Shea, each of whom is independent as defined by the rules of the National Association of Securities Dealers. Mr. Stone serves as chairman of the committee. The Board of Directors has adopted a written Audit Committee Charter, which was filed as Appendix A to the Company's 2003 Proxy Statement.

Management is responsible for the Company's financial statements, financial reporting process and systems of internal controls. The Company's independent auditors are responsible for performing an independent audit of the Company's financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States and for issuing a report thereon. The Committee's responsibility is to oversee all aspects of the financial reporting process on behalf of the Board of Directors. The responsibilities of the Committee also include engaging and evaluating the performance of the accounting firm that serves as the Company's independent auditors.

The Committee discussed with the Company's independent auditors, with and without management present, such auditors' judgments as to the quality, not just acceptability, of the Company's accounting principles, along with such additional matters required to be discussed under the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communication with Audit Committees. The Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the auditors' independence from the Company and its management, including the written disclosures and the letter submitted to the Committee by the independent auditors as required by the Independent Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees.

In reliance on such discussions with management and the independent auditors, review of the representations of management and review of the report of the independent auditors to the Committee, the Committee recommended (and the Board of Directors approved) that the Company's audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2004. The Committee and the Board of Directors have also, respectively, recommended and approved the selection of the Company's current independent auditors, which approval is subject to ratification by the Company's stockholders.

PROPOSAL 2

APPROVAL OF CONVERSION TERMS OF THE COMPANY'S

SERIES A CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK IN ACCORDANCE WITH

NASDAQ MARKETPLACE RULE 4350(i)(1)(C)(ii)

Background

The purpose of Proposal 2 is to obtain the stockholder approval necessary under applicable Nasdaq Stock Market rules to allow for the full conversion of shares of the Company's Series A Non-Voting Convertible Preferred Stock (the Series A Preferred).

Summary

As part of the Company's acquisition of Arius Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Arius) in August 2004, the Company issued to the former stockholders of Arius consideration comprised of an aggregate of 1,647,059 shares of Series A Preferred, a newly designated, non-voting and non-interest bearing, series of convertible preferred stock. The new Series A Preferred is convertible (upon the satisfaction of certain conditions) into shares of Common Stock on a one for one basis at a price equal to $4.25. Shares of Series A Preferred are eligible for conversion upon the earlier to occur of: (i) FDA approval of Arius' first proposed product (ii) 30 days notice to us of a Conversion Event (hereinafter defined) or (iii) five (5) years from the closing date of the acquisition (i.e., August 24, 2009). The term "Conversion Event" is defined in the Certificate of Designation of the Series A Preferred to mean the failure of the Company to provide at least $3.0 million to Arius as required to: (i) pay a licensor of Arius $1.0 million by August 24, 2004 pursuant to the terms of a license agreement between Arius and such licensor and (ii) fund, in a total amount of no less than $2.0 million, the operations of Arius. The Company believes it has satisfied both of these conditions.

The terms of the Series A Preferred include a provision that if, at the time that any shares of Series A Preferred are converted, the Common Stock is listed for quotation on The Nasdaq SmallCap Market or The Nasdaq National Market, then, without the prior approval of the Company's stockholders in accordance with the rules of Nasdaq, the Company shall be prohibited from issuing shares of Common Stock to the extent that the total aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issued or deemed to be issued would exceed 19.99% of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock immediately prior to the effective time of the Arius acquisition. The purpose of this proposal is to obtain such stockholder approval.

Nasdaq Listing Requirements and the Necessity of Stockholder Approval

Neither Delaware law nor the Company's certificate of incorporation or the Company's bylaws required the Company to obtain stockholder approval in connection with the Arius acquisition or the issuance of the shares of Series A Preferred (or the shares of Common Stock thereunder) to the former stockholders of Arius. However, the Common Stock is listed on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and, as such, the Company is subject to the NASD Marketplace Rules. Nasdaq Marketplace 4350(i)(1)(C)(ii) (the Nasdaq 20% Rule) requires that an issuer obtain stockholder approval in connection with the acquisition of the stock or assets of another company (i.e., Arius) if where, due to the present or potential issuance of common stock, or securities convertible into or exercisable for common stock, other than a public offering for cash: (a) the common stock has or will have upon issuance voting power equal to or in excess of 20% of the voting power outstanding before the issuance of stock or securities convertible into or exercisable for common stock; or (2) the number of shares of common stock to be issued is or will be equal to or in excess of 20% of the number of shares or common stock outstanding before the issuance of the stock or securities. Shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise or conversion of the Series A Preferred are considered common stock issued for purposes of determining whether the 20% limit has been reached.

