distributors as well as manufactured housing companies. Products sold by USI Electric usually require professional installation.

In 1989 we formed a limited liability company under the laws of Hong Kong, as a joint venture with a Hong Kong-based partner to manufacture various products in the Peoples Republic of China (the “Hong Kong Joint Venture”). We currently own a 50% interest in the Hong Kong Joint Venture and are a significant customer of the Hong Kong Joint Venture (46.38% and 49.60% of its sales during fiscal 2007 and 2006 respectively), with the balance of its sales made to unrelated customers worldwide.

During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we formed 2113824 Ontario, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, under the laws of the Province of Ontario, Canada for the purpose of acquiring a majority interest in two Canadian corporations. In October 2006, 2113824 Ontario, Inc. acquired two-thirds of the issued and outstanding capital stock of International Conduits, Ltd. (Icon) and Intube, Inc. (Intube). Icon and Intube are based in Toronto, Canada and manufacture and distribute electrical mechanical tubing (EMT) steel conduit. Icon also sells home safety products, primarily purchased from USI, in the Canadian market. The primary purpose of the Icon and Intube acquisition is to expand our product offerings to include EMT steel conduit, and to provide this product and service to the commercial construction market. On April 2, 2007, Icon and Intube were amalgamated (merged) under the laws of the Province of Ontario, Canada to form one corporation. All future operations of the Canadian subsidiaries are combined under International Conduits, Ltd. (Icon).

We import all of our products from various foreign suppliers. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, approximately 65.04% of our purchases were imported from the Hong Kong Joint Venture and 4.90% of our purchases were imported from our Canadian subsidiaries.

Our sales for the year ended March 31, 2007 were $35,823,575 compared to $28,894,101 for the year ended March 31, 2006, an increase of approximately 23.98%. We reported net income of $5,533,258 in fiscal 2007 compared to net income of $4,600,352 in fiscal 2006, an increase of 20.28%. Included in the fiscal 2007 results are $4,200,921 in sales and a $570,961 net loss by our newly acquired Canadian operations.

The Company was incorporated in Maryland in 1969. Our principal executive office is located at 7-A Gwynns Mill Court, Owings Mills, Maryland 21117, and our telephone number is 410-363-3000. Information about us may be obtained from our website www.universalsecurity.com. Copies of our Annual Report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, and current reports on Form 8-K, are available free of charge on our website as soon as they are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) through a link to the SEC’s EDGAR reporting system. Simply select the “Investor Relations” menu item, then click on the “SEC Filings” link. The SEC’s EDGAR reporting system can also be accessed directly at www.sec.gov.

Safety Products

We market a line of residential smoke alarms under the trade names “USI Electric” and “UNIVERSAL” both of which are manufactured by the Hong Kong Joint Venture.

Our line of smoke alarms consists of battery, electrical and electrical with battery backup alarms. Our products contain different types of batteries with different battery lives, and some with alarm silencers. The smoke alarms marketed to the electrical distribution trade also include hearing impaired and heat alarms with a variety of additional features. We also market outdoor floodlights under the name “Lite Aide(TM),” carbon monoxide alarms, door chimes and ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI) units.

Our wholly-owned subsidiary, USI Electric. Inc., focuses its sales and marketing efforts to maximize safety product sales, especially smoke alarms and carbon monoxide alarms manufactured by our Hong Kong Joint Venture and marketed to the electrical distribution and retail trade.

EMT Steel Conduit

Icon manufactures mechanical steel tubing at its Toronto, Canada facility. Mechanical steel tubing is used for a variety of purposes, including EMT steel conduit, steel fencing, and as a component part of various other products. In Canada, EMT steel conduit is marketed principally through Icon's electrical distribution network to the commercial construction market. Sales of steel fencing and other mechanical steel tubing products are marketed directly by Icon's sales force. In the United States, EMT conduit is marketed principally through the Company's electrical distribution network to the commercial construction market.

Import Matters

We import all of our products. As an importer, we are subject to numerous tariffs which vary depending on types of products and country of origin, changes in economic and political conditions in the country of manufacture, potential trade restrictions and currency fluctuations. We have attempted to protect ourself from fluctuations in currency exchange rates to the extent possible by negotiating commitments in U.S. dollars.

Our inventory purchases are also subject to delays in delivery due to problems with shipping and docking facilities, as well as other problems associated with purchasing products abroad. Substantially all of our safety products, including products we purchase from our Hong Kong Joint Venture, are imported from the People's Republic of China. Mechanical steel tubing manufactured for us by Icon is imported by land transport from Canada.

Sales and Marketing; Customers

We sell our products to various customers, and our total sales market can be divided generally into three categories; sales by the Company, sales by our USI Electric subsidiary, and sales by Icon.

The Company markets our products to retailers, including wholesale distributors, chain, discount, television retailers and home center stores, catalog and mail order companies and to other distributors ("retailers"). Our products have historically been retailed to "do-it-yourself" consumers by these retailers. We do not currently market any significant portion of our products directly to end users.

The Company's retail sales are made directly by our employees and by approximately 17 independent sales organizations who are compensated by commissions. Our agreements with these sales organizations are generally cancelable by either party upon 30 days notice. We do not believe that the loss of any one of these organizations would have a material adverse effect upon our business. Sales which are made directly by us are effected by our officers and full-time employees, seven of whom are also engaged in sales, management and training. Sales outside the United States, are made by our officers and through exporters, and amounted to less than 5.0% of total sales in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2007 and 2006.

In recent years, no one customer amounted to 10% of our total sales. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, we began selling home safety products to The Home Depot, Inc., a major national home improvement retailer, and total sales to Home Depot for fiscal 2007 represented approximately 11% of our revenues.

Our USI Electric subsidiary markets our products to the electrical distribution trade (primarily electrical and lighting distributors and manufactured housing companies). USI Electric has established a national distribution system with 12 regional stocking warehouses throughout the United States which generally enables customers to receive their orders the next day without paying for overnight freight charges. USI Electric engages sales personnel from the electrical distribution trade and has engaged 27 independent sales organizations which represent approximately 230 sales representatives, some of which have warehouses where USI Electric products are maintained by our sales representatives for sale.

We also market our products through our own sales catalogs and brochures, which are mailed directly to trade customers, and our website. Our customers, in turn, may advertise our products in their own catalogs and brochures and in their ads in newspapers and other media. We also exhibit and sell our products at various trade shows, including the annual National Hardware Show.

Our Icon Canadian subsidiary markets its EMT conduit, other manufactured tubing products and related security products to the electrical distribution trade utilizing its internal sales force and independent representatives.

Our backlog of orders believed to be firm as of March 31, 2007 was approximately $2,219,435. Our backlog as of March 31, 2006 was approximately $2,996,000. This decrease in backlog is primarily due to a reduction in the backlog of orders we had for ground fault circuit interrupters at March 31, 2006 in advance of new regulations affecting these devices which went into effect July 28, 2006, partially offset by our addition of Icon’s backlog for mechanical tubing.

Hong Kong Joint Venture

We have a 50% interest in the Hong Kong Joint Venture which has manufacturing facilities in the People's Republic of China, for the manufacturing of certain of our electronic and electrical products.

We believe that the Hong Kong Joint Venture arrangement will ensure a continuing source of supply for a majority of our safety products at competitive prices. During fiscal year 2007, 65.04% of our total inventory purchases were made from the Hong Kong Joint Venture. The products produced by the Hong Kong Joint Venture include smoke alarms and carbon monoxide alarms. Changes in economic and political conditions in China or any other adversity to the Hong Kong Joint Venture will unfavorably affect the value of our investment in the Hong Kong Joint Venture and would have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to purchase products for distribution.

Our purchases from the Hong Kong Joint Venture represented approximately 46% of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's total sales during fiscal 2007 and 50% of total sales during fiscal 2006, with the balance of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's sales being primarily made in Europe and Australia, to unrelated customers. The Hong Kong Joint Venture's sales to unrelated customers are $22,065,702 in fiscal 2007 and $12,506,135 in fiscal 2006. Please see Note D of the Financial Statements for a comparison of annual sales and earnings of the Hong Kong Joint Venture.

Other Suppliers

Certain private label products not manufactured for us by the Hong Kong Joint Venture are manufactured by other foreign suppliers. We believe that our relationships with our suppliers are good. We believe that the loss of our ability to purchase products from the Hong Kong Joint Venture would have a material adverse effect on the Company. The loss of any of our other suppliers would have a short-term adverse effect on our operations, but replacement sources for these other suppliers could be developed.

Competition

In fiscal year 2007, sales of safety products accounted for substantially all of our total sales. In the sale of smoke alarms, we compete in all of our markets with First Alert, Firex and Kidde Safety. In the sale of GFCI units, we compete in all our markets with Leviton Manufacturing Co., Inc., Pass & Seymour, Inc., Cooper Wiring Devices and Hubbell, Inc. All of these companies have greater financial resources and financial strength than we have. We believe that our safety products compete favorably in the market primarily on the basis of styling, features and pricing.

The safety industry in general involves changing technology. The success of our products may depend on our ability to improve and update our products in a timely manner and to adapt to new technological advances.

Employees

As of March 31, 2007, including the employees or our consolidated Canadian subsidiaries, we had 34 employees, 16 of whom are engaged in administration and sales, and the balance of whom are engaged in product development, manufacturing and servicing. Our employees are not unionized, and we believe that our relations with our employees are satisfactory.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

An investment in our Common Stock is subject to risks inherent to our business. The material risks and uncertainties that management believes affect the Company are described below. Additional risks and uncertainties that management is not aware of or focused on or that management currently deems immaterial may also impair the Company's business operations.

Risk Factors Relating To Our Business Generally

Our success depends to a very large degree on our relationship with and the success of our Hong Kong Joint Venture.

During fiscal year 2007, 65.04% of our total inventory purchases were made from the Hong Kong Joint Venture. The products produced by the Hong Kong Joint Venture include smoke alarms and carbon monoxide alarms, and we are currently pursuing the development of additional products to be manufactured by the Hong Kong Joint Venture. Our purchases from the Hong Kong Joint Venture represented approximately 46.38% of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's total sales during fiscal 2007, with the balance of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's sales being primarily made in Europe and Australia to unrelated customers. If the Hong Kong Joint Venture does not maintain profitability, our profitability will be adversely affected.

In addition, adverse changes in our relationship with our Hong Kong Joint Venture partners would unfavorably affect the value of our investment in the Hong Kong Joint Venture and could have a material adverse effect on our ability to purchase products for distribution.

