Update to Description of Common Stock

The Company is filing the following in order to amend our Pre-effective Amendment No. 2 to the Registration Statement on Form 10 (No. 000-30533), filed on August 24, 2000, with respect to our common stock.

DESCRIPTION OF COMMON STOCK

The following is a brief description of our common stock. This summary does not purport to be complete in all respects. This description is subject to and qualified in its entirety by reference to our certificate of incorporation, as amended, a copy of which has been filed with the SEC and is also available upon request from us.

General

Under our certificate of incorporation, as amended, we have authority to issue up to 100,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. As of April 21, 2015 we had issued and outstanding 45,774,646 shares of common stock and 6,000,000 shares of our 6.50% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, having an aggregate liquidation preference of $150.0 million.

Common Stock

Each holder of our common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held on all matters with respect to which the holders of our common stock are entitled to vote. Holders of our common stock are not entitled to cumulative voting in the election of directors.

In the event of dissolution or liquidation, after payment of all creditors and payment of liquidation preferences on preferred stock, the holders of our common stock (subject to the prior rights of the holders of any outstanding preferred stock) will be entitled to receive pro rata any assets distributable to stockholders in respect of the number of shares held by them, in accordance with the Delaware General Corporation Law (DGCL).

The holders of shares of our common stock are entitled to such dividends as our board of directors, in its discretion, may declare out of funds legally available therefor, subject to certain limitations under the DGCL. We have not paid dividends on our common stock to date, and we do not anticipate paying dividends in the near future. However, the payment of dividends on our common stock is subject to the prior rights of the holders of any preferred stock. Payment of dividends on our common stock will be dependent upon, among other things, our earnings and financial condition, our cash flow requirements and the prevailing economic and regulatory climate.

Our common stock has no preemptive or conversion rights and is not subject to redemption.

Anti-Takeover Provisions.

Our certificate of incorporation permits the issuance of preferred stock in series by action of our board of directors. Although we have no current plans to utilize the issuance of shares of preferred stock as a deterrent to possible takeover attempts, the power to issue shares of preferred stock in series and to determine rights and preferences with respect to each such series may have a negative effect on the value of our common stock, and may have the effect of discouraging hostile attempts to acquire control of us.

Our certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws contain provisions, in addition to the authority to issue preferred stock, which may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in our controlling persons. The effect of these provisions, when coupled with existing statutory restrictions on the purchase of voting securities of a registered bank holding company, may be to delay or prevent a change in our controlling persons. We are subject to Section 203 of the DGCL which, with certain exceptions, prohibits us from engaging in any business combination with any interested stockholder for three years after such stockholder became an interested stockholder, unless: (1) prior to such stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, our board of directors approved either the proposed business combination or the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, (2) after the stockholder became an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of our voting stock, excluding voting stock owned by our directors and officers, or (3) the proposed business combination is approved by our board of directors and the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested stockholder. Under the DGCL, an interested stockholder is any person that (1) owns 15% or more of our outstanding voting stock or (2) is our affiliate and owned 15% or more of our outstanding voting stock at any time within the immediately preceding three years.

Our amended and restated bylaws also impose procedural requirements on stockholders who desire to (1) nominate candidates for director or (2) make any other proposal to the stockholders. The requirements include the timely delivery of notice regarding the nomination or proposal and information regarding the stockholder making the nomination or proposal and persons acting together with the stockholder regarding the nomination or proposal. In addition, if nominating a candidate for director, the stockholder must also submit information with respect to the candidate. The failure to follow the required procedures renders the nominee or proposal ineligible to be voted upon by our stockholders.

We believe that these anti-takeover provisions are prudent and reduce our vulnerability to hostile takeover attempts and other transactions that are not negotiated with or approved by our board of directors. We believe that our board of directors will be in the best position to determine our true value and negotiate effectively in the best interests of our stockholders. As a result, it is in our best interests and in the best interests of our stockholders to encourage potential acquirers to negotiate directly with our board of directors. We believe these provisions encourage such negotiations and discourage persons from proposing transactions at prices that do not reflect our true value and are not in the best interests of our stockholders.

Restrictions on Ownership.

The ability of a third party to acquire us is limited under applicable U.S. banking laws and regulations. The Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended (the BHC Act) requires any bank holding company (as defined therein) to obtain the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve prior to acquiring, directly or indirectly, more than 5% of our outstanding Common Stock. Any company (as defined in the BHC Act) other than a bank holding company would be required to obtain Federal Reserve approval before acquiring control of us. Control generally means (i) the ownership or control of 25% or more of a class of voting securities, (ii) the ability to elect a majority of our directors or (iii) the ability otherwise to exercise a controlling influence over our management and policies. A holder of 25% or more of our outstanding Common Stock, other than an individual, is subject to regulation and supervision as a bank holding company under the BHC Act. In addition, under the Change in Bank Control Act of 1978, as amended, and the Federal Reserve's regulations thereunder, any person, either individually or acting through or in concert with one or more persons, is required to provide notice to the Federal Reserve prior to acquiring, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of our outstanding Common Stock.

Listing.

Our common stock is listed on the Nasdaq Global Select Market under the symbol TCBI.

Transfer Agent and Registrar.

The transfer agent and registrar for our common stock is Computershare, Inc.
