SUMMARY

This Term Sheet relates to one offering of Securities. The purchaser of any offering will acquire a Security linked to the Underlying Fund.

The following summary does not contain all the information that may be important to you. You should read this summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in Product Supplement No. 1-I and in the accompanying Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement. You should carefully consider, among other things, the matters set forth in “Risk Factors” in the Product Supplement No. 1-I, which are summarized on page 8 of this Term Sheet. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

What are the Securities?

The Securities are non-principal protected securities issued by us, ABN AMRO Bank N.V., and are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by our parent company, ABN AMRO Holding N.V. The Securities will pay periodic cash payments at a fixed rate. We refer to the payments as the coupon or coupon payments and the fixed rate as the coupon rate. The Securities are senior notes of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. These Securities combine certain features of debt and equity by offering a fixed coupon rate on the face amount while the payment at maturity is determined based on the performance of the applicable exchange-traded fund, each of which we refer to as the Underlying Fund. Therefore your principal is at risk but you have no opportunity to participate in any appreciation of the applicable Underlying Fund.

Any payment on the Securities is subject to the creditworthiness of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V. as guarantor.

What will I receive at maturity of the Securities?

The payment at maturity of the Securities will depend on (i) whether or not the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund to which it is linked fell below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day from but not including the pricing date to and including the determination date (such period, the “knock-in period”), and if so, (ii) the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund on the determination date. Except in certain circumstances described under “Description of Securities — Closing Price” in the accompanying Product Supplement, we will usually determine the closing price for any listed shares of the applicable Underlying Fund by reference to the last reported sale price, during regular trading hours (or if listed on The NASDAQ Stock Market LLC, the official closing price), on the primary U.S. securities exchange on which shares of the applicable Underlying Fund are traded.

- If the closing price per share of the applicable Underlying Fund has not fallen below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, we will pay you the face amount of each Security in cash.
- If the closing price per share of the applicable Underlying Fund has fallen below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, we will either:
 - deliver to you the applicable redemption amount, in exchange for each Security, in the event that the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund on the determination date is below the applicable closing price on the pricing date (subject to adjustment), which we refer to as the initial price of such Underlying Fund (the market value of the applicable redemption amount on the determination date will always be less than the face amount of $1,000 per Security); or pay you the face amount of each Security in cash, in the event that the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund is at or above the applicable initial price on the determination date.

If due to events beyond our reasonable control, as determined by us in our sole discretion, shares of the applicable Underlying Fund are not available for delivery at maturity we may pay you, in lieu of the applicable redemption amount, the cash value of the applicable redemption amount, determined by multiplying the applicable redemption amount by the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund on the determination date.

The “redemption amount” is equal to $1,000 divided by the applicable initial price of the applicable Underlying Fund. The applicable initial price and consequently the applicable redemption amount may be adjusted for certain corporate events, such as a stock split, affecting the applicable Underlying Fund.

The payment at maturity is further subject to adjustment in certain circumstances, such as a stock split, which we describe in “Description of Securities — Adjustment Events” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

Any payment at maturity is subject to the creditworthiness of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V., as guarantor.

Why is the coupon rate on the Securities higher than the interest rate payable on your conventional debt securities with the same maturity?

The Securities offer a higher coupon rate than the yield that would be payable on a conventional debt security with the same maturity issued by us or an issuer with a comparable credit rating because you, the investor in the Securities, indirectly sell a put option to us on the shares of the applicable Underlying Fund. The premium due to you for this put option is combined with a market interest rate on our senior debt to produce the higher coupon rate on the Securities. As explained below under “What are the consequences of the indirect put option that I have sold you?” you are being paid the premium for taking the risk that you may receive shares of the applicable Underlying Fund with a market value less than the face amount of your Securities at maturity, which would mean that you would lose some or all of your initial principal investment.

What are the consequences of the indirect put option that I have sold you?