Our reliance on the Hong Kong Joint Venture exposes us to uncertainties and risks from abroad which could negatively affect our operations and sales.

Our relationship with the Hong Kong Joint Venture and our and the Hong Kong Joint Venture's sales in other countries expose us to particular risks. The following are among the risks that could negatively affect our imports and our and the Hong Kong Joint Venture's sales in foreign markets:

- new restrictions on access to markets,
- currency devaluation,
- new tariffs,
- adverse changes in monetary and/or tax policies,
- inflation, and
- governmental instability.

Should any of these risks occur, the value of our investment in the Hong Kong Joint Venture could be reduced and our results of operations could be negatively impacted.

The lack of availability of inventory could adversely affect our financial results.

We source inventory primarily from our Hong Kong Joint Venture, which has manufacturing facilities in the People's Republic of China. Our purchases of inventory are subject to being affected by a number of factors, namely, production capacity, labor unrest and untimely deliveries. Changes in economic and political conditions in China or any other adversity to the Hong Kong Joint Venture will unfavorably affect the value of our investment in the Hong Kong Joint Venture and could have a material adverse effect on the our ability to purchase products for distribution.

Our Hong Kong Joint Venture is subject to political and economic factors unique to China.

The Chinese government has been reforming the Chinese economic system. In recent years, the government has also begun reforming the government structure. These reforms have resulted in significant economic growth and social progress. Although the majority of the production assets in China are still state-owned, economic reform policies have emphasized autonomous enterprises and the utilization of market mechanisms. Our Hong Kong Joint Venture currently expects that the Chinese government will continue its reform by further reducing governmental intervention in business enterprises and allowing market mechanisms to allocate resources. Any adverse changes in political, economic or social conditions in China could have a material adverse effect on the Hong Kong Joint Venture's operations and our financial results, as well as our ability to purchase products manufactured by the Hong Kong Joint Venture.

We are subject to risks in connection with the importation of our products from foreign countries.

We import all of our products. As an importer, we are subject to numerous tariffs which vary depending on types of products and country of origin, changes in economic and political conditions in the country of manufacture, potential trade restrictions and currency fluctuations. We have attempted to protect ourselves from fluctuations in currency exchange rates to the extent possible by negotiating commitments in U.S. dollars. We are also subject to strikes or other labor unrest at points of origin and destination, as well as delays and restrictions which impact shipping and shipping routes.

Our newly acquired Canadian mechanical steel tubing subsidiary will need to increase production to be profitable.

Icon's production of EMT conduit for the six month period ended March 31, 2007 did not produce sufficient income to cover operating expenses. If we are unable to increase production and sales of EMT conduit, our Canadian subsidiary will continue to generate losses.

We rely on our key personnel and the loss of one or more of those personnel could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations and prospects depend in large part on the performance of our senior management team. There can be no assurance that we would be able to find qualified replacements for any of these individuals if their services were no longer available. The loss of the services of one or more members of our senior management team could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our competition is both intense and varied and our failure to effectively compete could adversely affect our prospects.

In fiscal year 2007, our sales of safety products accounted for 85.06% of our sales. Many of our competitors have greater financial resources and financial strength than we have. Some of our competitors may be willing to reduce prices and accept lower profit margins to compete with us. While we believe that our safety products compete favorably with other such products in the market, primarily on the basis of styling, features, and pricing, the safety industry in general involves changing technology. The success of our products may depend on our ability to improve and update our products in a timely manner and to adapt to new technological advances. As a result of this competition, we could lose market share and suffer losses, which could have a material adverse effect on our future financial performance.

The security products marketplace is dynamic and challenging because of the introduction of new products and services.

We must constantly introduce new products, services, and product features to meet competitive pressures. We may be unable to timely change our existing merchandise sales mix in order to meet these competitive pressures, which may result in increased inventory costs or loss of market share.

Adverse changes in national or regional U.S. economic conditions could adversely affect our financial results.

We market our products nationally to retailers, including wholesale distributors, chain, discount, and home center stores, catalog and mail order companies and to other distributors. Overall consumer confidence, consumer credit availability, recessionary trends, housing starts and prices, mortgage rates, and consumers' disposable income and spending levels directly impact our sales. Negative trends, whether national or regional in nature, in any of these economic conditions could adversely affect our financial results.

Our products must meet specified quality and safety standards to enter and stay on the market.

Our products must meet US. and various international standards before they are sold. For example, in the United States, our products must be certified by Underwriters Laboratories (UL) and similar certifications must be obtained in each country where we compete for market share. If our manufacturers' products or manufacturing facilities (including those of the Hong Kong Joint Venture and Icon) fail to pass periodic inspections, the approval certificates for the relevant products may be suspended until corrections are made. Loss of UL or other independent certifications could have a material adverse affect on our sales and financial results.

Our products expose us to the potential of product liability claims.

All of our products are manufactured by the Hong Kong Joint Venture, Icon, or others. Nevertheless, we could be named as a defendant in an action arising from damages suffered as a result of one of our products. While we carry products liability insurance, to the extent we are found liable for damages for which we are uninsured, our profitability may be adversely affected. Any suit, even if not meritorious or if covered by an indemnification obligation, could result in the expenditure of a significant amount of our financial and managerial resources and could create significant negative publicity for us and our products.

We may be unable to successfully execute our merchandising and marketing strategic initiatives.

Our wholly-owned subsidiary, USI Electric focuses its sales and marketing efforts and initiatives to maximize safety product sales, especially smoke alarms and carbon monoxide alarms manufactured by our Hong Kong Joint Venture and marketed to the electrical distribution and retail trade. Our majority-owned subsidiary, Icon, focuses its marketing efforts and initiatives to maximize its manufactured mechanical tubing sales. If we fail to successfully execute these initiatives, our business could be adversely affected.

We are and could become subject to litigation regarding intellectual property rights, which could seriously harm our business.

We design most of our security products and contract with suppliers to manufacture those products and deliver them to us. We have been the subject of lawsuits by third parties which assert against us infringement claims or claims that we have violated a patent or infringed upon a copyright, trademark or other proprietary right belonging to them. If such infringement by our suppliers or us were found to exist, we could be subject to monetary damages and an injunction preventing the use of their intellectual property. If one of our products were found to infringe, we may attempt to acquire a license or right to use such technology or intellectual property, which could result in higher manufacturing costs. Any infringement claim, even if not meritorious and/or covered by an indemnification obligation, could result in the expenditure of a significant amount of our financial and managerial resources.

If governmental regulations change or are applied differently, our business could suffer.

The sales of our smoke and carbon monoxide alarms are impacted by local laws and regulations mandating the installation of these security devices in new and sometimes existing homes and buildings. Changes in these consumer safety regulations, both in the United States and abroad, could impact our business.

Risk Factors Relating to our Articles of Incorporation and our Stock

The liability of our directors is limited.

Our Articles of Incorporation limit the liability of directors to the maximum extent permitted by Maryland law.

It is unlikely that we will issue dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future.

We have not declared or paid cash dividends on our common stock in over 21 years and do not intend to pay cash dividends in the foreseeable future. The payment of dividends in the future will be at the discretion of our board of directors.

The exercise of outstanding options will dilute the percentage ownership of our stockholders, and any sales in the public market of shares of our common stock underlying such options may adversely affect prevailing market prices for our common stock.

As of March 31, 2007, there are outstanding options to purchase an aggregate of 102,441 shares of our common stock at per share exercise prices ranging from $7.68 to $16.09. The exercise of such outstanding options would dilute the percentage ownership of our existing stockholders, and any sales in the public market of shares of our common stock underlying such options may adversely affect prevailing market prices for our common stock.

It may be difficult for a third party to acquire us, which could affect our stock price.

Our charter and Bylaws contain certain anti-takeover provisions pursuant to the Maryland General Corporation Law. This means that we may be a less attractive target to a potential acquirer who otherwise may be willing to pay a premium for our common stock above its market price.

ITEM 1B. UNRESOLVED STAFF COMMENTS

Not applicable.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

Effective December 1999, we entered into an operating lease for a 9,000 square foot office and warehouse located in Baltimore County, Maryland. This lease is due to expire October 2008. The current rental, with common area maintenance, approximates $5,835 per month during the current fiscal year, with increasing rentals at 3% per year.

Effective March 2003, we entered into an operating lease for an approximately 2,600 square foot office in Naperville, Illinois. This lease expires in February 2009 and is subject to increasing rentals at 3% per year. The monthly rental, with common area maintenance, approximates $3,089 per month during the current fiscal year.

The Hong Kong Joint Venture currently operates an approximately 100,000 square foot manufacturing facility in the Guangdong province of Southern China and a 250,000 square-foot manufacturing facility in the Fujian province of Southern China.

Icon operates a 40,000 square foot office and manufacturing facility in Toronto, Canada. The initial lease expires in January 2010 and has two, three-year renewal options. The current rental with common area maintenance, approximates $19,560 per month during the current fiscal year, with increasing rentals at 3.7% per year,

The Company believes that its current facilities, and those of Icon and the Hong Kong Joint Venture, are currently suitable and adequate.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

On June 10, 2003, Leviton Manufacturing Co., Inc. ("Leviton") filed a civil suit against the Company and its USI Electric subsidiary in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland (Case No. 03cv1701), alleging that the Company's GFCI units infringe one or more of Leviton's six patents for reset lockout technology related to but not required by UL Standard 943 for GFCI units, effective January 2003. Leviton also asserted trade dress and unfair competition claims. In May 2006, Leviton and the Company settled the trade dress/deceptive trade practice claims of the action, all subject to a confidentiality agreement. The settlement did not cover the patent infringement claims. In January 2006, the Company was granted summary judgment on the infringement claims and Leviton appealed that judgment and dismissal. On January 10, 2007, the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit issued a decision affirming the lower court's summary judgment and dismissal of Leviton's patent infringement claims. As a result of this decision, the Company obtained a successful outcome and the entirety of this suit by Leviton is now concluded.

On March 31, 2005, Leviton filed another lawsuit (Case No. 05cv0889) in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland against the Company. In this suit, Leviton alleges that the Company's GFCI units infringe on US Patent 6,864,766. The Company has filed a counterclaim against Leviton and the case has been consolidated with a declaratory judgment action filed by the GFCI manufacturer, Shanghai Meihao Electric, Inc. Discovery is now concluded. The Company believes that it has strong defenses relating to the patent in suit. In the event of an unfavorable outcome, the amount of any potential loss to the Company is not determinable at this time.

