Item 8.01. OTHER EVENTS

In October 2004, AMVAC Chemical Corporation (AMVAC), a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Vanguard Corporation, entered into a written Data Compensation Agreement with FMC Corporation (FMC) pursuant to which AMVAC paid FMC for the right to proceed with its bifenthrin products based upon FMC 's original bifenthrin EPA registrations. During the negotiations leading up to the signed Agreement, FMC was provided with complete copies of the labels that AMVAC intended to and is now using with its sales of bifenthrin products.

Subsequent to accepting payment from AMVAC under the Agreement, FMC filed copyright registrations for its bifenthrin labels and began making claims in the bifenthrin industry that all competitors (including AMVAC) are precluded from using its copyrighted labels. FMC 's position has caused uncertainty in the bifenthrin market.

In order to protect its rights under the Agreement and eliminate uncertainty in the market regarding AMVAC 's legitimate right to manufacture and sell its bifenthrin products, WISDOM TC and DISCIPLINE 2EC with its existing labels, AMVAC filed a civil action in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (Southern Division) against FMC titled AMVAC Chemical Corporation v. FMC Corporation [Case No. SACV 05-511 AHS (ANx)]. The civil action seeks, among other things, a declaratory judgment that AMVAC is authorized to sell its bifenthrin products with its existing labels. FMC later filed a civil action for copyright infringement in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania against AMVAC titled FMC Corporation v. AMVAC Chemical Corporation (Civil Action No. 05 cv 2593).
