CSP INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
THREE AND SIX MONTHS ENDED MARCH 31, 2010 AND 2009

Organization and Business

CSP Inc. and Subsidiaries (“CSPI” or the “Company”) was founded in 1968 and is based in Billerica, Massachusetts. To meet the diverse requirements of its industrial, commercial and defense customers worldwide, CSPI and its subsidiaries develop and market IT integration solutions and high-performance cluster computer systems. The Company operates in two segments, its Systems segment and its Service and System Integration segment.

1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared by the Company, without audit, and reflect all adjustments which, in the opinion of management, are necessary for a fair statement of the results of the interim periods presented. All adjustments were of a normal recurring nature. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in the annual financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, have been condensed or omitted. Accordingly, the Company believes that although the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading, the unaudited financial statements should be read in conjunction with the footnotes contained in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009.

2. Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

3. New Accounting Pronouncements

Subsequent Events

In January 2010, the FASB issued new accounting guidance entitled, “Subsequent Events.” The new guidance, which is effective for the current reporting period, removes the requirement for an SEC filer to disclose a date that subsequent events have been evaluated as of, in both issued and revised financial statements. Accordingly, such disclosure will no longer be made in our financial statements.

Revenue Recognition

In October 2009, the FASB issued new accounting guidance entitled, “Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements—a Consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force.” This new guidance amends existing revenue recognition accounting principles regarding multiple-deliverable revenue arrangements. The consensus provides accounting principles and application guidance on whether multiple deliverables exist, how the arrangement should be separated, and how the consideration should be allocated. This guidance eliminates the requirement to establish verifiable, objective evidence of the fair value of undelivered products and services and also eliminates the residual method of allocating arrangement consideration. The new guidance provides for separate revenue recognition based upon management’s estimate of the selling price for an undelivered item when there is no other means to determine the fair value of that undelivered item. Under the previous guidance, if the fair value of all of the elements in the arrangement was not determinable, then revenue was deferred until all of the items were delivered or fair value was determined. This pronouncement is effective prospectively for revenue arrangements entered into or materially modified in fiscal years beginning on or after June 15, 2010, with early adoption permitted.

The Company has adopted this standard as of October 1, 2009. The disclosures included in this Note 3 are required pursuant to this new standard.

Description of multiple-deliverable arrangements

In most cases, our multiple-deliverable arrangements involve initial shipment of hardware and software products and subsequent delivery of services which add value to the products that have been shipped. In some instances, services are performed prior to product shipment, but more typically services are performed subsequent to shipment of the hardware products. The timing of the delivery and performance of deliverables may vary case-by-case. We evaluate whether we can determine vendor-specific objective evidence (“VSOE”) or third-party evidence to allocate revenue among the various elements in an arrangement. When VSOE or third-party evidence cannot be determined, we use estimated selling prices to allocate revenue to the various elements. Estimated selling prices are determined using the targeted gross margin for each element and calculating the gross revenue for each element that would have been required to achieve the targeted gross margin, and allocating revenue to each element based on those relative values. Typically, product revenue elements are recognized upon shipment, or when risk of loss passes to the customer, and services elements are recognized upon completion for fixed-price service arrangements and upon performance for time and materials service arrangements.

Impact of Adoption of New Standard

Adoption of the new revenue recognition guidance for multiple-deliverable arrangements has had an impact on the pattern and timing of revenue recognition. In some cases, revenue that would have been deferred pursuant to the previously existing multiple-element revenue recognition guidance, has been recognized pursuant to the newly issued guidance. This is because in some cases we are not able to determine VSOE or third-party evidence of the service element in our arrangements. Under the new guidance, because the requirement to determine fair value of undelivered elements has been eliminated, and we may use estimated selling price to allocate revenue to elements in an arrangement, we are now more likely to be able to separate arrangements into separate units of accounting, and thereby recognize the delivered elements (typically product revenue) without having delivered the other elements in the arrangements (typically services). The impact of adopting this new accounting guidance on revenue for the three and six months ended March 31, 2010 was that $115 thousand and $376 thousand, respectively, in additional revenue was recognized using the newly adopted guidance that wouldn't have been recognized had we not adopted the new standard. The impact of adopting this new accounting guidance on net income and EPS was an increase to net income of $9 thousand and $18 thousand for the three and six months ended March 31, 2010, respectively and an increase of $0.01 to both basic and fully diluted earnings per share for the six months ended March 31, 2010. There was no impact to EPS from the adoption of the new standard for the three months ended March 31, 2010.