On June 11, 2003, Walter Kidde Portable Equipment, Inc. ("Kidde") filed a civil suit against the Company in the United States District Court for the Middle District of North Carolina (Case No. 03cv00537), alleging that certain of the Company's AC powered/battery backup smoke detectors infringe on a patent acquired by Kidde. Kidde is seeking injunctive relief and damages to be determined at trial. On March 31, 2006, following numerous procedural and substantive rulings which the Company believes were favorable to the Company, Kidde obtained dismissal, without prejudice, of its suit. On November 28, 2005, prior to the March 31, 2006 dismissal of the original suit, Kidde filed a second lawsuit based on virtually identical infringement allegations as the earlier case. Because, the court dismissed the first case without conditions and without prejudice, the Company has appealed the dismissal to the United States

Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, believing that at a minimum, procedurally, conditions should have been imposed. On March 2, 2007, the appellate court affirmed the lower court's dismissal of the first case, and the second case is now in the preliminary stages. Although some aspects of the case are more complicated, the Company's substantive position and its defenses to Kidde's claims on most issues are substantially the same as the first Kidde case. The Company and its counsel believe that the Company has significant defenses relating to the patent in suit. In the event of an unfavorable outcome, the amount of any potential loss to the Company is not yet determinable.

On October 13, 2003, Maple Chase Company filed a civil suit in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois (Case No. 03cv07205), against the Company, its USI Electric subsidiary, and one former and one present Illinois-based sales representative, alleging that certain of the Company's smoke detectors infringe on a patent owned by Maple Chase (US Reissue Patent No. Re: 33290). On April 11, 2005, this action was dismissed pending the outcome of a reexamination in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). In April 2006, the USPTO rejected most of the claims in the patent. Maple Chase filed a substantive response which resulted in issuance of a further Official Action from the USPTO. After considering Maple Chase's arguments, on September 29, 2006 the USPTO issued a further action confirming the patentability of many of the claims at issue and rejecting others. On October 30, 2006, Maple Chase filed a further response canceling the rejected claims. On December 19, 2006, the USPTO issued a formal notice of intent to issue a re-examination certificate for the Maple Chase Company patent on which the patent infringement suit was filed. In March 2007, the full term of the patent was reached and no Re-examination Certificate has been issued by the USPTO. Under the U.S. patent laws, a patent owner may still sue for damages for up to six years following expiration of a patent but may recover damages only for the period between six years prior to filing the suit and the date of the patent expiration. Therefore, Maple Chase may still file suit for damages and the amount of potential loss to the Company, if any, is not yet determinable but declining daily. The Company believes that it has meritorious and substantial technical defenses to any action that might be filed against it by Maple Chase. The Company also believes that it is entitled to a number of legal and equitable defenses due to the long period of inaction and acquiescence by Maple Chase (and its predecessors).

From time to time, the Company is involved in various lawsuits and legal matters. It is the opinion of management, based on the advice of legal counsel, that these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial statements.

Net income per share - diluted as stated above for the quarters ended December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2007 are $0.02 and $0.01, respectively, more than the amounts reported in the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form10-Q for the respective periods. This change in net income per share - diluted is as a result of implementation by the Company of FAS 123R.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Forward-Looking Statements

When used in this discussion and elsewhere in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, the words or phrases "will likely result," "are expected to," "will continue," "is anticipated," "estimate," "project" or similar expressions are intended to ider "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. We caution readers not to place undue reliance on any such forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date made, and readers are advised that various factors, including the Risk Factors discussed elsewhere in this Annual Report and other risks, could affect our financial performance and could cause our actual results for future periods to differ materially from those anticipated or projected. We do not undertake and specifically disclaim any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect occurrence of anticipated or unanticipated events or circumstances after the date of such statements.

General

We are in the business of marketing and distributing safety and security products which are primarily manufactured through our 50% owned Hong Kong Joint Venture. In the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we expanded our business with the acquisition of our Canadian EMT conduit subsidiary. Our financial statements detail our sales and other operational results only, and report the financial results of the Hong Kong Joint Venture using the equity method. Accordingly, the following discussion and analysis of the fiscal years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005 relate to the operational results of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries only (including our new Canadian EMT conduit business), and includes the Company's equity share of earnings in the Hong Kong Joint Venture. A discussion and analysis of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's operational results for these periods is presented below under the heading "Hong Kong Joint Venture."

Comparison of Results of Operations for the Years Ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005

Sales. In fiscal year 2007, our net sales increased by $6,929,474 (23.98%), from $28,894,101 in fiscal 2006 to $35,823,575 in fiscal 2007. Sales to the electrical distribution trade through our USI Electric subsidiary decreased to $19,916,690, principally due to decreased volume from the U.S. residential construction trade (from approximately $21,260,000 in 2006). The Company increased its sales to retail and wholesale customers in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 to $11,705,964 from $7,634,030 at March 31, 2006, principally as a result of sales to a national home improvement retailer. Consolidated net sales include net sales of our Canadian subsidiary of $4,200,921.

In fiscal year 2006, sales increased by $5,428,658 (23.1%) from $23,465,443 in fiscal 2005 to $28,894,101 in fiscal 2006. Our focus on marketing to the electrical distribution trade through our USI Electric subsidiary accounted for approximately $4,780,000 of the increased 2006 sales, principally due to increased volume (from approximately $16,480,000 in 2005 to approximately $21,260,000 in 2006). The Company also increased its sales to retail and wholesale customers in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006.

Gross Profit. Gross profit margin is calculated as net sales less cost of goods sold expressed as a percentage of net sales. Our gross profit margin for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 was 29.80% compared to 32.73% and 31.19% in fiscal 2006 and 2005, respectively. The decrease in 2007 gross margins is attributed to lower gross margins on retail sales and to lower gross profit realized by our Canadian operations, as further explained below. The increase in gross margin in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 over 2005 reflects variations in the mix of products sold and is a function of higher sales, since certain fixed costs do not increase at the same rate as sales.

Our U.S. operations' gross profit margin for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 is 33.01% compared to 32.73% and 31.19% for fiscal for fiscal 2006 and 2005, respectively. The decrease in 2007 gross margin for our U.S. operations is attributed primarily to reduced margins on increased retail sales, and the increase in 2006 gross margin over 2005 reflects variations in the mix of products sold and is a function of higher sales.

Our Canadian operations' gross profit margin for the six months ended March 31, 2007 is 5.63%. We believe that these low margins are attributable to certain high costs and low productivity. Since these high costs will not increase at the same rate as sales, we have initiated steps to increase Icon's productivity and sales which we believe will have a significant positive impact on the Canadian operations' gross profit margin and results of operations.

Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses for fiscal 2007 increased by $513,781 (7.58%), from $6,776,688 in fiscal 2006 to $7,290,469 in fiscal 2007. As a percentage of net sales, these expenses decreased to 20.35% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 from 23.45% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006. The decrease in selling, general and administrative expense as a percent of sales is attributable to costs that do not increase proportionately with the higher sales volume and a reduction in legal expenses from the 2006 period. With respect to the $513,781 fiscal 2007 increase in dollars spent on selling, general and administrative expenses, our legal expenses in fiscal 2007 decreased by $484,145, due solely to decreased activity on matters before the court, from $822,477 in fiscal 2006 to $338,332 in fiscal 2007. The reduction in legal expense was partially offset by a fiscal 2007 increase of $407,635 in salaries, wages and employee benefits. Approximately $743,860 of our fiscal 2007 expenses represent the selling, general and administrative expenses of our Canadian EMT conduit operations for the period from acquisition of October 2006 to March 31, 2007.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for fiscal 2006 increased by $585,663 (9.45%) from $6,191,025 in fiscal 2005 to $6,776,688 in fiscal 2006. As a percentage of net sales, these expenses decreased to 23.45% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 from 26.38% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2005. The decrease in selling, general and administrative expense as a percent of sales is attributable to costs that do not increase proportionately with the higher sales volume and a reduction in legal expenses from the 2005 period. Our legal expenses decreased by $259,876 in 2006 to $822,477 from $1,082,353 in fiscal 2005. The reduction in legal expense was partially offset by an increase of $718,216 in commissions and freight charges; the account classification which was the most significant factor in this dollar increase, due to our higher 2006 sales volume. Commissions and freight charges, as a percentage of sales, while consistent with commission and freight charges of the prior year, vary directly with sales volume.

Interest Income and Expense. Interest expense for fiscal 2007 increased to $73,517 from $48,999 in fiscal 2006 primarily due to increased borrowing. Interest expense for fiscal 2006 decreased to $48,999 from $85,521 in fiscal 2005 primarily due to less borrowing. The majority of the Company’s cash balances are maintained on deposit with the Company’s factor and earn interest at the factor’s prime rate of interest minus 3%. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, the Company earned interest of $22,023 on these deposits and $9,668 on these deposits for the year ended March 31, 2006.

Income Taxes. During the fiscal year ended 2007, the Company offset the payment of taxes on $3,265,940 of taxable income with the difference between the option price and the exercise price recognized as an employment expense for federal income tax purposes related to employee stock options. For book purposes, this benefit has been treated as an addition to paid-in capital. In addition, the Company offset a portion of its federal taxes of approximately $731,395 with foreign tax credits available as a result of foreign taxes paid on the repatriated earnings of the Hong Kong Joint Venture. The Company has a foreign tax credit carryforward of $190,887 available to offset future taxes at March 31, 2007. After application of the deductions and credits identified above, the Company has a net tax liability for federal and state income tax purposes of approximately $337,000. The deductions and the income tax credits for foreign income taxes paid resulted in an effective income tax rate of approximately 19.28% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007.

During the fiscal year ended 2006, the Company offset $2,151,593 of taxable income by utilizing the remainder of its net operating loss carryforward deduction. In addition, the Company offset federal taxes of approximately $115,000 with foreign tax credits available as a result of foreign taxes paid on the repatriated earnings of the Hong Kong Joint Venture. At March 31, 2006, the Company has no remaining net operating loss carryforwards available to offset future U.S. federal taxable income, and the valuation allowance previously established to offset tax benefits associated with our net operating loss carryforwards and other deferred tax assets was fully utilized. The Company recognized an income tax benefit of $96,500 and $281,137 for fiscal year 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Net Income. We reported net income of $5,533,258 for fiscal year 2007 compared to a net income of $4,600,352 for fiscal year 2006, a $932,906 (20.28%) increase. This increase in net income resulted from increased income of our Hong Kong Joint Venture, partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses as described above, and the income tax effects described above. Net income also was impacted by a net loss from our Canadian subsidiary of $570,961. Although no assurances can be given, management believes that actions which Icon is now taking to increase capacity, together with sales efforts by Icon and the Company, will have a positive impact on Icon’s financial results in future periods.

