Gold Fields moves its frustrating legal action to the United States

Harmony notes the announcement by Gold Fields Limited (Gold Fields) on 5 November 2004 that legal action has been launched against Harmony in the United States District Court, Southern District of New York.

This should be seen in the context of Gold Fields' numerous other attempts to exploit regulatory and legal manoeuvring to distract from the substantive issues which should be put before shareholders. It is clear to Harmony that all of these frustrating legal actions form a strategy by Gold Fields' board and management to divert attention from their value-destroying IAMGold Corporation, Inc. proposal and to prevent Gold Fields' shareholders from exercising their rights to consider a valid offer.

Harmony believes that Gold Fields' action is without merit and will defend the action vigorously. At the same time, Harmony will make every effort to remind shareholders that the reason Harmony has made an offer for Gold Fields is because of the perceived inability of Gold Fields management to manage those assets as well as Harmony believes it can.

We have made premium offers to Gold Fields' shareholders. We believe that the application of the Harmony Way to the assets currently owned by Gold Fields will enhance shareholder value for both Gold Fields and Harmony shareholders, said Harmony CE, Bernard Swanepoel.

Harmony continues to have confidence that Gold Fields' shareholders will benefit from the value proposition embedded in its premium offers and remains determined to let the market be the final arbiter and to let the shareholders decide.