Earnings Per Share

In June 2008, the FASB issued new accounting guidance entitled, "Determining Whether Instruments Granted in Share-Based Payment Transactions are Participating Securities." Under the new guidance, non-vested share-based payment awards that contain non-forfeitable rights to dividends or dividend equivalents are participating securities and, therefore, are included in computing earnings per share ("EPS") pursuant to the two-class method. The two-class method determines EPS for each class of common stock and participating securities according to dividends or dividend equivalents and their respective participation rights in undistributed earnings. The new guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008 (fiscal year ending September 30, 2010 for the Company). The new disclosures required pursuant to this new guidance are included in Note 4 – Earnings Per Share of Common Stock below.

4. Earnings Per Share of Common Stock

Basic net income per common share is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted net income per common share reflects the maximum dilution that would have resulted from the assumed exercise and share repurchase related to dilutive stock options and is computed by dividing net income by the assumed weighted average number of common shares outstanding.

The reconciliation of the denominators of the basic and diluted net income per share computations for the Company's reported net income is as follows:

	For the Three Months Ended		For the Six Months Ended
	March 31, 2010	March 31, 2009	March 31, 2010	March 31, 2009
	(Amounts in thousands, except per share data)
Net income	$989	$212	$247	$570
Weighted average number of shares outstanding – basic	3,552	3,611	3,544	3,685
	29	5	29	7

Incremental shares from the assumed exercise of stock options

Weighted average number of shares outstanding – diluted	3,581	3,616	3,573	3,692
Net income per share – basic	$0.28	$0.06	$0.07	$0.16
Net income per share – diluted	$0.28	$0.06	$0.07	$0.16

All anti-dilutive securities, including stock options are excluded from the diluted income per share computation. For the three and six months ended March 31, 2010, 242,000 and 253,000 options, respectively, were excluded from the diluted income per share calculation because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive. For the three and six months ended March 31, 2009, approximately 347,000 and 339,000 options, respectively, were excluded from the diluted income per share calculation because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive.

In accordance with new accounting guidance as described in Note 3 above, we are required to present EPS utilizing the two class method because we had outstanding, non-vested share-based payment awards that contain non-forfeitable rights to dividends or dividend equivalents, which are considered participating securities. For the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, basic and fully diluted weighted average unvested share-based payment shares outstanding were 39 thousand and 19 thousand, respectively. For the three months ended March 31, 2010, earnings per share including unvested shares under the two class method were $0.28 per share. For the three months ended March 31, 2009, the earnings per share including unvested shares under the two class method were $0.06 per share. For the six months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, basic and fully diluted weighted average unvested share-based payment shares outstanding were 33 thousand and 11 thousand, respectively. For the six months ended March 31, 2010, earnings per share including unvested shares under the two class method were $0.07 per share. For the three months ended March 31, 2009, the earnings per share including unvested shares under the two class method were $0.16 per share.

5. Inventories

Inventories consist of the following:

	March 31, 2010	September 30, 2009
	(Amounts in thousands)
Raw materials	$1,094	$1,285
Work-in-process	388	871
Finished goods	5,141	3,779

Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss	$(4,624)	$(4,268)

7. Pension and Retirement Plans

The Company has defined benefit and defined contribution plans in the United Kingdom, Germany and the U.S. In the United Kingdom and Germany, the Company provides defined benefit pension plans and defined contribution plans for the majority of its employees. In the U.S., the Company provides benefits through supplemental retirement plans to certain current and former employees. The domestic supplemental retirement plans have life insurance policies which are not plan assets but were purchased by the Company as a vehicle to fund the costs of the plan. Domestically, the Company also provides for officer death benefits through post-retirement plans to certain officers. All of the Company's defined benefit plans are closed to newly hired employees.

