The name, business address, present principal occupation or employment; name, principal business and address of any corporation or other organization in which such employment is conducted; and citizenship of each executive officer and director of Blucora and InfoSpace is set forth in Annex I attached hereto.

(d)-(e) Except as described below, during the past five years, neither Blucora nor InfoSpace, nor, to the best knowledge of Blucora or InfoSpace, any of its executive officers or directors, has been convicted in a criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations or similar misdemeanors), or has been a party to a civil proceeding of a judicial or administrative body of competent jurisdiction and as a result of such proceeding was or is subject to a judgment, decree or final order enjoining future violations of, or prohibiting or mandating activities subject to, federal or state securities laws or finding any violation with respect to such laws. Blucora was a nominal defendant in a derivative action in the Superior Court of Washington, King County (the Court), brought against its directors and officers in December 2008. Pursuant to a settlement agreement entered into in September 2010, which was approved by the Court in November 2010 and became final in December 2010, Blucora agreed to undertake certain specified corporate governance reforms, including amendments to its insider trading policy, the charters of the Audit, Compensation and Nominating & Governance Committees of its Board of Directors and certain other governance policies. The settlement did not involve any admission of wrongdoing or liability, and there was no adjudication on the merits of the underlying claims. A more detailed description of the settlement agreement is set forth in Blucora's Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 17, 2010.