We reported net income of $4,600,352 for fiscal year 2006 compared to a net income of $3,417,854 for fiscal year 2005, a $1,182,498 (34.60%) increase. This increase in net income resulted from both higher Hong Kong Joint Venture earnings and higher gross profit, partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses as described above.

Financial Condition, Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our cash needs are currently met by funds generated from operations and from our Factoring Agreement with CIT Group, which supplies both short-term borrowings and letters of credit to finance foreign inventory purchases. The maximum we may borrow under this Agreement is $7,500,000. Based on specified percentages of our accounts receivable and inventory and letter of credit commitments, at March 31, 2007, our maximum borrowing availability under this Agreement is $6,751,563. Any outstanding principal balance under this Agreement is payable upon demand. The interest rate on the Factoring Agreement, on the uncollected factored accounts receivable and any additional borrowings is equal to the prime rate of interest charged by the factor which, as of March 31, 2007, was 8.25%. Any borrowings are collateralized by all our accounts receivable and inventory. During the year ended March 31, 2007, working capital (computed as the excess of current assets over current liabilities) increased by $266,355, from $9,911,628 on March 31, 2006, to $10,177,983 on March 31, 2007.

Subsequent to our fiscal year end, on June 22, 2007 we entered into an Amended and Restated Factoring Agreement with CIT Group/Commercial Services, Inc. At the same time, our Icon Canadian subsidiary entered into a financing facility with CIT Financial Ltd., as described in our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 26, 2007.

Our operating activities used cash of $3,169,647 for the year ended March 31, 2007. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006, operating activities provided cash of $1,776,297. This decrease of $4,945,944 was primarily due to increases in accounts receivable, inventory and prepaid expenses generated by U.S. operations associated with sales to a national home improvement retailer and associated with the Canadian operations, and to the earnings of our Hong Kong Joint Venture. These decreases were partially offset by increases in accounts payable and accrued expenses associated with the Canadian operations.

Our investing activities used cash of $1,139,562 during fiscal 2007 and provided cash of $1,091,358 during fiscal 2006. This decrease resulted primarily from our acquisition of the Canadian operations and our subsequent purchases of machinery and equipment to be utilized in the Canadian operations, partially offset by distributions from the Hong Kong Joint Venture. During 2007, as in prior years, the Company offset a portion of its distributions from the Hong Kong Joint Venture with amounts due by the Company to the Hong Kong Joint Venture for the purchase of safety products. The Company offset $250,000 during fiscal 2007 and $458,940 during fiscal 2005 of trade amounts due by it to the Hong Kong Joint Venture in lieu of cash distributions. The Company discloses these payments as a non-cash transaction in its statement of cash flows.

Financing activities in 2007 provided the Company with cash of $1,566,188. Borrowings of $2,254,966 from our factor provided a portion of the cash used to repay $2,333,036 of debt acquired in the acquisition of the Canadian subsidiaries. Our net debt repayment was offset by cash provided from the issuance of common stock from the exercise of employee stock options of $585,658 and the tax benefit associated with the deduction of employment expense related thereto. Financing activities in 2006 provided cash of $98,549 which was primarily from the exercise of employee stock options.

Hong Kong Joint Venture

The financial statements of the Hong Kong Joint Venture are included in this Form 10-K beginning on page JV-1. The reader should refer to these financial statements for additional information. There are no material Hong Kong - US GAAP differences in the Hong Kong Joint Venture’s accounting policies.

In fiscal year 2007, sales of the Hong Kong Joint Venture were $41,151,055 compared to $24,811,790 and $25,899,630 in fiscal years 2006 and 2005, respectively. The increase in sales for 2007 was primarily due to increased sales to non-affiliated customers. The decrease in sales for the 2006 period from the 2005 period was primarily due to lower sales to unrelated third parties, partially offset by higher sales to the Company.

Net income was $8,377,365 for fiscal year 2007 compared to net income of $4,160,935 and $5,005,886 in fiscal years 2006 and 2005, respectively. The increase in the current fiscal year is primarily due to increased sales volume. Net income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 was decreased by the establishment of a reserve of approximately $535,000 for previously capitalized costs associated with the Hong Kong Joint Venture’s application for listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange during the fourth quarter and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006. The increase in income for the year ended March 31, 2006 was due primarily to price increases initiated during the year.

Gross margins of the Hong Kong Joint Venture for fiscal 2007 decreased to 33.42% from 34.69% in the prior fiscal year. The primary reason for this decrease was due to variation in product mix. At March 31, 2006, the Hong Kong Joint Venture’s gross margin increased to 34.69% from 33.55% at March 31, 2005. The primary reason for this increase was higher gross margins attributed to price increases initiated during the year.

Selling, general and administrative expenses of the Hong Kong Joint Venture were $4,789,424, $4,269,714 and $3,495,678 for fiscal years 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. As a percentage of sales, these expenses were 12%, 17% and 13% for fiscal years 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The increase in dollars of selling, general and administrative expenses for the year ended March 31, 2006 was due to higher costs, increased legal expense and the expensing of approximately $535,000 of costs previously capitalized associated with the Hong Kong Joint Venture's application for listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

Interest expense net of interest income was $52,181 for fiscal year 2007, compared to $34,130 and $30,666 in fiscal years 2006 and 2005, respectively. The increase in interest expense net of interest income for 2007 was due to a decrease in investments. The increase from 2005 to 2006 is due to variations in the amount of investments in bonds during that fiscal period.

Cash needs of the Hong Kong Joint Venture are currently met by funds generated from operations. During fiscal year 2007, working capital increased by $5,558,281 from $1,826,756 on March 31, 2006 to $7,385,037 on March 31, 2007.

Contractual Obligations and Commitments

The following table presents, as of March 31, 2007, our significant fixed and determinable contractual obligations to third parties by payment date. Further discussion of the nature of each obligation is included in Note F to the consolidated financial statements.

Critical Accounting Policies

Management's discussion and analysis of our consolidated financial statements and results of operations are based upon our Consolidated Financial Statement included as part of this document. The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and related disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate these estimates, including those related to bad debts, inventories, income taxes, and contingencies and litigation. We base these estimates on historical experiences and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily available from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

We believe that the following critical accounting policies affect management's more significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. For a detailed discussion on the application on these and other accounting policies see Note A to the consolidated financial statements included in this Annual Report. Certain of our accounting policies require the application of significant judgment by management in selecting the appropriate assumptions for calculating financial estimates. By their nature, these judgments are subject to an inherent degree of uncertainty and actual results could differ from these estimates. These judgments are based on our historical experience, terms of existing contracts, current economic trends in the industry, information provided by our customers, and information available from outside sources, as appropriate. Our critical accounting policies include:

Our revenue recognition policies are in compliance with Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Revenue is recognized at the time product is shipped and title passes pursuant to the terms of the agreement with the customer, the amount due from the customer is fixed and collectibility of the related receivable is reasonably assured. We established allowances to cover anticipated doubtful accounts and sales returns based upon historical experience.

Inventories are valued at the lower of market or cost. Cost is determined on the first-in first-out method. We have recorded a reserve for obsolescence or unmarketable inventory equal to the difference between the cost of inventory and the estimated market value based upon assumptions about future demand and market conditions. Management reviews the reserve quarterly.

We currently have a foreign tax credit carryforward and deferred tax assets resulting from deductible temporary differences, which will reduce taxable income in future periods. We had previously provided a valuation allowance on the deferred tax assets associated with the future tax benefits such as foreign tax credits, foreign net operating losses, capital losses and net operating losses. A valuation allowance is required when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of a deferred tax asset will not be realized. Forming a conclusion that a valuation allowance is not needed is difficult when there is negative evidence such as cumulative losses and losses in recent years. Cumulative losses weigh heavily in the overall assessment. As a result of management's assessment, the allowance previously provided to offset tax benefits associated with net operating loss carryforwards and other deferred tax assets at March 31, 2007 has been reduced to zero.

We are subject to lawsuits and other claims, related to patents and other matters. Management is required to assess the likelihood of any adverse judgments or outcomes to these matters, as well as potential ranges of probable losses. A determination of the amount of reserves required, if any, for these contingencies is based on a careful analysis of each individual issue with the assistance of outside legal counsel. The required reserves may change in the future due to new developments in each matter or changes in approach such as a change in settlement strategy in dealing with these matters.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2006, the FASB issued Statement 154, Accounting for Changes and Error Corrections, which replaces APB Opinion No. 20, Accounting Changes, and Statement 3, Reporting Accounting Changes in Interim Financial Statements, and provides guidance on the accounting for and reporting of accounting changes and error corrections. Statement 154 applies to all voluntary changes in accounting principle and requires retrospective application (a term defined by the statement) to prior periods' financial statements, unless it is impracticable to determine the effect of a change. It also applies to changes required by an accounting pronouncement that does not include specific transition provisions. In addition, Statement 154 redefines restatement as the revising of previously issued financial statements to reflect the correction of an error. The statement is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. The Company will adopt Statement 154 beginning April 1, 2007 and does not foresee any changes to its financial statements.

Considering the Effects of Prior Year Misstatements when Quantifying Misstatements in Current Year Financial Statements: In September 2006, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission staff issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 108 (SAB 108), Considering the Effects of Prior Year Misstatements when Quantifying Misstatements in Current Year Financial Statements. SAB 108 eliminates the diversity of practice regarding how public companies quantity financial statement misstatements. It establishes an approach that requires quantification of financial statement misstatements based on the effects of the misstatements on each of the Company's financial statements and the related financial statement discloses, SAB 108 must be applied to annual financial statements for their first fiscal year ended after November 15, 2006. The adoption of SAB 108 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

Fair Value Measurements: In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurement (SFAS 157). This standard clarifies the principle that fair value should be based on the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing an asset or liability. Additionally, it establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the information used to develop those assumptions. SFAS 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company has not yet determined the impact that the implementation of SFAS 157 will have on its results of operations or financial condition.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes: In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48 (FIN 48), Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in tax positions. FIN 48 requires that the Company recognizes in its financial statements the impact of a tax position if that position is more likely than not to be sustained upon audit, based on the technical merits of the position. The provisions of FIN 48 are effective as of the beginning of our 2007 fiscal year, with the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle recorded as an adjustment to opening retained earnings. The Company is currently reviewing the impact of adopting the provisions of FIN 48.