Table of Contents

As of August 24, 2004, there were 7,145,863 shares of Common Stock outstanding. Twenty percent of this number equals 1,429,173 shares. On a fully converted basis, based the one-for-one conversion rate of the Series A Preferred, the 1,647,059 shares of Series A Preferred issued to the former Arius stockholders would convert into 1,647,059 shares of Common Stock. Therefore, an aggregate of 217,886 shares of Common Stock (the Series A Overage Shares) are potentially issuable in excess of that which is allowable under the Nasdaq 20% Rule. The Series A Preferred shares do not contain anti-dilution provisions (other than for stock splits and similar events), so the amount of Series A Overage Shares can be definitively calculated at this time.

Required Vote

The affirmative vote of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Common Stock entitled to vote thereon is necessary for approval of the issuance of the Series A Overage Shares. In connection with the acquisition of Arius, certain of Company stockholders, directors and officers (who, at the time, held in excess of 50% of the shares of outstanding Common Stock) agreed to vote all shares of Common Stock held by them at the Annual Meeting (and at each special or annual meeting of the Company thereafter until approval is gained) in favor of the issuance by the Company of all shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of all shares of the Series A Preferred which were issued in connection with the acquisition of Arius, including the Series A Overage Shares.

In the event the stockholders do not approve the potential issuance of Common Stock to the former stockholder of Arius, the Company will not issue Series A Overage Shares. The outcome of the vote of the Company's stockholders with respect to this Proposal No. 2 will not affect the acquisition of Arius. The acquisition of Arius was consummated August 24, 2004 and was not contingent on the Company's stockholders voting to approve the issuance of the Series A Overage Shares.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE FOR THE APPROVAL OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE SERIES A OVERAGE SHARES IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NASDAQ 20% RULE.

PROPOSAL 3

SERIES B CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK IN ACCORDANCE WITH

NASDAQ MARKETPLACE RULE 4350(i)(1)(C)(ii)

Background

The purpose of Proposal 3 is to obtain the stockholder approvals necessary under applicable Nasdaq Stock Market rules to allow for the full conversion of shares of the Company's Series B Convertible Preferred Stock (the Series B Preferred), aggregated with certain other of the Company's securities as described below.

Summary

On September 3, 2004, the Company entered into an Equity Line of Credit Agreement (the Equity Line Agreement) with Hopkins Capital Group II, LLC (HCG), an affiliated entity of the Company which is controlled and partially-owned by Dr. Francis E. O'Donnell, Jr., the Company's Chairman and CEO.

Table of Contents

Pursuant to the Equity Line Agreement, HCG will, as requested by the Company, invest up to $4,000,000 in the Company from August 23, 2004 through March 31, 2006 in consideration of shares of Series B Preferred. In connection with the Company's acquisition of Arius on August 24, 2004, $1.25 million was drawn under the Equity Line Agreement, and as of June 28, 2005, approximately $1.45 million has been drawn under the Equity Line Agreement. The holders of the Series B Preferred will be entitled to receive a 4.5% annual cumulative dividend. In addition, the Series B Preferred will be convertible into shares of Common Stock at any time as of or after April 1, 2006, or earlier upon a change of control of the Company, in each case at a price equal to $4.25 per share. The Series B Preferred ranks senior to shares of Common Stock and the Series A Preferred shares and has certain piggyback registration rights, dividend and liquidation preferences and certain other privileges. Additionally, the Company has the right, in its discretion at any time, to redeem the shares of Series B Preferred for cash equal to the amount invested under the Equity Line Agreement plus accrued and unpaid dividends thereon. HCG has no rights to cause the redemption or buy-back by the Company of the Series B Preferred.

The terms of the Series B Preferred provide that, without the prior approval of the Company's stockholders, in no event shall the Company issue shares of Common Stock at any time upon conversion of the of: (i) the first $1.25 million face value of Series B Preferred (representing 294,117 shares of Series B Preferred), plus (ii) any additional shares of Series B Preferred, the proceeds from the sale of which are used by the Company in connection with the acquisition Arius plus (iii) all shares of Series A Preferred (collectively, the Aggregated Stock) to the extent that the total aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issued or deemed to be issued at any time to any holder or all holders of the Aggregated Stock would exceed 19.99% of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock immediately prior to the effective time of the Company's acquisition of Arius. The purpose of this proposal is to obtain such stockholder approval.

Nasdaq Listing Requirements and the Necessity of Stockholder Approval

The Common Stock is listed on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and, as such, the Company is subject to the NASD Marketplace Rules. Shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise or conversion of the Series B Preferred are considered common stock issued for purposes of determining whether the 20% limit set forth in the Nasdaq 20% Rule has been reached.

At the time of the time of the acquisition of Arius, the NASD staff took the position that the Nasdaq 20% Rule was applicable to a portion of the Series B Preferred financing because certain ($1.25 million) of the proceeds from the Series B Preferred financing were used in connection with the acquisition by the Company of Arius. As a result, an amount of Series B Preferred Shares was deemed to be aggregated with all of the Series A Preferred shares issued to the former Arius stockholders for purposes of compliance with the Nasdaq 20% Rule.