The put option you indirectly sell to us creates the feature of exchangeability. This feature could result in the delivery of shares of the applicable Underlying Fund to you, at maturity, with a market value which is less than the face amount of $1,000 per Security. If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund falls below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, and on the determination date the closing price of the Underlying Fund is less than the applicable initial price, you will receive the applicable redemption amount. The market value of the shares of the applicable Underlying Fund on the determination date will be less than the face amount of the Securities and could be zero. Therefore you are not guaranteed to receive any return of principal at maturity. If the price of the applicable Underlying Fund rises above the applicable initial price you will not participate in any appreciation in the price of the applicable Underlying Fund.

How is the redemption amount determined?

The redemption amount for each $1,000 face amount of any Security is equal to $1,000 divided by the applicable initial price of the Underlying Fund linked to such Security. Since shares of an Underlying Fund are held in book entry form, no stock certificates are issued. Accordingly, any shares of an Underlying Fund which are delivered to you at maturity will be delivered in book entry form and will include any fractional shares you are entitled to receive, after aggregating your total holdings of the Securities linked to the applicable Underlying Fund based on the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund on the determination date.

Do I get all of my principal back at maturity?

You are not guaranteed to receive any return of principal at maturity. If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund falls below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, and the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund is below the applicable initial price on the determination date, we will deliver to you shares of the Underlying Fund. The market value of the shares of the Underlying Fund on the determination date will be less than the face amount of the Securities and could be zero. Accordingly, you may lose some or all of your initial principal investment in the Securities.

What coupon payments can I expect on the Securities?

The coupon rate is fixed at issue and is payable in cash on each coupon payment date, irrespective of whether the Securities are redeemed at maturity for cash or shares.

Any coupon payment is subject to the creditworthiness of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V. as guarantor.

Can you give me an example of the payment at maturity?

If, for example, in a hypothetical offering, the coupon rate was 10% per annum, the initial price of the Underlying Fund was $45.00 per share and the applicable knock-in level for such offering was 80%, then the redemption amount would be 22.222 shares of the Underlying Fund, or $1,000 divided by $45.00, and the knock-in level would be $36.00, or 80% of the applicable initial price.

If the closing price of the hypothetical Underlying Fund fell below the knock-in level of $36.00 on any trading day during the knock-in period, then the payment at maturity would depend on the closing price of the Underlying Fund on the determination date. In this case, if the closing price of the Underlying Fund on the determination date is $30.00 per share, which is below the initial price, you would receive 22.222 shares of the Underlying Fund for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities. In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum. In this hypothetical example, the market value of those 22.222 shares of the Underlying Fund that we would deliver to you at maturity for each $1,000 face amount of Security would be $666.66, which is less than the face amount of $1,000, and you would have lost a portion of your initial investment. If, on the other hand, the closing price of the Underlying Fund on the determination date is $50.00 per share, which is above the initial price, you will receive $1,000 in cash for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities regardless of the knock-in level having been breached. In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum. Alternatively, if the closing price of the Underlying Fund never falls below $36.00, which is the applicable knock-in level, on any trading day during the knock-in period, at maturity you will receive $1,000 in cash for each Security you hold regardless of the closing price of the Underlying Fund on the determination date. In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum.

This example is for illustrative purposes only and is based on a hypothetical offering. It is not possible to predict the closing price of any Underlying Fund on the determination date or at any time during the term of the Securities. For each offering, we will set the initial price, knock-in level and redemption amount on the Pricing Date.

In this Term Sheet, we have also provided under the heading “Hypothetical Sensitivity Analysis of Total Return of the Securities at Maturity” the total return of owning the Securities through maturity for various closing prices of an Underlying Fund on the determination date.

Do I benefit from any appreciation in the Underlying Fund over the term of the Securities?

No. The amount paid at maturity for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities will never exceed $1,000.

What is the minimum required purchase?

You may purchase Securities in minimum denominations of $1,000 or in integral multiples thereof.

Is there a secondary market for Securities?