The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities: In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities, including an amendment of FASB Statements No. 115 (SFAS No. 159). SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose, at specified election dates, to measure eligible items at fair value (the “fair value option”). A business entity shall report unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected in earnings at each subsequent reporting period. This accounting standard is effective as of the beginning of an entity’s first fiscal year that begins after November 15, 2007. The effect, if any, of adopting SFAS No. 159 on the Company’s financial position and results of operations has not been finalized.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Our principal financial instrument is our Factoring Agreement which provides for interest at the factor's prime rate (8.25% at March 31, 2007). We are affected by market risk exposure primarily through the effect of changes in interest rates on amounts payable by us under our Factoring Agreement. A significant rise in the prime rate could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. At March 31, 2007 and during the fiscal year then ended, we had $2,254,966 principal outstanding under the facility. We do not utilize derivative financial instruments to hedge against changes in interest rates or for any other purpose.

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA

The financial statements and supplementary data required by this Item 8 are included in the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements and set forth in the pages indicated in Item 15(a) of this Annual Report.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

Not applicable.

ITEM 9A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

We maintain a system of disclosure controls and procedures that is designed to provide reasonable assurance that information, which is required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and is accumulated and communicated to management in a timely manner. Our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have evaluated this system of disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this annual report, and believe that the system is effective. During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we acquired Icon and Intube. Management is assessing the system of internal controls at the acquired subsidiaries. Our internal control over financial reporting during the most recent fiscal year has not been materially affected, or are reasonably likely to be materially affected.

Management is aware that there is a lack of segregation of duties at the Company due to the small number of employees dealing with general administrative and financial matters. However, at this time management has decided that considering the employees involved and the control procedures in place, the risks associated with such lack of segregation are insignificant and the potential benefits of adding employees to clearly segregate duties do not justify the expenses associated with such increases. Management will periodically review this situation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Shareholders and Board of Directors of Universal Security Instruments, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Universal Security Instruments, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) as of March 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2007. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Universal Security Instruments, Inc. and subsidiaries as of March 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The Schedule II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. This schedule has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

UNIVERSAL SECURITY INSTRUMENTS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE A - NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business: The Company's primary business is the sale of smoke alarms and other safety products to retailers, wholesale distributors and to the electrical distribution trade which includes electrical and lighting distributors as well as manufactured housing companies. The Company imports all of its safety and other products from foreign manufacturers. The Company, as an importer, is subject to numerous tariffs which vary depending on types of products and country of origin, changes in economic and political conditions in the country of manufacture, potential trade restrictions and currency fluctuations. During the third quarter, the Company acquired two Canadian subsidiaries, International Conduit, Inc. (Icon) and Intube, Inc. (Intube), whose primary business is the manufacture and sale of EMT steel conduit to the commercial construction market in Canada and in the United States.

Principles of Consolidation: The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned and majority owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. We believe that our 50% ownership interest in the Hong Kong Joint Venture allows us to significantly influence the operations of the Hong Kong Joint Venture. As such, we account for our interest in the Hong Kong Joint Venture using the equity method of accounting. We have included our investment balance as a non-current asset and have included our share of the Hong Kong Joint Venture's income in our consolidated statement of operations. The investment and earnings are adjusted to eliminate intercompany profits.

Use of Estimates: In preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP), management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition: We recognize sales upon shipment of products, when title has passed to the buyer, net of applicable provisions for any discounts or allowances. We recognize revenue when the following criterion are met: evidence of an arrangement, fixed and determinable fee, delivery has taken place, and collectibility is reasonably assured. Customers may not return, exchange or refuse acceptance of goods without our approval. We have established allowances to cover anticipated doubtful accounts based upon historical experience.

Warranties: We generally provide warranties, on the safety products, from one to ten years to the non-commercial end user on all products sold. The manufacturers of our safety products provide us with a one-year warranty on all products we purchase for resale. Claims for warranty replacement of products beyond the one-year warranty period covered by the manufacturers have not been historically material and we do not record estimated warranty expense or a contingent liability for warranty claims.

Stock-Based Compensation: As of March 31, 2007, under the terms of the Company's Non-Qualified Stock Option Plan, as amended, 1,170,369 shares of our common stock are reserved for the granting of stock options, of which 1,166,137 have been issued, leaving 4,232 available for issuance.

Adoption of SFAS No. 123R. In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, which requires compensation costs related to share-based payment transactions to be recognized in financial statements. SFAS No. 123R eliminates the intrinsic value method of accounting available under Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, which generally resulted in no compensation expense being recorded in the financial statements related to the grant of stock options to employees if certain conditions were met.

Effective April 1, 2006, we adopted SFAS No. 123R using the modified prospective method. Under this method, compensation costs for all awards granted after the date of adoption and the unvested portion of previously granted awards will be measured at an estimated fair value and included in operating expenses or capitalized as appropriate over the vesting period during which an employee provides service in exchange for the award. Accordingly, prior period amounts presented have not been restated to reflect the adoption of SFAS No. 123R.

As a result of adopting SFAS No. 123R, net income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 was reduced by $29,411. No portion of employees' compensation, including stock compensation expense, was capitalized during the period.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, 217,203 shares of our common stock have been issued as a result of the exercise of the options granted under the plan. The tax benefit, for income tax purposes, of $1,058,600 from the exercise of these stock options is presented as a cash flow from financing activities.

Fair Value Determination. Under SFAS No. 123R, we have elected to continue using the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine fair value of our awards on date of grant. We will reconsider the use of the Black-Scholes model if additional information becomes available in the future that indicates another model would be more appropriate, or if grants issued in future periods have characteristics that cannot be reasonably estimated under this model.

Stock Option Activity. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, no stock options were granted.

Stock Compensation Expense. We have elected to continue straight-line amortization of stock-based compensation expense over the requisite service period. Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 123R, we recognized the effect of forfeitures in our pro forma disclosures as they occurred. In accordance with the new standard, we have estimated forfeitures and are only recording expense on shares we expect to vest. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, we recorded $29,411 of stock-based compensation cost as general and administrative expense in our statement of operations. No forfeitures have been estimated.

As of March 31, 2007, there was $27,599 of unrecognized compensation cost related to share-based compensation arrangements that we expect to vest. This cost will be fully amortized within two years. The aggregate intrinsic value of currently exercisable options was $619,505 at March 31, 2007.

In prior periods, as permitted under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, we accounted for our stock-based compensation plan using the intrinsic value method under the recognition and measurement principles of APB Opinion No. 25. In accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure, the following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if we had applied the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123 to stock-based employee compensation for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2006 and 2005

The following table illustrates the effect on net income and net income per share had compensation costs for the stock-based compensation plan been determined based on the grant date fair values of awards.

		2006		2005

Research and Development: Research and development costs are charged to operations as incurred.

Business Segments: The Company conducts its business through two operating segments based on geographic location.

Historically, the combined U.S. operations of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, USI Electric, Inc., are operated from the Baltimore, Maryland and Naperville, Illinois offices, respectively, marketing a line of home safety devices such as smoke alarms, carbon monoxide alarms, and ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI) devices to retail customers and to the electrical distribution trade.

The Company's Canadian operations consist of Icon and Intube, the majority owned subsidiaries acquired by the Company in October 2006 and operated from offices in Toronto, Ontario, with sales in both Canada and the United States. The primary product line of the Canadian segment is EMT conduit sold to the electrical distribution trade. Icon also sells home safety devices purchased primarily from the Company.

While USI did not have any significant sales of EMT conduit since the October 2006 acquisition through March 31, 2007, it anticipates that it will sell EMT conduit through its distribution network. Icon's sales of safety products during the six month period ended March 31, 2007 totaled $191,832.

For the period ended March 31, 2007, no inter-company allocation of expenses has been made between the headquarters, Icon and Intube.

The following chart provides segmental information on the U.S. and Canadian operations of the Company for the period ended March 31, 2007 (all figures are presented in U.S. dollars):

	U.S. Operations	Canadian Operations
Sales to external customers	$ 31,622,654	$ 4,200,921

Accounts Receivable: In September, 2000, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 140, "Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities" (SFAS No. 140), which is effective for transfers of financial assets occurring after March 31, 2001.

In fiscal year 2002, the Company achieved the sales criteria of SFAS No. 140, and, as such, amounts transferred under the Company's Factoring Agreement are treated as sales.

Beginning in fiscal year 2002, with the achievement of SFAS 140 sales criteria, the Company nets the factored accounts receivable with the corresponding advance from the Factor, showing the amount net in its consolidated balance sheet.

The Company sells trade receivables on a pre-approved non-recourse basis to the Factor under the Factoring Agreement on an ongoing basis. Factoring charges recognized on sales of receivables are included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of income and amounted to $240,342, $262,670 and $208,913 for the years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The Agreement for the sale of accounts receivable provides for continuation of the program on a revolving basis until terminated by one of the parties to the Agreement.

Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs: The Company includes shipping and handling fees billed to customers in net sales. Shipping and handling costs associated with inbound freight are included in cost of goods sold. Shipping and handling costs associated with outbound freight are included in selling, general and administrative expenses and totaled $1,042,899, $966,981 and $702,779 in fiscal years 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Inventories: Inventories (consisting primarily of finished goods) and with approximately $954,000 of raw material are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) or market. Included as a component of finished goods inventory are additional non-material costs. These costs include overhead costs, freight, import duty and inspection fees of $1,086,928 and $370,419 at March 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. Inventories are shown net of an allowance for inventory obsolescence of $40,000 as of March 31, 2007 and March 31, 2006.

The Company reviews inventory quarterly to identify slow moving products and valuation allowances are adjusted when deemed necessary.

Property and Equipment: Property and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization are provided by using the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes and accelerated methods for income tax purposes. The estimated useful lives for financial reporting purposes are as follows:

Automotive and truck equipment	-	Shorter of term of lease or life of asset
Leasehold improvements	-	Shorter of term of lease or life of asset
Machinery and equipment	-	5 to 10 years
Furniture and fixtures	-	5 to 15 years
Computer equipment	-	5 years

Income Taxes: The Company recognizes a liability or asset for the deferred tax consequences of temporary differences between the tax basis of assets or liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements. These temporary differences will result in taxable or deductible amounts in future years when the reported amounts of the assets or liabilities are recovered or settled. The deferred tax assets are reviewed periodically for recoverability and valuation allowances are provided, as necessary.