As of August 24, 2004, there were 7,145,863 shares of Common Stock outstanding. Twenty percent of this number equals 1,429,173 shares. On a fully converted basis, based the one-for-one conversion rate of the Series A Preferred, the 1,647,059 shares of Series A Preferred issued to the former Arius stockholders would convert into 1,647,059 shares of Common Stock. Further, based on the one-for-one conversion rate of the Series B Preferred, 294,117 shares of Series B Preferred (the proceeds of which were used in connection with the Arius acquisition) would convert into 294,117 shares of Common Stock. Therefore, the total amount of Aggregated Stock equals 1,941,176 shares of Common Stock and the difference between such shares of shares outstanding as of August 24, 2004 equals 512,003 (the Series B Overage Shares). It is this amount of shares of Common Stock that are potentially issuable in excess of that which is allowable under the Nasdaq 20% Rule. The Series B Preferred shares to not contain anti-dilution provisions (other than for stock splits and similar events), so the amount of Series B Overage Shares can be definitively calculated at this time.

The affirmative vote of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Common Stock entitled to vote thereon is necessary for approval of the issuance of the Series B Overage Shares.

PROPOSAL 4

APPROVAL OF CONVERSION TERMS OF THE COMPANY'S FEBRUARY AND MAY 2005

CONVERTIBLE NOTES AND WARRANTS AND JUNE 2005 WARRANTS ISSUED TO

LAURUS MASTER FUND, LTD. IN ACCORDANCE WITH

NASDAQ MARKETPLACE RULE 4350(i)(1)(D)(ii)

Background

The purpose of Proposal 4 is to obtain the stockholder approvals necessary under applicable Nasdaq Stock Market rules to allow for the full conversion of the February and May 2005 Convertible Notes (the Notes) and Warrants (the Warrants) and the two June 2005 Warrants (the June Warrants) and, collectively with the Notes and the Warrants, the Laurus Securities) issued by the Company to Laurus Master Fund, Ltd. (Laurus).

Summary

February 2005 Laurus Financing

On February 22, 2005, the Company closed a $2.5 million secured convertible debt financing from Laurus in a private offering pursuant to exemption from registration under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Net proceeds from the financing were used primarily to retire the Company's existing secured equipment loan with Gold Bank (on which approximately $300,000 was owed) and to support the Company's research, development and commercialization opportunities and for general working capital purposes. The February Laurus investment, which took the form of a Note (the February Note) secured by substantially all of the Company's assets, has a 3-year term and bears interest at a rate equal to prime plus 2% per annum. The February Note is convertible, under certain conditions, into shares of Common Stock at a price equal to $3.10 per share. In connection with the financing, the Company also issued Laurus a Warrant (the February Warrant), which allows Laurus to purchase up to 350,000 shares of Common Stock at a price equal to $3.88 per share.

According to the terms of the February Note and the February Warrant, Laurus is not entitled to receive shares of Common Stock upon exercise of the February Warrant, upon payment of principal and interest on the February Note, or upon conversion of the February Note if such receipt would cause Laurus to be deemed to beneficially own in excess of 4.99% of the outstanding shares of the Common Stock on the date of issuance of such shares (such provision may be waived by Laurus upon 75 days prior written notice to the Company). Further, in accordance with Nasdaq Stock Market rules, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issuable by the Company and acquirable by Laurus at an average price below $3.10 per share pursuant to the terms of the February Note or the February Warrant, shall not exceed an aggregate of 1,428,458 shares of Common Stock (representing 19.99% of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock on February 22, 2005, and subject to appropriate adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, or other similar recapitalizations affecting the Common Stock (such issuance, the Maximum Common Stock Issuance), unless the issuance of Common Stock in excess of the Maximum Common Stock Issuance (the February Laurus Overage Amount) shall first be approved by the Company's stockholders.

May 2005 Laurus Financing

Similarly, on May 31, 2005, the Company closed an additional $2.5 million secured convertible debt financing from Laurus in a private offering pursuant to exemption from registration under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Net proceeds from the May financing were used primarily to support the Company's research, development and commercialization opportunities and for general working capital purposes. This Laurus investment also took the form of a Note (the May Note) secured by substantially all of the Company's assets, which May Note has a 3-year term and bears interest at a rate equal to prime plus 2% per annum. As with the February Note, the May Note is convertible, under certain conditions, into shares of Common Stock at a price equal to $3.10 per share. In connection with the May Laurus financing, the Company also issued Laurus a Warrant (the May Warrant), which allows Laurus to purchase up to 483,871 shares of Common Stock at a price equal to $3.88 per share.