The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and, as such, information regarding independent market pricing for the Securities may be extremely limited. You should be willing to hold your Securities until the maturity date.

Although it is not required to do so, we have been informed by our affiliate that when this offering is complete, it intends to make purchases and sales of the Securities from time to time in off-exchange transactions. If our affiliate does make such a market in the Securities, it may stop doing so at any time.

In connection with any secondary market activity in the Securities, our affiliate may post indicative prices for the Securities on a designated website or via Bloomberg. However, our affiliate is not required to post such indicative prices and may stop doing so at any time. Investors are advised that any prices shown on any website or Bloomberg page are indicative prices only and, as such, there can be no assurance that any trade could be executed at such prices. Investors should contact their brokerage firm for further information.

In addition, the issue price of the Securities includes the selling agents' commissions paid with respect to the Securities and the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities. The cost of hedging includes the profit component that our affiliate has charged in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in managing the hedging of the transactions. The fact that the issue price of the Securities includes these commissions and hedging costs is expected to adversely affect the secondary market prices of the Securities. See "Risk Factors — The Inclusion of Commissions and Cost of Hedging in the Issue Price is Likely to Adversely Affect Secondary Market Prices" and "Use of Proceeds" in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

What is the relationship between ABN Amro Bank N.V., ABN Amro Holding N.V. and RBS Securities Inc.?

RBS Securities Inc., which we refer to as RBSSI, is an affiliate of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V. RBSSI will act as calculation agent for the Securities, and is acting as agent for each offering. RBSSI will conduct each offering in compliance with the requirements of NASD Rule 2720 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, which is commonly referred to as FINRA, regarding a FINRA member firm's distribution of the securities of an affiliate. See "Risk Factors — Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Securities and the Calculation Agent" and "Plan of Distribution (Conflicts of Interest)" in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

Where can I find out more about the Underlying Fund?

Because each Underlying Fund is registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, each Underlying Fund is required to file periodically certain financial and other information specified by the Commission which is available to the public. You should read "Public Information Regarding the Underlying Fund" in this Term Sheet to learn how to obtain public information regarding the Underlying Fund and other important information. The historical highest intra-day price, lowest intra-day price and last day closing price of the Underlying Fund are set forth under the heading "Public Information Regarding the Underlying Fund" in this Term Sheet.

What if I have more questions?

You should read "Description of Securities" in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I for a detailed description of the terms of the Securities. ABN AMRO has filed a registration statement (including a Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement in that registration statement and other documents ABN AMRO has filed with the SEC for more complete information about ABN AMRO and the offering of the Securities. You may get these documents for free by visiting EDGAR on the SEC web site at www.sec.gov. Alternatively, ABN AMRO, any underwriter or any dealer participating in the offering will arrange to send you the Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement if you request it by calling toll free (866) 747-4332.

Recent Developments

As described under the heading “Tell me more about ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V.” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I, on October 17, 2007, RFS Holdings B.V., which at the time was owned by a consortium consisting of the Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc (“RBS”), Fortis N.V., Fortis SA/NV and Banco Santander S.A., completed the acquisition of Holding, the parent of ABN AMRO Bank N.V. Subsequent to the events described therein the following has occurred:

On November 3, 2009 RBS announced that UK Financial Investments Limited (“UKFI”), which is wholly owned by the UK government, agreed to subscribe for additional B Shares of RBS raising UKFI’s economic interest in RBS to 84.4% while UKFI’s ordinary shareholdings of RBS remain at 70.3%. While B Shares are convertible into ordinary shares, UKFI has maintained its agreement not to convert its B Shares into ordinary shares to the extent its holding of ordinary shares would represent 75% or more of RBS’s issued ordinary share capital. Issuance of the additional B Shares was approved by the European Commission on December 14, 2009 and by the shareholders of RBS on December 15, 2009.

