Dear DTVLA Employees,

Today, General Motors and EchoStar will be announcing that they have reached an agreement to merge HUGHES with EchoStar.

After many months of negotiations, the leadership of GM and HUGHES have decided that a merger with EchoStar offered the greatest shareholder return and the best future growth opportunity for our businesses.

Attached you will find a letter from Jack Shaw regarding the transaction. You will also find a copy of the press release distributed today addressing some of the key elements of this deal.

For DIRECTV Latin America, this agreement will allow us to maintain our independence and continue our work as the leading direct-to-home satellite television service in Latin America and the Caribbean. Our goals and business plans remain the same, as well as our drive to reach the financial objectives for this year and beyond. As with any transaction of this nature, some changes are to be expected, but we do not foresee any significant transformation in the way we carry our day to day business activities.

This is a new beginning for DIRECTV Latin America and all HUGHES businesses. This transaction will strengthen HUGHES and thus, our business in the region.

There are still months of preparation for this deal to be finalized: GM and GMH boards have approved the transaction, but it is pending review and approval by both sets of shareholders and by the appropriate U.S. government agencies. We should all be excited about the future and the new opportunities that will now be available to all of us at DIRECTV Latin America.

Your contribution to this company is our biggest asset. We thank you for your commitment and ask you to continue to drive the success of DIRECTV Latin America.

Sincerely,

Kevin N. McGrath
Chairman

George W. Foyo
President
