These Definitive Additional Materials on Schedule 14A are being filed pursuant to an agreement in principle regarding the settlement of a lawsuit relating to the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Merger Agreement), dated as of September 29, 2010, among Danaher Corporation, a Delaware corporation (Parent), Aegean Acquisition Corp., an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent and an Ohio corporation (Merger Sub), and Keithley Instruments, Inc., an Ohio corporation (the Company), providing for the merger (the Merger) of Merger Sub with and into the Company.

As previously disclosed on page 33 of the Company's Definitive Proxy Statement on Schedule 14A filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) on October 25, 2010 (the Proxy Statement), a purported class action and derivative lawsuit was filed in connection with the Merger in the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, Ohio against the Company, its directors and Parent (the Action). The complaint alleges, among other things, that the Company's directors breached their fiduciary duties in connection with the Merger and that Parent has aided and abetted the Company's directors in their alleged breaches of fiduciary duties.

On November 15, 2010, counsel for all parties reached an agreement in principle regarding the settlement of the Action.

The Company believes that no further supplemental disclosure is required under applicable laws; however, to avoid the risk of the Action delaying or adversely affecting the Merger and to minimize the expense of defending the Action, the Company has agreed, pursuant to the terms of the proposed settlement, to make certain supplemental disclosures related to the proposed Merger, all of which are set forth below. Subject to completion of certain confirmatory discovery by counsel to the plaintiff, the proposed settlement contemplates that the parties will enter into a stipulation of settlement. The stipulation of settlement will be subject to customary conditions, including court approval following notice to the Company's shareholders. If the parties enter into a stipulation of settlement, a hearing will be scheduled at which the court will consider the fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy of the settlement. If the settlement is finally approved by the court, it will resolve and release all claims in all actions that were or could have been brought challenging any aspect of the proposed Merger, the Merger Agreement, and any disclosure made in connection therewith (but excluding claims by dissenting shareholders under Section 1701.85 of the Ohio Revised Code), pursuant to terms that will be disclosed to shareholders prior to final approval of the settlement. There can be no assurance that the parties will ultimately enter into a stipulation of settlement or that the court will approve the settlement even if the parties were to enter into such stipulation. In such event, the proposed settlement may be terminated.

SUPPLEMENT TO DEFINITIVE PROXY STATEMENT

In connection with the settlement of the Action as described in these Definitive Additional Materials on Schedule 14A, the Company has agreed to make these supplemental disclosures to the Proxy Statement. This supplemental information should be read in conjunction with the Proxy Statement, which should be read in its entirety. Defined terms used but not defined herein have the meanings set forth in the Proxy Statement.

THE MERGER PROPOSAL Background of the Merger

The following disclosure supplements the discussion on page 11 of the Proxy Statement concerning the April 2, 2010 meeting of our board of directors:

At that board of directors meeting, Mr. Keithley confirmed that his family would support a sale of the Company and that the family was not seeking a control premium for the Class B common shares.

The following disclosure supplements the discussion on page 11 of the Proxy Statement concerning our board of directors' decision to engage Stifel Nicolaus Weisel:

As part of its determination to engage Stifel Nicolaus Weisel, our board of directors was aware of and considered that Stifel Nicolaus Weisel's wealth management group provided investment advisory services to the Company's benefit plans regarding asset management and weighting, and that Stifel Nicolaus Weisel's wealth management group also provided investment advisory services to Mr. Keithley and certain trusts for which he is trustee, using the same asset managers as the Company's benefit plans.

The following disclosure supplements the discussion on page 11 of the Proxy Statement regarding the June 21, 2010 meeting of our board of directors:

At the meeting, Stifel Nicolaus Weisel provided to the directors estimated ranges of values for the four alternatives with the estimated range of values for a sale of the Company being the highest. All of the value ranges were significantly lower than the merger consideration of $21.60 per share.

The following disclosure supplements the discussion on page 11 of the Proxy Statement concerning the June 25, 2010 telephonic meeting of our board of directors:

At the meeting, Stifel Nicolaus Weisel provided a range of values for the status quo alternative, coupled with a significant increase in the regular dividend, which was lower than the estimated range of values for a sale of the Company and significantly lower than the merger consideration of $21.60 per share.

The following disclosure supplements the discussion on page 11 of the Proxy Statement:

At a meeting of the independent members of our board of directors held on July 22, 2010, the board of directors authorized the Company to enter into a change in control agreement with Mr. Keithley on the same terms that had been approved by the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of the board of directors for the Company's other executive officers.

THE MERGER PROPOSAL Reasons for the Merger

The following disclosure replaces the second bullet point on page 15 of the Proxy Statement:

The belief that, while improvements in our operating performance, as well as a rebound in the semi-conductor and electronics end markets and growth from international markets, especially Asia, could yield improved operating results, the achievement of such improvements is uncertain and subject to significant execution risks because of, among other things, the risk of introduction of higher performance products from the Company's competitors, obsolescence of some of the Company's older products, the relatively slower size and growth of the Company's served available market compared to other segments of the test and measurement industry, the ability of larger, better capitalized competitors to invest in research and development, and the Company's ability to attract and retain talent.

The following disclosures supplement the discussion on pages 14 and 15 of the Proxy Statement concerning the reasons for the Merger:

The fact that the Company's common shares have historically traded and were likely to continue to trade at a discount to the market as a result of the Company's limited scale and dual class voting structure;

The fact that, in assessing the Company's ability to pursue an acquisition strategy as an alternative to a sale, our board of directors considered that there is a limited universe of quality acquisition candidates, the Company could be disadvantaged in a competitive process for quality acquisition targets in light of the Company's size, there are significant diligence, integration and personnel risks associated with acquisitions, and an acquisition program would not have a near-term impact on the Company and would likely be occurring at a time when the Company might be considering management succession;

The belief that the alternatives of a potential stock repurchase or extraordinary dividend, while advantageous in that both alternatives returned cash to shareholders and, in the case of a share repurchase, was self-selecting in providing liquidity to those shareholders who desired it, a share repurchase would further limit float and liquidity for the Company's common shares and a significant special cash dividend could signal to the market that there was no better use for the Company's cash and would constrain the Company's access to cash;

In resolving to proceed promptly with a process to explore a sale of Keithley, our board of directors considered whether a sale process beginning in August 2010 or sometime in 2011 would permit the market to reflect additional periods of financial performance for Keithley which could be favorable, but our board of directors determined that commencing a process promptly was advisable and in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders, based in part on the advice of Stifel Nicolaus Weisel;

The fact that our board of directors determined that it was in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders to conduct a confidential sales process involving a meaningful number of strategic and financial bidders instead of a broader, publicly announced auction, based in part on the advice of Stifel Nicolaus Weisel;

The fact that our board of directors considered forming a special committee of independent directors to oversee the sales process, but determined that the absence of any material conflicts involving any of the directors and the relatively small size of the board of directors made a special committee unnecessary, both as a legal and a practical matter.