Foreign currency: The Company translates the accounts of its subsidiaries denominated in foreign currencies at the applicable exchange rate in effect at the year end date for balance sheet purposes and at the average exchange rate for the period for statement of income purposes. The related translation adjustments in accumulated other comprehensive income in shareholder's equity are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income in shareholders' equity. Transaction gains and losses arising from transactions denominated in foreign currencies are included in the results of operations. The Company maintains cash in foreign banks of $240,545 to support its operations in Canada and Hong Kong.

Net Income per Share: The Company reports basic and diluted earnings per share. Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income for the period by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income for the period by the weighted number of common shares and common share equivalents outstanding (unless their effect is anti-dilutive) for the period. All common share equivalents are comprised of exercisable stock options.

		March 31,
	2007	2006	2005
Common shares outstanding for basic EPS	2,398,284	2,228,908	2,136,599
Shares issued upon assumed exercise of outstanding stock options	86,322	203,797	216,033
Weighted average number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding for diluted EPS	2,484,606	2,432,705	2,352,632

Goodwill: Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price above the fair value of the net assets acquired. Goodwill is evaluated for impairment annually or when events or circumstances occur indicating that goodwill might be impaired. In accordance with FAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," the evaluation is a two-step process that begins with an estimation of the fair value of the reporting units. The first step assesses potential impairment and the second step measures that impairment. The measurement of possible impairment is based on the comparison of the fair value of each reporting unit with the book value of its assets.

Reclassifications: Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified in order to conform with current year presentation.

NOTE B - ACQUISITION

On October 2, 2006, 2113824 Ontario, Inc., a newly formed wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, acquired two-thirds of the issued and outstanding capital stock of International Conduit, Inc. (Icon) and Intube, Inc. (Intube). Icon and Intube are based in Toronto, Canada and manufacture and distribute electrical mechanical tubing (EMT) steel conduit. Icon also sells home safety products primarily purchased from USI. The purchase price for the capital stock of Icon and Intube was $1,784,120 in cash. The primary purpose of the Icon and Intube acquisition was to expand our product offering and service the commercial construction market.

The acquisition described above was accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. Accordingly, the purchase price has been allocated to reflect the fair value of assets and liabilities acquired at the date of acquisition. The results of operations have been included in the consolidated operations since the date of acquisition.

The results of these acquisitions, had they been consummated at the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, are included in the pro forma information below. This unaudited pro forma information does not necessarily reflect the results of operations that would have occurred had the acquisitions taken place at the beginning of each twelve month period and is not necessarily indicative of results that may be obtained in the future.

		2007		2006
Revenue	$	40,052,000	$	37,294,000
Net earnings		5,483,000		4,694,290
Earnings per share (diluted)	$	2.21	$	1.93

Purchase Price Allocation: The allocation of the purchase price for Icon and Intube is as follows:

Assets acquired
Cash	$	48,673
Accounts receivable		1,171,616
Inventory		1,825,917
Property and equipment		1,892,359
Other		82,837
	$	5,021,402
Liabilities Assumed
Debt	$	(2,711,095)

Minority interest		(4,800)
	$	(4,838,988)
Goodwill		1,789,882
Total consideration	$	1,972,296

The goodwill from the Icon and Intube acquisitions are fully allocated to the Company's Canadian operations.

NOTE C - PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment consist of the following:

	March 31,
		2007		2006
Automotive and truck equipment	$	105,145	$	-

Leasehold improvements		81,243		73,535

Less accumulated depreciation and amortization		(599,730)		(456,237)
	$	3,030,060	$	62,212

The Company is obligated under various capital leases. Property and equipment under capital leases included in property and equipment net of accumulated depreciation was $295,744 at March 31, 2007.

NOTE D - INVESTMENT IN THE HONG KONG JOINT VENTURE

The Company holds a 50% interest in a Joint Venture with a Hong Kong Corporation, which has manufacturing facilities in the People's Republic of China, for the manufacturing of consumer electronic products. As of March 31, 2007, the Company has an investment balance of $9,072,284 for its 50% interest in the Hong Kong Joint Venture. There are no material Hong Kong - US GAAP differences in the Hong Kong Joint Venture's accounting policies.

The following represents summarized financial information derived from the audited financial statements of the Hong Kong Joint Venture as of March 31, 2007 and 2006 and for the years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005.

	March 31,

	For the Year Ended March 31,
		2007		2006		2005
Net sales	$	41,151,055	$	24,811,790	$	25,899,630
Gross profit		13,753,123		8,608,220		8,689,538
Net income		8,377,365		4,160,935		5,005,886

During the years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005, the Company purchased $19,085,353, $12,321,401 and $10,513,800, respectively, of finished product from the Hong Kong Joint Venture, which represents 46%, 66% and 68%, respectively, of the Company's total finished product purchases for the years ended at March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005. Amounts due the Hong Kong Joint Venture included in Accounts Payable totaled $3,270,091 and $500,000 at March 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. Amounts due from the Hong Kong Joint Venture included in Accounts Receivable totaled $127,879 and $48,205 at March 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

The Company incurred interest costs charged by the Hong Kong Joint Venture of $25,000, $37,389 and $17,581 during the years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively, related to its purchases.

NOTE E - AMOUNTS DUE FROM FACTOR

The Company sells certain of its trade receivables on a pre-approved, non-recourse basis to a Factor. Since these are sold on a non-recourse basis, the factored trade receivables and related repayment obligations are not separately recorded in the Company's consolidated balance sheets. The Agreement provides for financing of up to a maximum of $7,500,000 with the amount available at any one time based on 85% of uncollected non-recourse receivables sold to the factor and 45% of qualifying inventory. Financing of $4,496,597 is available at March 31, 2007. Any outstanding amounts due to the factor are payable upon demand and bear interest at the prime rate of interest charged by the factor, which is 8.25% at March 31, 2007. Any amount due to the factor is also secured by the Company's inventory. There were borrowings of $2,254,966 outstanding under this agreement at March 31, 2007.

Under this Factoring Agreement, the Company sold receivables of approximately $30,316,914 and $26,713,439 during the years ended March 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. Gains and losses recognized on the sale of factored receivables include the fair value of the limited recourse obligation. The uncollected balance of non-recourse receivables held by the factor amounted to $7,254,275 and $4,259,131 at March 31, 2007 and 2006. The amount of the uncollected balance of non-recourse receivables borrowed by the Company as of March 31, 2007 and 2006 is $2,254,966 and $0, respectively. Collected cash maintained on deposit with the factor earns interest at the factor's prime rate of interest less three percentage points (5.25%) at March 31, 2007 and 4.75% at March 31, 2006.

NOTE F - LEASES

During December 1999, the Company entered into an operating lease for its office and warehouse which expires in December 2008. This lease is subject to increasing rentals at 3% per year. In February 2004, the Company entered into an operating lease for an approximately 2,600 square foot office in Naperville, Illinois. This lease expires in February 2009 with increasing rentals at 3% per year.

In connection with the acquisition of Icon in October 2006, the Company acquired the existing operating lease for manufacturing, office and warehouse space in Toronto, Canada. This lease originated in February 2005 and expires in March 2010. Each of the operating leases for real estate has renewal options with terms and conditions similar to the original lease. Rent expense, including common area maintenance, totaled $220,928, $102,589 and $97,011 for the years ended March 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

The Company leases certain of its automotive and manufacturing equipment under various leasing arrangements. The future minimum lease payments, by year and in the aggregate, under capital leases and under non-cancelable operating leases with initial or remaining lease terms in excess of one year, consisted of the following at March 31, 2007:

	Capital Leases	Non-Cancelable Operating Leases
2008	$ 101,675	$ 312,830
2009	101,675	286,972
2010	44,946	165,935
2011	21,441	-
2012	-	-
	269,737	765,737
Less amount representing interest	(27,281)	-
	$ 242,456	$ 765,737

NOTE G - INCOME TAXES

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. (“USI”) provides for Income Taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, “Accounting for Income Taxes.” Accordingly, deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed and recognized for those differences that have future tax consequences and will result in net taxable or deductible amounts in future periods. Deferred tax expense or benefit is the result of changes in the net asset or liability for deferred taxes. The deferred tax liabilities and assets for USI result primarily from reserves, inventories, accrued liabilities and changes in the unremitted earnings of the Hong Kong Joint Venture.

At March 31, 2006, the Company had foreign tax credit carryforwards of $685,654 available as a result of foreign taxes paid on the repatriated earnings of the Hong Kong Joint Venture. In addition, the Company generated $236,628 of foreign tax credits during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007. Approximately $731,395 of foreign tax credits were used to offset federal taxes at March 31, 2007, resulting in a remaining foreign tax credit carryforward available to offset future taxes of $190,887.

USI had a U.S. net operating loss carryforward as of March 31, 2005 of $2,151,593, of which $2,151,593 was utilized during the year ended March 31, 2006. Therefore, the U.S. net operating loss carryforward has been fully utilized as of March 31, 2006.

The components of income tax expense (benefit) for the Company are as follows:

	March 31,
	2007	2006	2005
Current expense (benefit)
U.S. Federal	$ 1,425,522	$ 17,651	$ 21,000
U.S. State	215,308	10,453	5,250
Canadian Federal	-	-	-

NOTE H - SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY

Common Stock - During the year ended March 31, 2007, the Company issued 217,203 shares of its common stock, all of which were issued on the exercise of employee stock options for total proceeds of $585,658.

Stock Options - Under terms of the Company's 1978 Non-Qualified Stock Option Plan, as amended, 877,777 shares of common stock are reserved for the granting of stock options, of which 873,545 shares have been issued as of March 31, 2007, leaving 4,232 available for issuance upon exercise of options granted, or available for future grants to employees and directors. Under provisions of the Plan, a committee of the Board of Directors determines the option price and the dates exercisable. All options expire five years from the date of grant and have an exercise price at least equal to the market price at the date of grant. The options usually vest at 25% a year over four years. Share amounts have been retroactively adjusted to reflect the 4-for-3 stock dividend paid on October 16, 2006 to shareholders of record on September 25, 2006.

The following tables summarize the status of options under the Non-Qualified Stock Option Plan at March 31, 2007 and option transactions for the three years then ended:

Status as of March 31, 2007		Number of Shares
Presently exercisable		93,998

	102,441			93,998

The fair value of each stock option is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions in 2006 and 2005; no annual dividends, expected volatility of 36% and 45%, respectively, risk-free interest rate ranging from 4.0% to 6.5% and expected lives of five years. The weighted-average fair values of the stock options granted in 2006 and 2005 were $8.29 and $6.47 per share, respectively.

