ITEM 8.01 Other Events

The Company's management has defined its goals and initiatives for the upcoming year. As we continue to grow our core business, by increasing our consumer and business telecommunications base, we anticipate allocating additional funds from our budget for the development of Voice over Internet Protocol ( VoIP ) services. As we analyze the VoIP market place worldwide, we are developing partnerships that will allow the company to expand its international network and distribution. With our continued growth and development of our core competencies, we anticipate a continuous revenue stream which will allow us to carry out our plans to market VoIP both domestically and internationally while controlling the cost of customer acquisition.
