The Value Line Fund, Inc.

To Our Value Line

To Our Shareholders: (unaudited)

Enclosed is your annual report for the period ended December 31, 2009. We encourage you to carefully review this report, which includes economic observations, your Fund's performance data and highlights, the schedule of investments, and financial statements.

The Value Line Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") earned a total return of 9.49% in 2009. That compared with a total return of 26.46% for the benchmark, the Standard & Poor's 500 Index(1). The Fund was too heavily weighted in defensive holdings, the more stable stocks that are less sensitive to shifts in the economy, most notably in the healthcare sector. When cyclical and more-volatile stocks led the market's sharp rebound, the portfolio's defensive holdings could not keep pace.

We have recently taken steps to improve the performance of the Value Line Fund. First, we broadened the Fund's stock selection universe. Rather than mechanically invest only in the weekly list of stocks in the top one hundred Rank 1's of the Value Line Timeliness Ranking System, the portfolio manager now selects investments from among the 1,250 or so stocks in the top three Ranks. This allows greater diversification of the portfolio, reducing exposure to any single economic sector. It also results in decreased turnover of portfolio holdings, which lowers trading expenses. Second, we appointed senior portfolio manager Stephen E. Grant to actively manage the Fund. In his 24 years with Value Line, Inc. Mr. Grant has demonstrated widely recognized success with our other equity funds.

The Fund's newly expanded stock selection criteria allow us to implement our disciplined investment strategy to full advantage. We invest in proven winners—those companies that have established five to ten year records of superior relative earnings growth and stock price growth. We also look for companies demonstrating strong short-term, quarter-to-quarter, relative earnings momentum and stock price momentum. If a holding later falters on these measures, we do not hesitate to replace it with a stock showing superior strength.

The Fund invests in companies of all sizes. Its approximately 150 holdings are well diversified in that respect, comprised of about 30% large-capitalization companies, 40% mid cap and 30% small cap.

Thank you for investing with us.

Sincerely,

-s- Mitchell Appel
Mitchell Appel, President

Economic Observations (unaudited)

The recession, which commenced in the latter stages of 2007 and proved to be long and severe, most likely ended in the third quarter of last year, although the National Bureau of Economic Research, which assigns dates to the beginning and end of recessions, has yet to determine the exact conclusion of the recent downturn. In all, the business contraction—which produced a succession of quarterly declines in the nation’s gross domestic product along with countless additional upheavals—apparently concluded with the restoration of a modest 2.2% rise in GDP in the third quarter of 2009. The nascent up cycle was underpinned initially by strengthening consumer spending, lesser declines in housing construction and home sales (with that ailing sector boosted by government assistance for first-time home buyers), and an irregular comeback in business spending.

Going forward, the upturn should be supported by further, but uneven, improvement in consumer and industrial activity. It is worth noting that the prospective rate of GDP growth in the year upcoming should be, at an estimated 2.5%-3.0%, well below the historical norm of 3%-4%. The problem is that there is just too much overall weakness in certain critical sectors—notably housing and employment—to generate the greater levels of consumer spending needed for significantly higher levels of economic growth, in our opinion.

The long and painful recession was traceable to several events, beginning with sharp declines in housing construction, home sales, and real estate prices. We also experienced a large reduction in credit availability, a high level of bank failures, increasing foreclosures and bank repossessions, a multi-decade high in unemployment, weak retail activity, and trendless manufacturing. Unfortunately, several of these problems are likely to stay with us for some time—notably the weakness in housing and employment. Such continuing difficulties underscore why we expect below-trend rates of U.S. GDP growth through 2010. Encouragingly, though, most business barometers are now either stabilizing or improving selectively. It is much the same overseas, where severe business declines had been seen earlier across Europe and Asia. Those prior setbacks, which generally got under way several months after our own reversal commenced, have also largely run their course. Following this initially moderate business recovery state-side, we would look for sufficient brightening in housing and employment to help underpin a more substantial economic recovery in 2011 and through the middle years of the next decade. By then, in fact, we would expect GDP growth to average a fairly sustainable 3.0%-3.5%.

Inflation, which moved up sharply last year, following dramatic gains in oil, food, and commodity prices, has moved onto a more irregular path recently. Going forward, we expect pricing to chart an uneven path, with further up-and-down swings in oil and commodities being the norm, as the economy’s expansion matures. On average, we think that pricing will increase less sharply over the next year or two than it did before the 2007-2009 recession. Looking further out, we expect pricing pressures to evolve later on in the business up cycle—as is only natural, as demand for labor and materials increases. The Federal Reserve, meanwhile, continues to express support for an accommodative monetary approach. As a result, we believe that it is unlikely to start raising interest rates until well into 2010, and to do so rather gently once it does finally opt to tighten the credit reins. Clearly, the risks to the sustainability of the economic up cycle appear too great for the Fed to consider tightening aggressively anytime soon.