The Black-Scholes option valuation model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. In addition, option valuation models require the input of highly subjective assumptions including the expected stock price volatility. Because the Company's employee stock options have characteristics significantly different from those of normal publicly traded options, and because changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, in management's opinion, the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of its stock options.

NOTE I - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

On June 10, 2003, Leviton Manufacturing Co., Inc. ("Leviton") filed a civil suit against the Company and its USI Electric subsidiary in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland (Case No. 03cv1701), alleging that the Company's GFCI units infringe one or more of Leviton's six patents for reset lockout technology related to but not required by UL Standard 943 for GFCI units, effective January 2003. Leviton also asserted trade dress and unfair competition claims. In May 2006, Leviton and the Company settled the trade dress/deceptive trade practice claims of the action, all subject to a confidentiality agreement. The settlement did not cover the patent infringement claims. In January 2006, the Company was granted summary judgment on the infringement claims and Leviton appealed that judgment and dismissal. On January 10, 2007, the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit issued a decision affirming the lower court's summary judgment and dismissal of Leviton's patent infringement claims. As a result of this decision, the Company obtained a successful outcome and the entirety of this suit by Leviton is now concluded.

On March 31, 2005, Leviton filed another lawsuit (Case No. 05cv0889) in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland against the Company. In this suit, Leviton alleges that the Company's GFCI units infringe on US Patent 6,864,766. The Company has filed a counterclaim against Leviton and the case has been consolidated with a declaratory judgment action filed by the GFCI manufacturer, Shanghai Meihao Electric, Inc. Discovery is now concluded. The Company believes that it has strong defenses relating to the patent in suit. In the event of an unfavorable outcome, the amount of any potential loss to the Company is not determinable at this time.

On June 11, 2003, Walter Kidde Portable Equipment, Inc. ("Kidde") filed a civil suit against the Company in the United States District Court for the Middle District of North Carolina (Case No. 03cv00537), alleging that certain of the Company's AC powered/battery backup smoke detectors infringe on a patent acquired by Kidde. Kidde is seeking injunctive relief and damages to be determined at trial. On March 31, 2006, following numerous procedural and substantive rulings which the Company believes were favorable to the Company, Kidde obtained dismissal, without prejudice, of its suit. On November 28, 2005, prior to the March 31, 2006 dismissal of the original suit, Kidde filed a second lawsuit based on virtually identical infringement allegations as the earlier case. Because, the court dismissed the first case without conditions and without prejudice, the Company has appealed the dismissal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, believing that at a minimum, procedurally, conditions should have been imposed. On March 2, 2007, the appellate court affirmed the lower court's dismissal of the first case, and the second case is now in the preliminary stages. Although some aspects of the case are more complicated, the Company's substantive position and its defenses to Kidde's claims on most issues are substantially the same as the first Kidde case. The Company and its counsel believe that the Company has significant defenses relating to the patent in suit. In the event of an unfavorable outcome, the amount of any potential loss to the Company is not yet determinable.

On October 13, 2003, Maple Chase Company filed a civil suit in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois (Case No. 03cv07205), against the Company, its USI Electric subsidiary, and one former and one present Illinois-based sales representative, alleging that certain of the Company's smoke detectors infringe on a patent owned by Maple Chase (US Reissue Patent No. Re: 33290). On April 11, 2005, this action was dismissed pending the outcome of a reexamination in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). In April 2006, the USPTO rejected most of the claims in the patent. Maple Chase filed a substantive response which resulted in issuance of a further Official Action from the USPTO. After considering Maple Chase's arguments, on September 29, 2006 the USPTO issued a further action confirming the patentability of many of the claims at issue and rejecting others. On October 30, 2006, Maple Chase filed a further response canceling the rejected claims. On December 19, 2006, the USPTO issued a formal notice of intent to issue a re-examination certificate for the Maple Chase Company patent on which the patent infringement suit was filed. In March 2007, the full term of the patent was reached and no Re-examination Certificate has been issued by the USPTO. Under the U.S. patent laws, a patent owner may still sue for damages for up to six years following expiration of a patent but may recover damages only for the period between six years prior to filing the suit and the date of the patent expiration. Therefore, Maple Chase may still file suit for damages and the amount of potential loss to the Company, if any, is not yet determinable but declining daily. The Company believes that it has meritorious and substantial technical defenses to any action that might be filed against it by Maple Chase. The Company also believes that it is entitled to a number of legal and equitable defenses due to the long period of inaction and acquiescence by Maple Chase (and its predecessors).

From time to time, the Company is involved in various lawsuits and legal matters. It is the opinion of management, based on the advice of legal counsel, that these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial statements.

NOTE J - MAJOR CUSTOMERS

The Company is primarily a distributor of safety products for use in home and business under both its tradenames and private labels for other companies. As described in Note C, the Company's purchased a majority of its products from its 50% owned Hong Kong Joint Venture.

The Company has one customer, The Home Depot, which represented 11.09% of the Company's product sales during the period ended March 31, 2007 and no customers that represented in excess of 10% of the Company's product sales for the years ended March 31, 2006 and 2005.

This change in net income per share - diluted is as a result of implementation by the Company of FAS 123R.

NOTE L - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Financing: On June 22, 2007, the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, USI Electric, Inc. ("USI Electric"), each entered into: (i) an Amended and Restated Factoring Agreement (the "CIT Factoring Agreement") with the CIT Group/Commercial Services, Inc. ("CIT") and (ii) an Amended and Restated Inventory Security Agreement (the "CIT Inventory Agreement") with CIT. Simultaneously, the Company's indirect majority-owned Canadian subsidiary, International Conduits Ltd. ("Icon"), entered into a Credit Agreement (the "CIT Canada Credit Agreement") with CIT Financial Ltd. ("Cit Canada").

Under the terms of the CIT Factoring Agreement, the Company and USI Electric collectively may borrow, on a revolving basis, up to the lesser of (i) $10 million or (ii) the aggregate of the value of (a) 85% of the Company and USI Electric's total accounts receivable purchased by CIT and (b) 50% of the Company and USI Electric's total eligible inventory. The floating interest rate under the Factoring Agreement, on the uncollected factored accounts receivable and any additional borrowings is either 0.25% below the JPMorgan Chase Bank prime rate or 2.0% above LIBOR, at the Company's option. The obligations of the Company and USI Electric under the CIT Factoring Agreement are secured by all of the assets of the Company and USI Electric, and are guaranteed by Icon and the Company's wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary (which owns a majority interest in Icon).

Under the terms of the CIT Canada Credit Agreement, Icon will borrow U.S. $3 million as a three-year term loan, and may borrow, on a revolving basis, up to the lesser of (i) U.S. $7 million or (ii) the aggregate of the value of (a) 85% of Icon's eligible accounts receivable and (b) 50% of Icon's eligible inventory. The floating interest rate under the CIT Canada Credit Agreement is the Canadian prime rate. The obligations of Icon under the CIT Canada Credit Agreement are secured by all of the assets of Icon, and are guaranteed by the Company and USI Electric. The CIT Canada Credit Agreement expires on June 23, 2010.

NOTE M - RETIREMENT PLAN

The Company has a retirement savings plan under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. All full-time employees who have completed 12 months of service are eligible to participate. Employees are permitted to contribute up to the amounts prescribed by law. The Company may provide contributions to the plan consisting of a matching amount equal to a percentage of the employee's contribution, not to exceed four percent (4%). Employer contributions were $54,689 and $43,000 for the years ended March 31, 2007 and 2006.

Independent auditors' report

To the members of Eyston Company Limited
(incorporated in Hong Kong with limited liability)

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Eyston Company Limited (the "company") set out on pages 7 to 39, which comprise the consolidated and company balance sheets as at 31 March 2007, and the consolidated income statement, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated cash flow statement for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes.

Directors' responsibility for the financial statements

The directors of the company are responsible for the preparation and the true and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. This responsibility includes designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and the true and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditors' responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit and to report our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with section 141 of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance as to whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditors consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and true and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the group as at 31 March 2007 and of the group's profit and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards and have been properly prepared in accordance with the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Notes to the financial statements
for the year ended 31 March 2007

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

The company is a limited liability company incorporated and domiciled in Hong Kong. The address of the company's registered office and principal place of business is B2, 3/F., Fortune Factory Building, 40 Lee Chung Street, Chai Wan, Hong Kong.

The principal activities of the company and its subsidiaries (the "group") are manufacturing and trading of consumer electronic products including smoke, fire and carbon monoxide alarms and other home safety products. Details of the company's subsidiaries are set out in note 15 to the financial statements.

The financial statements on pages 7 to 39 have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRSs") which collective term includes all applicable individual Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and the requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

The financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2007 were approved for issue by the board of directors on 22 June 2007.

2. ADOPTION OF NEW OR AMENDED HKFRS

From 1 April 2006, the group has adopted all of the new or amended HKFRSs which are first effective on 1 April 2006 and which are relevant to the group. The adoption of these HKFRSs did not result in any significant changes in the group's accounting policies.

2. ADOPTION OF NEW OR AMENDED HKFRS (Continued)

2.1 New or amended HKFRSs that have been issued but are not yet effective

The group has not early adopted the following HKFRSs that have been issued but are not yet effective. The directors of the company anticipate that the adoption of such HKFRSs will not result in a material financial impact on the group's financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Basis of preparation

The significant accounting policies that have been used in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are summarised below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented unless otherwise stated.

The financial statements have been prepared on an historical cost basis except for the revaluation of certain financial assets and liabilities. The measurement bases are fully described in the accounting policies below.

It should be noted that accounting estimates and assumptions are used in preparation of the financial statements. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge and judgment of current events and actions, actual results may ultimately differ from those estimates. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in note 4.

3.2 Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the company and its subsidiaries made up to 31 March each year.

3.3 Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are those entities (including special purpose entities) over which the group has the power to control the financial and operating policies so as to obtain benefits from their activities. The existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible are considered when assessing whether the group controls another entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the group. They are excluded from consolidation from the date that control ceases.

Business combinations (other than for combining entities under common control) are accounted for by applying the purchase method. This involves the revaluation at fair value of all identifiable assets and liabilities, including contingent liabilities of the subsidiary, at the acquisition date, regardless of whether or not they were recorded in the financial statements of the subsidiary prior to acquisition. On initial recognition, the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary are included in the consolidated balance sheet at their fair values, which are also used as the bases for subsequent measurement in accordance with the group's accounting policies.

Intra-group transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

In the company's balance sheet, subsidiaries are carried at cost less any impairment loss. The results of the subsidiaries are accounted for by the company on the basis of dividends received and receivable at the balance sheet date.

