Tyco/Johnson Controls Merger

Customer Letter

Dear Valued Customer:

On January 25, 2016, we announced the news that Tyco and Johnson Controls have agreed to merge to create the global leader in building products and technology, integrated solutions and energy storage Johnson Controls plc.

We are excited about combining our established, industry-leading businesses, cutting-edge innovation pipelines and extensive global footprints to enhance our offerings for customers. By bringing together our complementary products and services, customers will benefit from integrated product, installation and service capabilities across fire, security, controls, HVAC and energy storage. Together, we will be uniquely positioned to provide the most comprehensive portfolio of building and energy solutions.

I want to assure you that our commitment to [insert name] remains unchanged. After the closing of the merger, we believe the combined company will be positioned to better partner with you to help support your goals as well as enhance the experience for your own customers.

Assuming we receive regulatory approvals and satisfy customary closing conditions, we expect to complete the merger by September 2016. Until then, it will be business as usual, and there will be no changes in how your Tyco team serves you.

Later in the year, we plan to share more information about the expanded solutions we will offer as a combined company as well as any other changes that are noteworthy. We recognize that your relationship with your Tyco account team is important to you and to your organization. Please share any questions or concerns you may have with them. Our highest priority is to continue to serve you with the highest quality of service.

We greatly appreciate your confidence in Tyco and look forward to continuing our strong business relationship with you.

Regards,