Overall, we see a comparatively benign period ahead for the equity and fixed-income markets over the next year or so.

FUND EXPENSES (unaudited):

Example

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and service (12b-1) fees, and other Fund expenses. This Example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period (July 1, 2009 through December 31, 2009).

Actual Expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading “Expenses Paid During Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

	Beginning account value 7/1/09	Ending account value 12/31/09	Expenses paid during period 7/1/09 thru 12/31/09*
Actual	$ 1,000.00	$ 1,144.54	$ 5.44
Hypothetical (5% return before expenses)	$ 1,000.00	$ 1,020.13	$ 5.13

* Expenses are equal to the Fund’s annualized expense ratio of 1.01% multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 to reflect the one-half year period. This expense ratio may differ from the expense ratio shown in the Financial Highlights.

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Significant Accounting Policies

The Value Line Fund, Inc., (the “Fund”) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a diversified, open-end management investment company whose primary investment objective is long term-growth of capital.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

(A) Security Valuation: Securities listed on a securities exchange are valued at the closing sales prices on the date as of which the net asset value is being determined. Securities traded on the NASDAQ Stock Market are valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. In the absence of closing sales prices for such securities and for securities traded in the over-the-counter market, the security is valued at the midpoint between the latest available and representative asked and bid prices. Short-term instruments with maturities of 60 days or less at the date of purchase are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Short-term instruments with maturities greater than 60 days at the date of purchase are valued at the midpoint between the latest available and representative asked and bid prices, and commencing 60 days prior to maturity such securities are valued at amortized cost. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available or that are not readily marketable and all other assets of the Fund are valued at fair value as the Board of Directors may determine in good faith. In addition, the Fund may use the fair value of a security when the closing market price on the primary exchange where the security is traded no longer accurately reflects the value of a security due to factors affecting one or more relevant securities markets or the specific issuer.

(B) Fair Value Measurements: In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification (FASB ASC) 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, (formerly Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 157), the Fund discloses the fair value of its investments in a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure the fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to valuations based upon unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to valuations based upon unobservable inputs that are significant to the valuation (level 3 measurements). FASB ASC 820-10-35-39 to 55 provides three levels of the fair value hierarchy as follows:

- Level 1 - Inputs that reflect unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly, including inputs in markets that are not considered to be active;
- Level 3 - Inputs that are unobservable.

In 2009, the Fund adopted the authoritative guidance included in FASB ASC 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, on determining fair value when the volume and level of activity for the asset or liability have significantly decreased and identifying transactions that are not orderly (formerly FSP FAS 157-4). FASB ASC 820-10-35-51A to 51H indicates that if an entity determines that either the volume and/or level of activity for an asset or liability has significantly decreased (from normal conditions for that asset or liability) or price quotations or observable inputs are not associated with orderly transactions, increased analysis and management judgment will be required to estimate fair value. Valuation techniques such as an income approach might be appropriate to supplement or replace a market approach in those circumstances. It provides a list of factors to determine whether there has been a significant decrease in relation to normal market activity. Regardless, however, of the valuation technique and inputs used, the objective for the fair value measurement in those circumstances is unchanged from what it would be if markets were operating at normal activity levels and/or transactions were orderly; that is, to determine the current exit price as promulgated by FASB ASC 820-10.

The Value Line Fund, Inc.

December 31, 2009

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of December 31, 2009 in valuing the Fund's investments carried at value:

Investments in Securities:	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Assets Common Stocks	$ 84,334,932	$ 0	$ 0	$ 84,334,932
Short Term Investments	0	7,999,386	0	7,999,386
Total Investments in Securities	$ 84,334,932	$ 7,999,386	$ 0	$ 92,334,318

For the year ended December 31, 2009, there were no Level 3 investments. The types of inputs used to value each security are identified in the Schedule of Investments, which also includes a breakdown of the Schedule's investments by category.

(C) Repurchase Agreements: In connection with transactions in repurchase agreements, the Fund's custodian takes possession of the underlying collateral securities, the value of which exceeds the principal amount of the repurchase transaction, including accrued interest. To the extent that any repurchase transaction exceeds one business day, it is the Fund's policy to mark-to-market the collateral on a daily basis to ensure the adequacy of the collateral. In the event of default of the obligation to repurchase, the Fund has the right to liquidate the collateral and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the obligation. Under certain circumstances, in the event of default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreement, realization and/or retention of the collateral or proceeds may be subject to legal proceedings.