For further information about RBS see “Tell me more about ABN AMRO Bank N.V. and ABN AMRO Holding N.V.” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the risks of the Securities to which this Term Sheet relates and whether these Securities are suited to your particular circumstances before deciding to purchase them. It is important that prior to investing in these Securities you read the Product Supplement No. 1-I and Underlying Supplement No. 2-II related to such Securities and the accompanying Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement to understand the actual terms of and the risks associated with the Securities. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

Credit Risk

The Securities are issued by ABN AMRO and guaranteed by ABN AMRO Holding N.V., ABN AMRO's parent company. As a result, investors in the Securities assume the credit risk of ABN AMRO and that of ABN AMRO Holding N.V. in the event that ABN AMRO defaults on its obligations under the Securities. Any obligations or Securities sold, offered, or recommended are not deposits of ABN AMRO and are not endorsed or guaranteed by any bank or thrift, nor are they insured by the FDIC or any governmental agency.

Principal Risk

The Securities are not ordinary debt securities: they are not principal protected. In addition, if the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund falls below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, investors in the Securities will be exposed to any decline in the price of the applicable Underlying Fund below the closing price of the applicable Underlying Fund on the date the Securities were priced. Accordingly, you may lose some or all of your initial principal investment in the Securities.

Limited Return

The amount payable under the Securities will never exceed the original face amount of the Securities plus the applicable aggregate fixed coupon payment investors earn during the term of the Securities. This means that you will not benefit from any price appreciation in the applicable Underlying Fund, nor will you receive dividends paid on the stocks that comprise the applicable Underlying Fund, if any. Accordingly, you will never receive at maturity an amount greater than a predetermined amount per Security, regardless of how much the price of the applicable Underlying Fund may increase during the term of the Securities or on the determination date. The return on a Security may be significantly less than the return on a direct investment in the shares of the applicable Underlying Fund to which the Security is linked during the term of the Security.

Liquidity Risk

The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and information regarding independent market pricing of the Securities may be very limited or non-existent. The value of the Securities in the secondary market, if any, will be subject to many unpredictable factors, including then prevailing market conditions.

It is important to note that many factors will contribute to the secondary market value of the Securities, and you may not receive your full principal back if the Securities are sold prior to maturity. Such factors include, but are not limited to, time to maturity, the price of the applicable Underlying Fund, volatility and interest rates.

In addition, the price, if any, at which our affiliate or another party are willing to purchase Securities in secondary market transactions will likely be lower than the issue price, since the issue price included, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude, commissions, discounts or mark-ups paid with respect to the Securities, as well as the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities.

Holdings of the Securities by Our Affiliates and Future Sales

Certain of our affiliates may agree to purchase for investment the portion of the Securities that has not been purchased by investors in a particular offering of Securities, which initially they intend to hold for investment purposes. As a result, upon completion of such an offering, our affiliates may own up to 15% of the aggregate face amount of the Securities. Circumstances may occur in which our interests or those of our affiliates could be in conflict with your interests. For example, our affiliates may attempt to sell the Securities that they had been holding for investment purposes at the same time that you attempt to sell your Securities, which could depress the price, if any, at which you can sell your Securities. Moreover, the liquidity of the market for the Securities, if any, could be substantially reduced as a result of our affiliates holding the Securities. In addition, our affiliates could have substantial influence over any matter subject to consent of the security holders.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the Securities, including acting as calculation agent. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the Securities. We and our affiliates may carry out hedging activities that minimize our risks related to the Securities, including trading in the shares of any Underlying Fund. In particular, on or prior to the date of this Term Sheet, we, through our affiliates, may have hedged our anticipated exposure in connection with the Securities by taking positions in the shares of the Underlying Funds, options contracts on shares of the Underlying Funds listed on major securities markets, and/or other instruments that we deemed appropriate in connection with such hedging. Our purchase activity, however, could potentially have increased the initial price of the applicable Underlying Fund, and therefore increased the applicable knock-in level, below which we would be required to deliver to you at maturity shares of the Underlying Fund, which, in turn, would have a value less than the face amount of your Securities.

