The Peoples Holding Company Signs Definitive Agreement to Acquire Renasant Bancshares, Inc. of Germantown, Tennessee

TUPELO, Miss., Feb. 17, 2004 The Peoples Holding Company (AMEX: PHC) and Renasant Bancshares, Inc. announced today the signing of a definitive merger agreement pursuant to which The Peoples Holding Company will acquire Renasant Bancshares, Inc., a Tennessee-chartered bank holding company (Renasant) headquartered in Germantown, TN. Renasant is the parent of Renasant Bank and at December 31, 2003, had total assets of $226 million, total deposits of $186 million and total stockholders' equity of $17 million.

According to the terms of the merger agreement, each Renasant common shareholder can elect to receive one of the three following options: (1) 1.117015 shares of PHC common stock for each share of Renasant common stock, (2) $36.37 in cash for each share of Renasant common stock, or (3) a combination of 45% cash and 55% common stock. The merger consideration received by Renasant shareholders is subject to adjustment so that the merger will qualify as a tax-free reorganization, and the receipt of PHC common stock by Renasant shareholders will be tax free to Renasant shareholders. Based on PHC's market close of $31.85 on February 13, 2004, the aggregate transaction value, including the dilutive impact of Renasant's options and warrants, is approximately $56.7 million.

The acquisition expands PHC's franchise into the high growth Memphis region through Renasant's two banking offices in Germantown and Cordova. Renasant also operates a loan production office in Hernando, MS. The acquisition is expected to close in the third quarter of 2004 and is subject to regulatory and Renasant shareholder approval and other conditions set forth in the merger agreement.

This acquisition represents an excellent fit with our franchise and gives us access to the fast growing markets of Memphis, stated E. Robinson McGraw, President and Chief Executive Officer of PHC. We are excited about this partnership with Renasant and believe we share similar values, cultures and operating philosophies. PHC considers Frank Cianciola as one of the premier bankers in the Memphis market, and we are proud to have him join the PHC management team. We feel the transaction will add to shareholder value in the years ahead. The transaction is expected to be approximately 4% dilutive to 2004 earnings per share determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and to be accretive to earnings per share determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in 2006. On a cash basis, the acquisition is expected to turn accretive in 2005.

We look forward to this partnership and the enhanced products and services we will be able to offer our clients and prospects in the high growth markets of west Tennessee and north Mississippi, commented Frank J. Cianciola, President and Chief Executive Officer of Renasant.

PHC's outstanding performance is a direct result of their commitment to the community banking concept of local leadership and teamwork, continued Cianciola. That operating philosophy is helping build lasting relationships through excellent service and high value banking and non-traditional financial products.

In terms of client service and shareholder value, Renasant and PHC will clearly be stronger operating as one, stated Jack Johnson, Chairman of Renasant's Board of Directors. Our combined companies will be better positioned to satisfy strong loan demand and our clients' need for insurance and wealth management services.

Renasant Bank will maintain its name and charter. Renasant Bank will operate as an indirect subsidiary of PHC, and the management and board of Renasant Bank will remain in effect. Additionally, two board members of Renasant Bank will serve on the PHC board. We look forward to the addition of Renasant's management to our team, concluded Mr. McGraw. They are experienced in the competitive Memphis marketplace and have done a superior job in building their bank.

PHC and Renasant senior management will host an investor conference call on February 18, 2004 at 11:00 a.m. eastern standard time. The call may be accessed via a live Internet web cast at www.thepeoplesbankandtrust.com or through a dial-in telephone number at 1-800-901-5213, conference passcode ID 17616580.