The Company funds its pension plans in amounts sufficient to meet the requirements set forth in applicable employee benefits laws and local tax laws. Liabilities for amounts in excess of these funding levels are accrued and reported in the consolidated balance sheets.

Our pension plan in the United Kingdom is the only plan with plan assets. The plan assets consist of an investment in a commingled fund which in turn comprises a diversified mix of assets including corporate equity securities, government securities and corporate debt securities.

The components of net periodic benefit costs related to the U.S. and international plans are as follows:

Profit (loss) from operations is sales less cost of sales, engineering and development, selling, general and administrative expenses but is not affected by either non-operating charges/income or by income taxes. Non-operating charges/income consists principally of investment income and interest expense. All intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

The following table lists customers from which the Company derived revenues in excess of 10% of total revenues for the three and six month periods ended March 31, 2010 and 2009.

Total assets measured at fair value	$6,840	$—	$—	$6,840	$—

These assets are included in cash and cash equivalents in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. All other monetary assets and liabilities are short-term in nature and approximate their fair value.

The Company had no liabilities measured at fair value as of March 31, 2010. The Company had no assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a non recurring basis as of March 31, 2010.

Loss Contingency

We record estimated loss contingencies when information is available that indicates that it is probable that a material loss has been incurred or an asset has been impaired and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. We disclose if the assessment indicates that a potentially material loss contingency is not probable but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, or if an exposure to loss exists in excess of the amount accrued. Loss contingencies considered remote are generally not disclosed. Determining the likelihood of incurring a liability and estimating the amount of the liability involves judgment by management. If the event results in an outcome that has greater adverse consequences to us than management expects, then we may have to record additional charges in future periods.

The Company's U.S. Modcomp division ("Modcomp U.S."), which is part of the Service and System Integration segment, is currently working to resolve a pricing dispute (the "Dispute") with one of its largest hardware manufacturers (the "Hardware Manufacturer"). The Dispute arose through the discovery that Modcomp U.S. was buying some products from the Hardware Manufacturer's distributors at incorrect prices. The prices that were incorrect arose from Modcomp U.S. and three of the Hardware Manufacturer's distributors misapplying discounts that were available for specific products for certain customers to customers for whom these discounts were not available.

The Company settled with the Hardware Manufacturer with respect to a portion of the transactions in which incorrect discounts were used. However, there are additional affected transactions, which are subject to further review by the Hardware Manufacturer which must be resolved before we will be able to agree on a final settlement with respect to these remaining transactions.

We accrued approximately $337 thousand in additional cost of sales, approximately $174 thousand of which was paid to the Hardware Manufacturer under the settlement referred to above. We also reduced commissions and income tax expense by approximately $98 thousand and $103 thousand, for a net impact of approximately $137 thousand of additional net loss, for the year ended September 30, 2009, in connection with the Dispute. These amounts represent our best estimates of the liability associated with the Dispute for all transactions involved, whether settled or still under review, and are included in our accrued expense balance as of March 31, 2010. Our estimate is based on the assumption that all of the transactions still under review will be resolved in substantially the same manner that the settled transactions have been, because management believes that the facts and circumstances of the transactions still under review are the same as for the transactions that have been settled. However, the Hardware Manufacturer has advised us that it will need more time to review the remaining affected transactions, and accordingly has not yet agreed to resolve the remaining transactions in the same manner as the previously settled transactions. Accordingly, there exists a contingent liability with respect to the unsettled transactions, because the Hardware Manufacturer could assert a claim for amounts in excess of the estimates that we accrued in connection with the Dispute. The Company has assessed that an additional contingent loss related to the Hardware Manufacturer is reasonably possible, but not probable. Therefore, an accrual has not been recorded for the loss contingency. For loss contingencies that are assessed at the reasonably possible level, the loss contingency must be disclosed and an estimate or range of possible loss must also be disclosed in the event that a reasonable estimate can be made. Accordingly, we estimate the range of the loss contingency associated with the Dispute is between $0 and $389 thousand.

