TRAFFIC AND CAPACITY STATISTICS - March 2006

Summary of the headline figures

In March 2006, passenger capacity, measured in Available Seat Kilometres, was 2.5 per cent above March 2005. Traffic, measured in Revenue Passenger Kilometres, was higher by 1.8 per cent. This resulted in a passenger load factor down 0.5 points versus last year, to 75.2 per cent. The increase in traffic comprised a 15 per cent increase in premium traffic and a 0.4 per cent decrease in non-premium traffic. Cargo, measured in Cargo Tonne Kilometres, rose by 3.5 per cent. Overall load factor fell by 0.2 points to 70.5 per cent.

The timing of Easter this year has benefited premium volumes and reduced non-premium volumes in March. This effect will reverse next month

Edgar Filing: BRITISH AIRWAYS PLC - Form 6-K

For the January to March quarter, ASKs rose by 2.8 per cent, with RPKs rising by 2.9 per cent. This resulted in an increase in passenger load factor of 0.1 points, to 73.1 per cent. This comprised a 10.1 per cent increase in premium traffic and a 1.6 per cent increase in non-premium traffic. CTks rose by 0.9 per cent.

Market conditions

Market conditions remain broadly unchanged as significant promotional activity is required to maintain seat factors.

Strategic Developments

The company announced a proposal to clear the GBP1 billion past service actuarial deficit in its New Airways Pension Scheme (NAPS). The proposal is based on a final salary pension scheme with no changes to past service benefits or staff contribution rates but with changes to members' future benefits. The airline will make a payment of GBP500 million into NAPS after the changes are accepted.

The airline announced its two year business plan to March 2008 to drive down costs and strengthen customer service. It is targeting a GBP450 million reduction in costs with GBP225 to be delivered in each year. It also included investment of nearly GBP200 million in new products.

BA announced the restructure of parts of its UK direct sales operations with the proposed closure of British Airways' Travel Shops and the airline's Belfast based customer call centre by August 2006. The move comes in response to changing customer behaviour and increased sales on its ba.com website.

The summer 2006 schedule was announced with British Airways' first ever flights to Tirana in Albania and Varna on Bulgaria's Black Sea coast. Four other new destinations from London Gatwick airport include Reykjavik in Iceland, Izmir in Turkey, Kiev in the Ukraine and Athens, Greece.

The airline announced a series of service enhancements to be introduced ahead of its move into Heathrow airport's Terminal 5. The first change will be launched from April 25, when the airline introduces self-service check-in for all customers travelling on UK domestic flights.

Customers planning to visit the United States from March 7 are being urged to input relevant data on ba.com or via their travel agent to comply with the new Advanced Passenger Information (API), introduced for all passengers flying to the US.
