GOL Awarded Air Transport World's Market Leadership Award

São Paulo, January 31, 2006 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes (NYSE: GOL and Bovespa: GOLL4), Brazil's low cost, low fare airline, has received Air Transport World's (ATW) Market Leadership Award for 2006. The award recognizes GOL's success in significantly impacting air travel in Brazil with its low cost, low fare business model while also maintaining strong operational performance and delivering solid financial results. ATW is one of the leading monthly magazine serving the airline and commercial aircraft manufacturing industries

The Market Leadership Award is presented to airlines which have significantly changed the market in which they operate while remaining profitable by either creating a new service that brings new customers to the airline industry or entering markets and drawing business away from other carriers. Winners must have a superior safety record.

GOL's vision is to be recognized by 2010 as the airline that popularized high quality, low fare air transportation in both Brazil and South America, through quality service and low fares. This recognition is further proof that our business model has been successful in Brazil and our goal is also to revolutionize the South American market, says Constantino de Oliveira Junior, President

The award will be presented at ATW's Annual Awards Dinner and Gala Celebration on February 20, 2006, in Singapore. Complete results will be published in the February issue of Air Transport World Magazine and will also be available online at www.atwonline.com.