11. Common Stock Repurchase

On February 3, 2009, the Board of Directors (the "Board") authorized the Company to purchase up to 350 thousand additional shares of the Company's outstanding common stock at market price. Pursuant to the aforementioned authorization by the Board, the Company repurchased approximately 11 thousand shares of its outstanding common stock during the six months ended March 31, 2010. As of March 31, 2010, approximately 229 thousand shares remain authorized to repurchase under its stock repurchase program.

Item 2. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Forward-Looking Statements

The discussion below contains certain forward-looking statements related to, among others, but not limited to, statements concerning future revenues and future business plans. Actual results may vary from those contained in such forward-looking statements.

Markets for our products and services are characterized by rapidly changing technology, new product introductions and short product life cycles. These changes can adversely affect our business and operating results. Our success will depend on our ability to enhance our existing products and services and to develop and introduce, on a timely and cost effective basis, new products that keep pace with technological developments and address increasing customer requirements. The inability to meet these demands could adversely affect our business and operating results.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations are based upon our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to uncollectible receivables, inventory valuation, income taxes, deferred compensation and retirement plans, estimated selling prices used for revenue recognition and contingencies. We base our estimates on historical performance and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. A description of our critical accounting policies is contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009 in the “Critical Accounting Policies” section of Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Results of Operations

Overview of the six months ended March 31, 2010 Results of Operations

Highlights include:

Revenue decreased by approximately $4.0 million, or 9%, to $42.6 million for the six months ended March 31, 2010 versus $46.6 million for the six months ended March 31, 2009.

- For the six months ended March 31, 2010, operating income was approximately $424 thousand versus operating income of approximately $766 thousand for the six months ended March 31, 2009.

For the six months ended March 31, 2010, net income was approximately $247 thousand versus net income of approximately $570 thousand for the six months ended March 31, 2009.

The following table details our results of operations in dollars and as a percentage of sales for the six months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

Total	$737	$(4,721)	$(3,984)	(9)	%
% increase (decrease)	17	% (11)	% (9)	%

As shown above, total revenues decreased by approximately $4.0 million, or 9%, for the six months ended March 31, 2010 compared to the same period of fiscal year 2009. Revenue in the Systems segment increased for the current year six month period versus the prior year six month period by approximately $737 thousand, while revenues in the Service and System Integration segment decreased by approximately $4.7 million, resulting in the overall decrease of approximately $4.0 million.

Product revenues decreased by approximately $1.3 million, or 4% for the six months ended March 31, 2010 compared to the comparable period of fiscal 2009. This change in product revenues was made up of an increase in product revenues in the Systems segment of approximately $2.0 million over the prior year six months, and a decrease in product revenues in the Service and System Integration segment of approximately $3.3 million versus the prior year six months.

The increase in the Systems segment product revenues of approximately $2.0 million for the six months ended March 31, 2010 versus the comparable period in fiscal 2009 was primarily the result of the sale of two large systems to Raytheon which totaled approximately $3.6 million compared to virtually no sales to Raytheon in the prior year six month period. In addition, product sales to Kyokuto Boeki Kaisha (“KBK”) increased by approximately $840 thousand. Offsetting these increases, product sales to Lockheed Martin and BAE decreased by approximately $1.8 million and $600 thousand, respectively.

The decrease in the Service and System Integration segment product sales of approximately $3.3 million was due to decreased product sales in the U.S. division of the segment of approximately $2.0 million, and a decrease of approximately $1.2 million in the segment’s German division. The decrease in the U.S. was primarily attributable to the loss of a major customer, which filed for bankruptcy protection during the prior fiscal year. Product sales to this customer for the fiscal six months ended March 31, 2009 were $2.6 million. The decrease in Germany was from lower sales volume of approximately $1.8 million in constant dollars, offset by a favorable exchange rate fluctuation of the stronger Euro versus the U.S. Dollar of $600 thousand. The decrease in product sales volume from the German division was due primarily to the overall economic and technology sector slowdown which is continuing to put downward pressure on sales volume.

As shown in the table above, service revenues decreased by approximately $2.7 million, or 28% for the six months ended March 31, 2010 compared to the comparable six months of fiscal 2009. Service revenue in the Systems segment decreased by approximately $1.2 million, while service revenue in the Service and System Integration segment decreased by approximately $1.4 million, as shown in the table above.

