Westlake Chemical Corporation issued the following press release on May 4, 2016:

Westlake Chemical Sends Letter Urging Axiall Shareholders to Vote FOR its Nine Highly-Qualified and Independent Nominees to Axiall's Board

Mails Definitive Proxy Statement in Connection with 2016 Axiall Corporation Annual Meeting

HOUSTON, May 4, 2016 Westlake Chemical Corporation (NYSE: WLK) today sent the following letter to Axiall Corporation's (NYSE: AXLL) shareholders urging them to vote the GOLD proxy card FOR the election to Axiall's Board of Directors of the nine highly-qualified and independent candidates nominated by Westlake at Axiall's Annual Meeting scheduled for June 17, 2016. Shareholders of record as of the close of business on May 4, 2016 will be entitled to vote at the Axiall Annual Meeting.

The full text of the letter is as follows:

May 4, 2016

Dear Fellow Axiall Shareholder,

Your vote at Axiall's Annual Meeting scheduled for June 17, 2016 is critically important. Westlake's proposal to acquire Axiall for $23.35 per share (comprised of $14.00 in cash and 0.1967 of a Westlake share, based on the closing price of Westlake's common stock on April 1, 2016), represents a premium of over 143% to Axiall's closing price of $9.60 per share on January 22, 2016, the last trading day before Westlake submitted its initial proposal.

Unfortunately, Axiall's Board of Directors summarily rejected our increased proposal without making a counterproposal or otherwise providing us with any meaningful feedback. Westlake continues to prefer a negotiated transaction and has encouraged Axiall's representatives to provide us with constructive feedback as to our proposal.

Axiall's refusal to provide any such feedback and continued refusal to negotiate has left us no choice except to press forward with our proposal to replace Axiall's existing Board of Directors. We are therefore seeking your support for the election of a new slate of nine highly-qualified and independent candidates for election to Axiall's Board who will bring a fresh perspective to evaluating all of Axiall's options.

THE TIME FOR AXIALL SHAREHOLDERS TO ACT IS NOW

LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD BY VOTING THE ENCLOSED GOLD PROXY CARD

We believe you deserve a new Board and urge you to send a strong message to Axiall's current Board by signing and returning the enclosed GOLD proxy card today to vote FOR the nine highly-qualified and independent directors nominated by Westlake.

WE BELIEVE WESTLAKE'S PROPOSAL REPRESENTS GREATER VALUE AND CERTAINTY THAN AXIALL'S STANDALONE STRATEGY

In addition to a 143% premium, Westlake's proposal provides Axiall shareholders with the certainty of $14.00 in cash per share and, through ownership of stock in the combined company, continued upside potential and sharing of realized synergies. In short, we believe our proposal is far more valuable and certain than the value Axiall can create on a standalone basis.

In our view, Axiall's standalone strategy consists of a bet on volatile commodity prices from a shrinking, less integrated business, following the proposed sale of its Building Products business. We believe this represents a riskier business profile and cost disadvantaged operating model. In contrast, Westlake has a long-term integrated strategy in a diverse, global business designed to capture value throughout the commodity cycle over time. The stock component of our proposal would provide Axiall shareholders with the opportunity to participate in a cyclical recovery with an investment in a stronger company with a clear value creation plan and investment grade balance sheet.

We believe that Axiall's expectations for its standalone strategy are unrealistic and not supported by its recent performance or track record over the past 10 years and Axiall's in process initiatives are, we believe, unlikely to generate value creation anywhere near that of Westlake's proposal.

In fact, Axiall's standalone strategy was already known to the market prior to our proposal being made public and Axiall's valuation at that time was nowhere near the value of our proposal. We believe that, if the current Board is allowed to continue to pursue this standalone strategy, Axiall's shares would be worth significantly less than they are today.