According to the terms of the May Note and the May Warrant, Laurus is not entitled to receive shares upon exercise of the May Warrant, upon payment of principal and interest on the May Note, or upon conversion of the Note if such receipt would cause Laurus to be deemed to beneficially own in excess of 4.99% of the outstanding shares of the Common Stock on the date of issuance of such shares (such provision may be waived by Laurus upon 75 days prior written notice to the Company). Further, in accordance with Nasdaq Stock Market rules, and pursuant to a position taken by the NASD staff, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issuable by the Company and acquirable by Laurus at an average price below $3.10 per share pursuant to the terms of the Laurus Securities, aggregated together, shall not exceed an aggregate of 1,428,458 shares of Common Stock (representing 19.99% of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of common stock on February 22, 2005, and subject to appropriate adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, or other similar recapitalizations affecting the common stock (such issuance the May Maximum Common Stock Issuance), unless the issuance of Common Stock in excess of the May Maximum Common Stock Issuance (the May Laurus Overage Amount) shall first be approved by the Company's stockholders.

June 2005 Amendments to Laurus Documents

On June 29, 2005, the Company entered into two separate amendments to the Company's February and May 2005 financing agreements with Laurus under which Laurus agreed to defer payments by the Company of principal under the February Note and the and May Note until December 1, 2005. In consideration of Laurus' agreement, the Company issued Laurus two warrants, one to purchase 22,500 shares of Common Stock (in connection with the February amendment) and a second to purchase 7,500 shares of Common Stock (in connection with the May amendment). In each case, such warrants are exercisable into shares of Common Stock at an exercise price of $.001 per share and expire on June 29, 2012. Except for the exercise price, the June Warrants issued to Laurus in connection with the foregoing amendments are substantially similar to the February Warrant and the May Warrant.

The shares of Common Stock underlying the June Warrants are deemed, for purposes of the Nasdaq 20% Financing Rule (as defined below), to be included in, respectively, the Maximum Common Stock Issuance and the May Maximum Common Stock Issuance.

Table of Contents

The purpose of this proposal is to obtain stockholder approval of the February Laurus Overage Amount and the May Laurus Overage Amount (which include, as the case may, the shares of Common Stock underlying the June Warrants).

Nasdaq Listing Requirements and the Necessity of Stockholder Approval

The Common Stock is listed on the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and, as such, the Company is subject to the NASD Marketplace Rules. Nasdaq Marketplace Rule 4350(i)(1)(D)(ii) (the Nasdaq 20% Financing Rule) requires that an issuer obtain stockholder approval prior to the issuances of common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable for common stock at a price equal to or less than the greater of market or book value of such securities (on an as-converted basis) if such issuance equals 20% or more of the common stock or voting power of the issuer outstanding before the transaction. Shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise or conversion of the Laurus Securities are considered common stock issued for purposes of determining whether the 20% limit has been reached.

The June Warrants are exercisable into shares of Common Stock at $.001 per share. Therefore, when aggregated with the other Laurus Securities as required by the Nasdaq Stock Market, such shares of Common Stock require stockholder approval under the Nasdaq 20% Financing Rule. In addition, although the Common Stock issuable upon the exercise or conversion of the other Laurus Securities will initially have been issued at (or at a premium to) the market prices on the initial closing date of the February Laurus financing, the conversion price of the Notes and the exercise price of the Warrants may adjust downward if the Company issues securities (subject to certain exceptions) below the conversion or exercise price of such securities. If adjustments to the conversion price of the Notes and/or exercise price of the Warrants take place, the underlying shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion and exercise thereof may be deemed to have been issued below the market price of the Common Stock on the closing date of the February Laurus Financing. Because of these potential adjustments, and because of the position of the NASD staff to aggregate the February and May Laurus financings (as well as shares of Common Stock underlying the June Warrants), the Company is seeking stockholder approval of the February Laurus Overage Amount and the May Laurus Overage Amount in order to comply with the Nasdaq 20% Financing Rule.

Required Vote

The affirmative vote of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Common Stock entitled to vote thereon is necessary for approval of the issuance of the February Laurus Overage Amount and the May Laurus Overage Amount.

If this proposal is not approved by stockholders, the May Note, which is structured as a three year note, will become due and owing on September 1, 2005. At such time, Laurus may require the Company satisfy all of its obligations under the May Note, including the payment in full of all principal and interest and may pursue other legal or equitable remedies against the Company. The Company's ability to make such cash payments will depend on its available cash resources at that time, and there can be no assurance that the Company will have the cash necessary to make such payments. The early payment of the May Note may thus adversely affect the liquidity and financial condition of the Company.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE FOR THE APPROVAL OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE FEBRUARY LAURUS OVERAGE AMOUNT AND THE MAY LAURUS OVERAGE AMOUNT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NASDAQ 20% FINANCING RULE.