The $1.2 million decrease in Systems segment service revenue was the result of a decrease in royalty revenue from Lockheed Martin which was approximately $1.6 million for the six months ended March 31, 2009, and approximately $252 thousand for the six months ended March 31, 2010, for a total decrease of approximately $1.3 million.

The decrease in the Service and System Integration segment service revenue was driven by lower service revenues from the segment's U.S., German and United Kingdom divisions which decreased by approximately $772 thousand, $372 thousand and approximately $283 thousand, respectively. The decrease from the U.S. division was due in part to the loss of the same customer as described above due to bankruptcy, which accounted for approximately $312 thousand of the decrease and unfavorable economic conditions which resulted in decreased spending by our customers and potential customers on information technology projects. The decrease in service revenue from our German and United Kingdom divisions was also attributed to the unfavorable economic conditions which negatively impacted those divisions' revenue performance similarly.

Our sales by geographic area, based on the location to which the products were shipped or services rendered, are as follows:

	March 31,		For the Six Months Ended		March 31,		$ Increase (Decrease)	% Increase (Decrease)
	2010	%	2009	%	(Decrease)	(Decrease)
(Dollar amounts in thousands)
Americas	$28,194	66	% $31,155	67	% $(2,961)	(10)%
Europe	13,427	32	% 15,281	33	% (1,854)	(12)%
Asia	961	2	% 130	--	% 831		639	%
Totals	$42,582	100	% $46,566	100	% $(3,984)	(9)%

The decrease in Americas revenue for the six months ended March, 31 2010 versus the six months ended March, 31, 2009 was primarily the result of the decrease in revenues from the U.S. operations of the Service and System integration segment. The decrease in sales in Europe was primarily the result of lower sales from the German and United Kingdom divisions of the Service and System Integration segment, where sales in Europe decreased by approximately $1.6 million and $382 thousand, respectively. The impact of the stronger Euro versus the U.S. dollar for the six months ended March 31, 2010 versus the six months ended March 31, 2009 had a favorable impact on European sales, when comparing to the prior year six months, of approximately $1.0 million. Therefore the decrease in sales volume in constant U.S. dollars for the fiscal six months ended March 31, 2010 versus the same six months in 2009 was approximately $2.8 million, due to the reasons described above. The increased Asia sales were primarily the result of the increase in sales to KBK from the Systems segment of approximately $854 thousand described above.

Cost of Sales and Gross Margins

Total cost of sales decreased by approximately $3.0 million for the six months ended March 31, 2010, versus the six months ended March 31, 2009, to $34.8 million, down from $37.8 million in the prior year six months. The decrease in cost of sales was due primarily to the decrease in sales as described previously. The overall gross profit margin decreased from 19% for the fiscal six months ended March 31, 2009 to 18% for the fiscal six months ended March 31, 2010. This decrease in gross profit margin was due in part, because in the prior year six months, the Systems segment realized approximately $1.6 million in royalty revenue which carried a gross profit margin of 100%. For the six months ended March 31, 2010 royalty revenue was $252 thousand. This was the primary driver which decreased the gross margin in the Systems segment from 64% for the six months ended March 31, 2009 to 59% for the six months ended March 31, 2010. In addition, in the Service and Systems Integration segment, gross margins for services as well as the overall gross margin, decreased as shown in the above table. Service gross margins in the Service and Systems integration segment decreased due to more intense pricing competition and lower service revenue volume in the current year six months versus the prior year.

Engineering and Development Expenses

The following table details our engineering and development expenses by operating segment for the six months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	March 31, 2010	For the Six Months Ended		March 31, 2009	% of Total	$ Decrease	% Decrease
		% of Total	(Dollar amounts in thousands)
By Operating Segment:

Service and System Integration	—	—	%	—	—	% —	— %
Total	$902	100	%	$1,018	100	% $(116)	(11)%

Engineering and development expenses decreased by approximately $116 thousand, or 11%, for the six months ended March 31, 2010 compared to the same period of fiscal 2009. The decrease reflects lower expenditures for salaries, wages and benefits and materials in connection with the development of the next generation of MultiComputer products in the Systems segment.