AXIALL HAS A TRACK RECORD OF VALUE DESTRUCTION AND UNDERPERFORMANCE AND HAS REPEATEDLY FAILED TO DELIVER ON EXPECTATIONS

Axiall has a track record of value destruction, strategic missteps and failure to deliver on expectations. Consider these facts:

Axiall paid over ~$1.7 billion for the various elements of its Building Products business since 2007 and is now in the process of divesting those assets in pieces for expected net proceeds of only ~$0.7 billion, confirming the destruction of approximately $1.0 billion of value for Axiall shareholders;

Axiall paid ~$2.1 billion for PPG's Commodity Chemicals business in 2013, but in 2015 took an ~$850 million impairment charge related to the deal;

Axiall has:

Repeatedly failed to deliver on earnings expectations

Over-levered in order to acquire Royal Business Products, resulting in the need to execute a costly debt for equity swap that nearly wiped out all shareholder value

Missed the most recent Ethylene Super-Cycle in the U.S. due to failed backward integration. Recently announced plans suggest partial integration by 2019 at the earliest nearly a decade after the beginning of the cycle

Rejected attractive, value-creating proposals from Westlake in 2012 and 2016; and

The recent major initiatives that Axiall has touted have yet to unlock value for shareholders.

These mis-steps have contributed to negative 99% total shareholder return over the past decade.

AXIALL SHAREHOLDERS WOULD SHARE IN THE UPSIDE OF A STRONGER COMBINED COMPANY WITH A PROVEN MANAGEMENT TEAM

The stock component of our proposal means Axiall shareholders would benefit from the increased scale and diversity of the combined company. Together, Westlake and Axiall would create a North American Vinyls leader with a highly integrated chain and lower cost structure.

Axiall shareholders also stand to benefit from $90-100 million in expected synergy opportunities created by this transaction. We were able to increase our synergy estimate after Axiall allowed us to conduct limited due diligence, and this information enabled us to increase our proposal. We believe that Axiall's overly optimistic synergy estimates, which were prepared without any familiarity with Westlake operations or Westlake input, are unrealistic.

A combined company, with upstream and downstream integration into ethylene, chlor-alkali and building products, would also be well positioned to capture value creation throughout the cycle. In contrast, Axiall's standalone strategy would shrink its business portfolio if it sells its Buildings Products business, and Axiall would then become a pure player in one segment (Chlorovinyl) of the value chain.

In contrast to Axiall's poor track record, Westlake's management has a history of strong value creation and superior growth driven by efficient capital allocation. We believe that this performance is a result of Westlake management's and board's significant share ownership, which aligns their interests with those of shareholders. In contrast, Axiall's senior leadership owns less than 1% of Axiall shares, which is significantly less than Westlake's 4.4% stake in Axiall.

AXIALL SHAREHOLDERS SHOULD URGE AXIALL'S BOARD TO STOP THE SALE OF THE INTEGRATED BUILDING PRODUCTS BUSINESS

We are very concerned that Axiall's ongoing sales process for its Building Products business could have serious negative consequences for shareholders were it to be completed. In our view, a sale of the whole company, including the Building Products business, represents the best way to maximize value for Axiall shareholders. Our proposal of $23.35 represents a higher multiple to Axiall's estimated 2016 EBITDA than the multiple implied by the high-end of the range that Axiall has projected it will achieve from the sale of the Building Products business. Given the integrated nature of the Building Products business with the rest of Axiall, we believe that a separate sale could have a negative impact on the remaining business and create significant dis-synergies.

Prior to consummation of any sale, we believe shareholders should be given all relevant information relating to the impact such a sale would have on Axiall's remaining business (including any related resin supply arrangements). Having provided that critical information, we believe a separate sale should only go forward if it is supported by a majority of Axiall shareholders.

We are also concerned that Axiall may intend to rush to conclude the Building Products sale process in advance of its Annual Meeting. We believe it would be very inappropriate to take such a drastic and potentially value-destroying step before Axiall shareholders are allowed to vote on a new Board of Directors. In particular, we believe selling the Building Products business in advance of the Annual Meeting would hinder a new Board's ability to determine the best path forward for Axiall.

We therefore ask shareholders to communicate clearly to Axiall that, instead of pursuing a separate sale of the Building Products business, it should engage in good faith negotiations with us regarding our proposal to acquire the entire company.
