Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

In February 2004, Repligen terminated the September 1999 License Agreement (the Licensing Agreement ) with ChiRhoClin, the supplier of SecreFlo, based on ChiRhoClin's alleged failure to meet its obligations under the Licensing Agreement.

In April 2004, Repligen filed an arbitration demand against ChiRhoClin with the American Arbitration Association in New York, New York. In this arbitration demand, Repligen alleged that ChiRhoClin breached several of its obligations under the Licensing Agreement including failure to use best efforts to obtain various FDA approvals and to manufacture and supply SecreFlo in a timely manner. In June 2004, ChiRhoClin filed a counterclaim alleging that Repligen had wrongfully terminated the Licensing Agreement.

On May 9, 2005, Repligen entered into a Settlement Agreement (the Agreement ) with ChiRhoClin, Inc., in full settlement of their arbitration proceedings described above. Under the terms of the Agreement, Repligen will receive a payment of $750,000 and will be entitled to continue to market SecreFlo for the next several years under a royalty structure more favorable to Repligen than under the Licensing Agreement. ChiRhoClin is obligated to deliver a certain amount of SecreFlo to Repligen over the next few years. After depletion of all supplies of SecreFlo, including those to be delivered under the Agreement, Repligen will cease marketing and selling SecreFlo. ChiRhoClin will pay Repligen a per unit royalty on all sales by ChiRhoClin of its secretin products subject to certain time and/or volume limits. Repligen is not required to pay approximately $1,200,000 of disputed royalties to ChiRhoClin related to sales from February 2004 to March 2005. This will be recorded as other income in the quarter ended June 30, 2005. Repligen has received security for ChiRhoClin's performance under the Agreement.