Selling, General and Administrative

The following table details our selling, general and administrative expense by operating segment for the six months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	March 31, 2010	For the Six Months Ended		March 31, 2009	% of Total	$ Increase (Decrease)	% Increase (Decrease)

Total	$6,468	100	%	$6,933	100	% $(465)	(7)%

Total selling, general and administrative (“SG&A”) expenses decreased by $465 thousand, or 7%, for the six months ended March 31, 2010 compared to the corresponding six months of fiscal 2009. The Service and System Integration segment SG&A expense decreased for the six months ended March 31, 2010 versus the prior year six months by approximately $694 thousand, due primarily to lower commissions as a result of lower revenues and lower gross profit, lower salaries due to headcount reductions and lower facilities expenses. In the Systems segment, the increase shown above was due primarily to higher commission and bonus expenses as a result of higher revenues and operating profits and higher audit fees due to first-year Sarbanes-Oxley audit requirements.

Other Income/Expenses

The following table details our other income/expenses for the six months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

Edgar Filing: CSP INC /MA/ - Form 10-Q

Foreign exchange gain (loss)	(10)	6	(16)
Other income (expense), net	1	(11)	12
Total other income (expense), net	$(36)	$110	$(146)

Total other income (expense), net, changed from other income, net of $110 thousand to other net expense of $36 thousand, resulting in an unfavorable change of approximately $146 thousand for the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to the same six months of fiscal 2009. This change was primarily due to a decrease in interest income of $158 thousand. Interest income in the fiscal 2010 six months was earned on money market funds as opposed to our auction rate security (“ARS”) portfolio for a large portion of the first six months in fiscal 2009. The ARSs carried much higher interest rates than our money market funds. We divested our holdings in ARSs over the period since the year-ago six months because of the preponderance of failed auctions in the ARS market. In addition, the balances of interest bearing assets in general were lower in the current fiscal year six month period versus the prior year.

Overview of the three months ended March 31, 2010 Results of Operations

Highlights include:

Revenue increased by approximately $1.4 million, or 6%, to $23.9 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus $22.5 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2009.

For the three months ended March 31, 2010, operating income was approximately $1.6 million versus operating income of approximately $301 thousand for the quarter ended March 31, 2009.

For the three months ended March 31, 2010, net income was approximately $989 thousand versus net income of approximately $212 thousand for the quarter ended March 31, 2009.

As shown above, total revenues increased by approximately $1.4 million, or 6%, for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the same period of fiscal year 2009. Revenue in the Systems segment increased in the current year quarter versus the prior year quarter by approximately $2.0 million, while revenues in the Service and System Integration segment decreased by approximately $587 thousand, resulting in the overall increase of $1.4 million.

Product revenues increased by approximately $1.8 million, or 10% for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the comparable period of fiscal 2009. This change in product revenues was made up of an increase in product revenues in the Systems segment of approximately $1.8 million over the prior year quarter. Product revenue in the Service and System Integration segment remained flat for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the prior year quarter ended March 31.

The increase in the Systems segment product revenues of approximately $1.8 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the comparable period in fiscal 2009 was primarily the result of the sale of two large systems to Raytheon which totaled approximately $3.6 million compared to virtually no sales to Raytheon in the prior year quarter. In addition, product sales to Kyokuto Boeki Kaisha (“KBK”) increased by approximately $498 thousand. Offsetting these increases, product sales to Lockheed Martin and BAE decreased by approximately $1.6 million and $554 thousand, respectively.

As shown in the table above, service revenues decreased by approximately $425 thousand, or 11% for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the comparable quarter of fiscal 2009. Service revenue in the Systems segment increased by approximately $155 thousand, while service revenue in the Service and System Integration segment decreased by approximately $580 thousand, as shown in the table above.

The $155 thousand increase in Systems segment service revenue was the result of services provided to Raytheon in connection with the large systems that were shipped during the quarter.

The decrease in the Service and System Integration segment service revenue was driven by lower service revenues from the segment’s U.S. and German divisions which decreased by approximately $153 thousand and approximately $384 thousand, respectively. The decrease from the U.S. division was due to the unfavorable economic conditions which resulted in decreased spending by our customers and potential customers on information technology projects. The decrease in service revenue from our German division was also attributed to the unfavorable economic conditions which negatively impacted the German division’s revenue performance similarly.