(D) Federal Income Taxes: It is the Fund's policy to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies, including the distribution requirements of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

(E) Security Transactions and Distributions: Security transactions are accounted for on the date the securities are purchased or sold. Interest income is accrued as earned. Realized gains and losses on sales of securities are calculated for financial accounting and federal income tax purposes on the identified cost basis. Dividend income and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles.

(F) Foreign Currency Translation: The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Assets and liabilities which are denominated in foreign currencies are translated to U.S. dollars at the prevailing rates of exchange. The Fund does not isolate changes in the value of investments caused by foreign exchange rate differences from the changes due to other circumstances.

Income and expenses are translated to U.S. dollars based upon the rates of exchange on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Value Line Fund, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements

Net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from currency fluctuations realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, the differences between the U.S. dollar amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded by the Fund, and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities, other than investments, at the end of the fiscal period, resulting from changes in the exchange rates. The effect of the change in foreign exchange rates on the value of investments is included in realized gain/loss on investments and change in net unrealized appreciation/ depreciation on investments.

(G) Representations and Indemnifications: In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties which provide general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

(H) Foreign Taxes: The Fund may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments, or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable, based upon its current interpretation of tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which it invests.

(I) Other: On November 4, 2009, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and Value Line, Inc. ("VLI"), Value Line Securities, Inc. (currently, EULAV Securities, Inc. ("ESI" or the "Distributor")), Jean B. Buttner, former Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of VLI and David Henigson, a former Director and Officer of VLI, settled a matter related to brokerage commissions charged by ESI to certain Value Line mutual funds ("Funds"), including the Fund, from 1986 through November of 2004. The matter also involved alleged misleading disclosures provided by VLI to the Boards of Directors/Trustees and shareholders of the Funds regarding such brokerage commissions. VLI agreed to pay disgorgement in the amount of $24,168,979 (representing disgorgement of commissions received), prejudgment interest of $9,536,786, and a civil penalty in the amount of $10,000,000. Also as part of the settlement, Mrs. Buttner and Mr. Henigson each agreed to pay a civil penalty, are barred from association with any broker, dealer or investment adviser, and are prohibited from serving as an employee, officer, director, member of an advisory board, investment adviser or depositor of, or principal underwriter for, a registered investment company or affiliated person of such investment adviser, depositor, or principal underwriter, subject to a limited exception (limited in scope and for a one-year period) for Mrs. Buttner. Pursuant to Section 308(a) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, a fund will be created for VLI's disgorgement, interest and penalty ("Fair Fund"). VLI will bear all costs associated with any Fair Fund distribution, including retaining a third-party consultant approved by the SEC staff to administer any Fair Fund distribution. VLI informed the Funds' Boards that it has paid the settlement, continues to have adequate liquid assets, and that the resolution of this matter will not have a materially adverse effect on the ability of EULAV Asset Management LLC ("EULAV" or the "Adviser"), the Funds' investment adviser, or ESI, the Funds' distributor, to perform their respective contracts with the Funds.

(J) Subsequent Events: Management has evaluated all subsequent transactions and events after the balance sheet date through February 26, 2010, the date on which these financial statements were issued, and except as already included in the notes to these financial statements, has determined that no additional items require disclosure.

4. Income Taxes

At December 31, 2009, information on the tax components of capital is as follows:

Cost of investments for tax purposes	$ 74,122,756
Gross tax unrealized appreciation	$ 18,889,908
Gross tax unrealized depreciation	$ (678,346)
Net tax unrealized appreciation on investments	$ 18,211,562
Capital loss carryforward, expires
December 31, 2016	$ (37,251,300)
December 31, 2017	$ (41,718,189)

During the year ended December 31, 2009, as permitted under federal income tax regulations, the Fund elected to defer $11 of post-October net currency losses to the next taxable year.

To the extent that current or future capital gains are offset by capital losses, the Fund does not anticipate distributing any such gains to shareholders.

It is uncertain whether the Fund will be able to realize the benefits of the losses before they expire.

The differences between book basis and tax basis unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) on investments were primarily attributed to wash sales.

Permanent book-tax differences relating to the current year were reclassified within the composition of the net asset accounts. The Fund increased undistributed net investment income by approximately $188,933, increased accumulated realized loss by approximately $95, and decreased additional paid-in-capital by $188,838. These reclassifications were primarily due to differing treatments of net operating losses, foreign currency translation for tax purposes and investments in partnerships.

(the “Distributor”), for advertising, marketing and distributing the Fund’s shares and for servicing the Fund’s shareholders at an annual rate of 0.25% of the Fund’s average daily net assets.