3.4 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the group and company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the income statement during the period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost of property, plant and equipment over their estimated useful lives, using the straight line method, at the following rates per annum :

Buildings	5% or where shorter over 16 - 19 years
Leasehold improvements	20%
Plant and machinery	10%
Furniture and fixtures	20%
Motor vehicles	20%
Computer equipment and software	50%

Construction in progress represents costs incurred in the construction of buildings. These costs are not depreciated until such time as the relevant assets are completed and put into use, at which time the relevant costs are transferred to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment.

The assets' useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

3.4 Property, plant and equipment (Continued)

The gain or loss arising on the retirement or disposal is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Subsequent costs are included in the assets' carrying amounts or recognized as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the items will flow to the group and the cost of the items can be measured reliably. All other costs, such as repairs and maintenance, are expensed in the consolidated income statement during the period in which they are incurred.

3.5 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials computed using first-in, first-out method and, where applicable, direct labour and those overheads that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realisable value is calculated as the actual or estimated selling price less all further costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

3.6 Financial assets

The financial assets include available-for-sale financial assets, trade and other receivables, bills receivable, and amounts due from group companies.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Loans and receivables are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any impairment. Any changes in their value are recognised in income statement.

Loans and receivables are provided against when objective evidence is received that the group will not be able to collect all amounts due to it in accordance with the original terms of the receivables. The amount of the impairment is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of expected cash flows, discounted at the effective interest rate.

Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets include non-derivative financial assets that are either designated to this category or do not qualify for inclusion in any of the other categories of financial assets. All financial assets within this category are subsequently measured at fair value, with changes in value recognised in equity (i.e. fair value reserve). Upon disposal, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in equity is transferred to the income statement. When a decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale financial asset has been recognised directly in equity and there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired, the cumulative loss that had been recognised directly in equity is removed from equity and recognised in the income statement even though the financial asset has not been derecognised. Impairment losses previously recognised in the income statement on equity instruments will not reverse in subsequent periods. Impairment losses previously recognised in income statement are subsequently reversed if an increase in the fair value of the investment can be objectively related to an event occurring after the recognition of the impairment loss.

Derecognition of financial assets occurs when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments expire or are transferred and substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred. An assessment for impairment is undertaken at least at each balance sheet date whether or not there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

3.7 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank and in hand.

3.8 Impairment of assets

The group's property, plant and equipment and the company's investments in subsidiaries are subject to impairment testing.

An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs to sell, and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessment of the time value of money and the risk specific to the asset.

For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). As a result, some assets are tested individually for impairment and some are tested at the cash-generating unit level.

All individual assets or cash-generating units are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's or cash-generating unit's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs to sell and value in use, based on an internal discounted cash flow evaluation. Any impairment loss is charged pro rata to the assets in the cash generating unit.

An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount and only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment had been recognised.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

3.9 Financial liabilities

The financial liabilities include trade and other payables, amounts due to group and related companies and borrowings.

Financial liabilities are recognised when the group or the company becomes a party to the contractual agreements of the instrument. All interest related charges are recognised as an expense in the income statement.

Trade and other payables and amounts due to group and related companies are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the income statement over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

3.10 Employee benefits

Retirement benefits costs

The company operates a defined contribution Mandatory Provident Fund retirement benefits scheme (the "MPF Scheme") under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance, for all of its employees in Hong Kong. The MPF Scheme became effective on 1 December 2000. Contributions are made based on a percentage of the employees' basic salaries, limited to a maximum of HK$1,000 per month, and are charged to the income statement as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme. The assets of the MPF Scheme are held separately from those of the company in an independently administered fund. The company's employer contributions vest fully with the employees when contributed into the MPF Scheme.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

3.11 Equity

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Share capital is determined using the nominal value of shares that have been issued.

The transaction costs of an equity transaction are accounted for as deduction from equity (net of any related income tax benefits) to the extent they are incremental cost directly attributable to the equity transaction that otherwise would have been avoided. The cost of an equity transaction that is abandoned are recognised as an expense.

3.12 Foreign currency translation

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Hong Kong Dollars (HK$), which is also the functional currency of the company.

In the individual financial statements of the consolidated entities, foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency of the individual entity using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the balance sheet date, monetary assets are liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates ruling at the balance sheet date. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the balance sheet date retranslation of monetary assets and liabilities are recognised in the income statement.

Non-monetary items are carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined and are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not re-translated.

In the consolidated financial statements, all individual financial statements of foreign operations, originally presented in a currency different from the group’s presentation currency, have been converted into Hong Kong dollars. Assets and liabilities have been translated into Hong Kong dollars at the closing rate at the balance sheet date. Income and expenses have been converted into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates, or at the average rates over the reporting period, provided that the exchange rates do not fluctuate significantly. Any differences arising from this procedure have been dealt with separately in the exchange reserve in equity.

JV-16

3.12 Foreign currency translation (Continued)

Other exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign entities and of borrowings are taken to shareholders' equity. When a foreign operation is sold, such exchange differences are recognized in the income statement as part of the gain or loss on the sale.

3.13 Accounting for income taxes

Income tax comprises current tax and deferred tax.

Current income tax assets and/or liabilities comprise those obligations to, or claims from, tax authorities relating to the current or prior reporting period, that are unpaid at the balance sheet date. They are calculated according to the tax rates and tax laws applicable to the periods to which they relate, based on the taxable profit for the year. All changes to current tax assets or liabilities are recognised as a component of income tax expense in the income statement.

Deferred tax is calculated using the liability method on temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements with their respective tax bases. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, tax losses available to be carried forward as well as other unused tax credits, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised.

Deferred tax is calculated, without discounting, at tax rates that are expected to apply in the period the liability is settled or the asset realised, provided they are enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognised in the income statement, or in equity if they relate to items that are charged or credited directly to equity.

3.14 Leases

Leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis. Affiliated costs, such as maintenance and insurance, are expensed as incurred. Contingent rentals are charged to the income statement in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

3.15 Recognition of revenue

Revenue comprises the fair value for the sale of goods, rendering of services and the use by others of the group's assets yielding interest, net of rebates and discounts. Provided it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the group and the revenue and costs, if applicable, can be measured reliably, revenue is recognised as follows :

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been transferred to customers. This is usually taken as the time when the goods are delivered and the customer has accepted the goods.

Rental income from properties letting under operating leases is recognised on a straight line basis over the lease terms.

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis using the effective interest rate method.

3.16 Related parties

Parties are considered to be related to the group if :

(i) directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, the party :

· controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the group;

· has an interest in the group that gives it significant influence over the group;

· has joint control over the group;

(ii) the party is a jointly-controlled entity;

(iii) the party is an associate;

(iv) the party is a member of the key management personnel of the group or its parent;

(v) the party is a close member of the family of any individual referred to in (i) or (iv);

(vi) the party is an entity that is controlled, jointly-controlled or significantly influenced by or for which significant voting power in such entity resides with, directly or indirectly, any individual referred to in (iv) or (v); or

(vii) the party is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of the group, or of any entity that is a related party of the group.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

3.17 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the group. It can also be a present obligation arising from past events that is not recognised because it is not probable that outflow of economic resources will be required or the amount of obligation cannot be measured reliably.

A contingent liability is not recognised but is disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. When a change in the probability of an outflow occurs so that the outflow is probable, it will then be recognised as a provision.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below :

Depreciation and amortisation

The group and company depreciated the property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives, starting from the date on which the assets are placed into productive use. The estimated useful lives reflect the directors' estimate of the periods that the group intends to derive future economic benefits from the use of the group's and company's property, plant and equipment.

Impairment of receivables

The policy for the impairment of receivables of the group is based on the evaluation of collectibility and ageing analysis of accounts and on the management's judgement. A considerable amount of judgement is required in assessing the ultimate realisation of these receivables, including the current creditworthiness and the past collection history of each debtor.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS (Continued)

Net realisable value of inventories

Net realisable value of inventories is the actual or estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less further costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. These estimates are based on the current market condition and the historical experience of selling products of similar nature. It could change significantly as a result of competitor actions in response to the changes in market condition. Management reassess these estimations at the balance sheet date.

Current taxation and deferred taxation

The group is subject to income taxes in Hong Kong and the People's Republic of China ("PRC"). Significant judgement is required in determining the amount of the provision of taxation and the timing of payment of the related taxations. There are many transactions and calculations for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

5. TURNOVER

Revenue, which is also the group's turnover, represents total invoiced value of goods supplied, less discounts and returns.

30. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The current and prior years' tax provisions have been prepared on the basis that the management fees and bonuses are deductible in the determination of the assessable profits of the company and the company is entitled to the offshore claims. During the year ended 31 March 2006, the company received enquiries from the Hong Kong Inland Revenue Department regarding these deductions and offshore claims. As at the date of approval of these financial statements, the outcome of the enquiries is uncertain. In the opinion of the directors, no provision for additional taxes is required. The total contingent tax exposures to the group and company in respect of the deductions and offshore claims are estimated to be approximately HK$3.8 million and HK$14.8 million, respectively.

Save as disclosed above, the group and company have no contingent liabilities at 31 March 2007.

34. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The group's major financial assets and liabilities include bank balances and cash, available-for-sale financial assets, trade receivables and payables. Details of these financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments and the policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

(a) Interest rate risk

The group does not have any significant exposure to interest rate risk as the group currently has no financial assets and liabilities with floating interest rates.

34. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (Continued)

(b) Foreign currency risk

The group mainly operates in China and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to the US dollar and Reminibi ("RMB"). The HK dollar is pegged to the US dollar at an exchange rate of approximately 7.8, the foreign exchange exposure between US dollar and HK dollar is therefore minimal. For assets and transactions denominated in RMB, the group is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from the exposure of the RMB against the HK dollar. The group manages its foreign exchange risk by actively monitoring its foreign currency transactions.

(c) Credit risks

The group's bank balances are all deposited with major banks in Hong Kong and the PRC.

The carrying amount of trade and other receivables represent the group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to its financial assets. No other financial assets carry a significant exposure to credit risk. The group's trade and other receivables are actively monitored to avoid significant concentrations of credit risk.

(d) Fair values

The fair values of the group's current financial assets and liabilities are not materially different from their carrying amounts because of the immediate or short term maturity of these financial instruments.

35. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Subsequent to the balance sheet date, a subsidiary of the company has entered into a factory construction agreement representing a total commitment of HK$8,480,000.