Our sales by geographic area, based on the location to which the products were shipped or services rendered, are as follows:

	For the Three Months Ended		March 31,		$ Increase (Decrease)	% Increase (Decrease)
	March 31, 2010	%	March 31, 2009	%
(Dollar amounts in thousands)
Americas	$17,066	72	% $15,613	69	% $1,453	9
Europe	6,287	26	% 6,790	30	% (503)	(7)
Asia	568	2	% 103	1	% 465	451
Totals	$23,921	100	% $22,506	100	% $1,415	6

The increase in revenue in the Americas for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the quarter ended March 31, 2009 was primarily the result of the changes in Systems segment sales to U.S. customers which are described above. All of the sales and changes thereto were to U.S. customers with the exception of KBK. The decrease in sales in Europe was primarily the result of lower sales from the German division of the Service and System Integration segment, where sales in Europe decreased by approximately $664 thousand. The impact of the stronger Euro versus the U.S. dollar in the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the quarter ended March 31, 2009 had a favorable impact on European sales, when comparing to the prior year quarter, of approximately $300 thousand. Therefore the decrease in sales volume to Europe in constant U.S. dollars for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the same quarter in 2009 was approximately $1.0 million. The increased Asia sales were primarily the result of the increase in sales to KBK from the Systems segment as described above.

Cost of Sales and Gross Margins

Total	10 %	- %	5 %

Total cost of sales was relatively flat year over year when comparing the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the quarter ended March 31, 2009, decreasing by only approximately $102 thousand or 1%. This is despite the fact that sales increased by approximately $1.4 million as described previously. Cost of sales in the Systems segment increased by approximately $478 thousand in the current year quarter versus the prior year quarter due to the increase in Systems segment sales. Cost of sales in the Service and System Integration segment decreased by approximately $580 thousand in the current year quarter versus the prior year quarter, due to the decrease in Service and System Integration segment sales.

The overall gross margin increased from 18% for the fiscal 2009 2nd quarter to 23% gross margin for the quarter ended March 31, 2010. The overall gross margin improvement was due to a higher proportion of sales from the Systems segment, which were 19% of total sales for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus 11% of sales from the Systems segment for the quarter ended March 31, 2009. The gross margins in the Systems segment are typically much higher than gross margins in the Service and System Integration segment. Gross margins in the Systems segment were 63% for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 and 53% for the quarter ended March 31, 2009. This increase in gross margin was due primarily to greater absorption of fixed factory overhead in the 2010 quarter, because production volume was higher than in the prior year 2nd quarter. The gross margin in the Service and System Integration segment was 13% for both quarters ended March 31, 2010 and 2009.

Engineering and Development Expenses

The following table details our engineering and development expenses by operating segment for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	For the Three Months Ended
	March 31, 2010	% of Total	March 31, 2009	% of Total	$ Decrease	% Decrease
(Dollar amounts in thousands)
By Operating Segment:
Systems	$430	100 %	$479	100 %	$(49)	(10)%
Service and System Integration	—	— %	—	— %	—	— %
Total	$430	100 %	$479	100 %	$(49)	(10)%

Engineering and development expenses decreased by approximately $49 thousand, or 10%, for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the same period of fiscal 2009. The decrease reflects lower expenditures for salaries and wages in connection with the development of the next generation of MultiComputer products in the Systems segment.

Selling, General and Administrative

The following table details our selling, general and administrative expense by operating segment for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	March 31, 2010	For the Three Months Ended		March 31, 2009	% of Total	$ Increase (Decrease)	% Increase (Decrease)
		% of Total	(Dollar amounts in thousands)
By Operating Segment:
Systems	$1,020	30	%	$724	23	% $296	41	%
Service and System Integration	2,391	70	%	2,469	77	% (78)	(3)%
Total	$3,411	100	%	$3,193	100	% $218	7	%

Total SG&A expenses increased by approximately $218 thousand, or 7%, for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 compared to the corresponding quarter of fiscal 2009. As shown above, most of this increase was from the Systems segment. The Systems segment SG&A expense increased for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 versus the prior year quarter by approximately $296 thousand, due primarily to higher commission and bonus expenses as a result of higher revenues and operating profits and higher audit fees due to first-year Sarbanes-Oxley audit requirements.