No Affiliation with any Underlying Fund or any Issuers of the Stocks Comprising any Underlying Fund

Any Underlying Fund and the issuers of the stocks comprising such Underlying Fund are not affiliates of ours and are not involved with this offering in any way. The obligations represented by the Securities are our obligations, not those of any Underlying Fund or the issuers of the stocks comprising such Underlying Funds. Investing in the Securities is not equivalent to investing in an Underlying Fund. Neither we nor Holding nor any of our affiliates have any affiliation with any Underlying Fund, and are not responsible for any Underlying Fund's public disclosure of information, whether contained in SEC filings or otherwise.

There Are Risks Associated With the Applicable Underlying Fund

The applicable Underlying Fund is subject to management risk, which is the risk that the investment strategy of the applicable Underlying Fund's investment advisor, the implementation of which is subject to a number of constraints, may not produce the intended results. See the information about the applicable Target Index included in Underlying Supplement No. 2-II for additional information.

The Applicable Underlying Fund May Not Always be Able Exactly to Replicate the Performance of the Applicable Target Index

It is possible that, for a short period, the applicable Underlying Fund may not fully replicate the performance of the applicable Target Index due to the temporary unavailability of certain index securities in the secondary market or due to other extraordinary circumstances. In addition, the applicable Underlying Fund is not able to replicate exactly the performance of the applicable Target Index because the applicable Target Index is a theoretical calculation while the applicable Underlying Fund is an actual portfolio of stocks. Accordingly, the total return generated by the applicable

Underlying Fund is reduced by its expenses and transaction costs incurred in adjusting the actual balance of the applicable

Underlying Fund. This may adversely affect the value of the Securities and the return, if any, on the Securities.

Uncertain Tax Treatment

You should review carefully the section of the accompanying Product Supplement entitled “U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences.” Although the tax consequences of an investment in the Securities are unclear, we believe that it is reasonable to treat a Security for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a put option (the “Put Option”), written by you to us with respect to the shares of the Underlying Fund, secured by a cash deposit equal to the face amount of the Security (the “Deposit”). Under this treatment, less than the full amount of each coupon payment will be attributable to the interest on the Deposit, and the excess of each coupon payment over the portion of the coupon payment attributable to the interest on the Deposit will represent a portion of the option premium attributable to your grant of the Put Option (the “Put Premium,” and collectively for all coupon payments received, “Put Premiums”). Interest on the Deposit generally will be treated as ordinary income on indebtedness while the Put Premium will not be taken into account prior to sale, exchange or maturity of the Securities. The cover of the Term Sheet reflects our determination of the rate of interest paid on the Deposit and the amount of the Put Premiums.

Due to the absence of authorities that directly address instruments that are similar to the Securities, significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Securities are uncertain. We do not plan to request a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”), and the IRS or a court might not agree with the tax treatment described in this Term Sheet and the accompanying Product Supplement. If the IRS were successful in asserting an alternative treatment for the Securities, the tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of the Securities could be affected materially and adversely.

In December 2007, the Treasury and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on various issues regarding the U.S. federal income tax treatment of “prepaid forward contracts” and similar instruments. While it is not clear whether the Securities would be viewed as similar to the typical prepaid forward contract described in the notice, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Securities, possibly with retroactive effect.

Both U.S. and non-U.S. holders should consult their tax advisers regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal tax consequences of investing in the Securities (including possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by the December 2007 notice), as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.

Hypothetical Sensitivity Analysis of Total Return of the Securities at Maturity

The following tables set out the total return to maturity of a Security, based on the assumptions outlined below and several variables, which include (a) whether the closing price of the Underlying Fund has fallen below the knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period and (b) several hypothetical closing prices for the Underlying Fund on the determination date. The information in the tables is based on hypothetical market values for the Underlying Fund. We cannot predict the market price or the closing price of the Underlying Fund on the determination date or at any time during the term of the Securities. The assumptions expressed below are for illustrative purposes only and the returns set forth in the table may or may not be the actual rates applicable to a purchaser of the Securities.

Assumptions:

Initial Price:	$15.01 (indicative price only, the initial price will be set on the pricing date; the closing price on January 12, 2010 was $15.01)
Knock-In Level:	$12.76 (85% of the initial price)
Annual Coupon on the Securities:	8.50%
Term of the Securities:	6 months
Exchange Factor:	1.0 (we have assumed that no Market Disruption Event occurs and the Calculation Agent does not need to adjust the Exchange Factor for any adjustment event during the term of the Securities).

- (a) Based on the assumptions set forth above, if the closing price of the Underlying Fund falls below $12.76 on any trading day during the knock-in period and, in addition, the closing price of the Underlying Fund is less than $15.01 on the determination date, the payment at maturity will be made in shares of the Underlying Fund. For determining the value of the payment at maturity, we have assumed that the closing price of the Underlying Fund will be the same on the maturity date as on the determination date.
- (b) Coupons on the Securities will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months or, in the case of an incomplete month, the number of actual days elapsed. Accordingly, depending on the number of days in any monthly coupon payment period, the coupon payable in such period and, consequently, the total coupons payable over the term of the Securities, may be less than the amount reflected in this column.
- (c) The total return presented is exclusive of any tax consequences of owning the Securities. You should consult your tax advisor regarding whether owning the Securities is appropriate for your tax situation. See the sections titled “Risk Factors” in this Term Sheet and the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I and “United States Federal Taxation” and “Taxation in the Netherlands” in the accompanying Prospectus Supplement.
- (d) Based on the assumptions set forth above, if the closing price of the Underlying Fund never falls below $12.76 on any trading day during the knock-in period, the payment at maturity will be made in cash.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION (CONFLICTS OF INTEREST)

We have appointed RBS Securities Inc. (“RBSSI”) as agent for any offering of the Securities. RBSSI has agreed to use reasonable efforts to solicit offers to purchase the Securities. We will pay RBSSI, in connection with sales of the Securities resulting from a solicitation such agent made or an offer to purchase such agent received, a commission of 1.75% of the initial offering price of the Securities. RBSSI has informed us that, as part of its distribution of the Securities, it intends to reoffer the Securities to other dealers who will sell the Securities. Each such dealer engaged by RBSSI, or further engaged by a dealer to whom RBSSI reoffers the Securities, will purchase the Securities at an agreed discount to the initial offering price of the Securities. RBSSI has informed us that such discounts may vary from dealer to dealer and that not all dealers will purchase or repurchase the Securities at the same discount. You can find a general description of the commission rates payable to the agents under “Plan of Distribution” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

RBSSI is an affiliate of ours and ABN AMRO Holding N.V. RBSSI will conduct this offering in compliance with the requirements of NASD Rule 2720 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, which is commonly referred to as FINRA, regarding a FINRA member firm’s distributing the securities of an affiliate. Following the initial distribution of any of these Securities, RBSSI may offer and sell those Securities in the course of its business as a broker-dealer. RBSSI may act as principal or agent in those transactions and will make any sales at varying prices related to prevailing market prices at the time of sale or otherwise. RBSSI may use this Term Sheet and the accompanying Prospectus, Prospectus Supplement, Product Supplement No. 1 and Underlying Supplement No. 2-II in connection with any of those transactions. RBSSI is not obligated to make a market in any of these Securities and may discontinue any market-making activities at any time without notice.

RBSSI or an affiliate of RBSSI will enter into one or more hedging transactions with us in connection with this offering of Securities. See “Use of Proceeds” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-I.

To the extent that the total aggregate face amount of the Securities being offered by this Term Sheet is not purchased by investors in the offering, one or more of our affiliates has agreed to purchase the unsold portion, and to hold such Securities for investment purposes. See “Holdings of the Securities by our Affiliates and Future Sales” under the heading “Risk Factors” in this Term Sheet.