Other Income/Expenses

The following table details our other income/expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	For the Three Months Ended		Increase (Decrease)
	March 31, 2010	March 31, 2009
	(Amounts in thousands)
Interest expense	$(22)	$(34)	$12
Interest income	7	43	(36)
Foreign exchange loss	(3)	(29)	26
Other income (expense), net	2	(5)	7
Total other expense, net	$(16)	$(25)	$9

Total other income (expense), net, was immaterial for both quarters ended March 31, 2010 and 2009.

Income Taxes

Income Tax Provision

The Company recorded an income tax provision of $644 thousand for the quarter ended March 31, 2010 reflecting an effective income tax rate of 39% compared to an income tax expense of $64 thousand for the quarter ended March 31, 2009, which reflected an effective tax expense rate of 23%. For the six months ended March 31, 2010, the Company recorded an income tax provision of $141 thousand reflecting an effective income tax rate of 36% compared to an income tax expense of $306 thousand for the six months ended March 31, 2009, which reflected an effective tax expense rate of 35%

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, we considered our taxable future earnings and the expected timing of the reversal of temporary differences. Accordingly, we have recorded a valuation allowance which reduces the gross deferred tax asset to an amount which we believe will more likely than not be realized. Our inability to project future profitability beyond fiscal year 2010 in the U.S. and cumulative losses incurred in recent years in the United Kingdom represent sufficient negative evidence to record a valuation allowance against certain deferred tax assets. We maintained a substantial valuation allowance against our United Kingdom deferred tax assets as we have experienced cumulative losses and do not have any indication that the operation will be profitable in the future to an extent that will allow us to utilize much of our net operating loss carryforwards. To the extent that actual experience deviates from our assumptions, our projections would be affected and hence our assessment of realizability of our deferred tax asset may change.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary source of liquidity is our cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments, which decreased by approximately $6.6 million to $12.3 million as of March 31, 2010 compared to $18.9 million as of September 30, 2009. At March 31, 2010, the Company's cash equivalents of $4.0 million were held in money market funds.

The decrease in cash and cash equivalents referred to above was substantially from cash used in operating activities. The Company used approximately $5.8 million of cash from operations during the six months ended March 31, 2010. Significant uses of cash from operating activities included an increase in accounts receivable of approximately $7.7 million and an increase in inventories of approximately $705 thousand. Offsetting these uses of cash were the net income for the six months ended March 31, 2010 of $247 thousand, an increase in accounts payable and accrued expenses of approximately $1.4 million, an increase in deferred revenue of approximately $358 thousand and depreciation and amortization expense of approximately $200 thousand. In addition the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations negatively impacted cash by approximately $636 thousand.

If cash generated from operations is insufficient to satisfy working capital requirements, we may need to access funds through bank loans or other means. There is no assurance that we will be able to raise any such capital on terms acceptable to us, on a timely basis or at all. If we are unable to secure additional financing, we may not be able to complete development or enhancement of products, take advantage of future opportunities, respond to competition or continue to effectively operate our business.

Based on our current plans and business conditions, management believes that the Company's available cash and cash equivalents and cash generated from operations and investments will be sufficient to provide for the Company's working capital and capital expenditure requirements for the foreseeable future.

Inflation and Changing Prices

Management does not believe that inflation and changing prices had significant impact on sales, revenues or income from continuing operations during the six month periods ended March 31, 2010 or 2009. There is no assurance that our business will not be materially and adversely affected by inflation and changing prices in the future.

Item 4T.

Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2010. Our chief executive officer, our chief financial officer, and other members of our senior management team supervised and participated in this evaluation. The term “disclosure controls and procedures,” as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC’s rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company’s management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2010, the Company’s chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

This quarterly report is not required to include, and does not include, a report of management's assessment regarding internal control over financial reporting or an attestation report of the company's registered public accounting firm.

Changes in Internal Controls over Financial Reporting

During the period covered by this report, there were no changes in our internal controls over financial reporting that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
