ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS.

Attached as Exhibit 99.1 is the Forbearance Agreement dated as of March 7, 2002, among the Registrant and its lenders, in which the lenders agree to temporarily forbear (through March) from exercising certain rights arising from the Registrant's non-compliance with one of four financial covenants contained in that certain Credit Agreement dated as of June 1, 1999 among the Registrant, Brite Voice Systems, Inc., Bank of America, National Association, as agent, and the Lenders party thereto. The Registrant made its scheduled principal repayment of approximately $5.0 million on February 28 and has not defaulted on any of its payment obligations since the inception of the Credit Agreement.

The lenders and the Registrant will meet later this month to structure a mutually acceptable arrangement for the remaining term of the Credit Agreement. At the meeting, the Registrant plans to propose modifications to one or more of the financial covenants and the schedule for principal repayments. While the Registrant is optimistic that a mutually acceptable arrangement will be reached, there is no guarantee that such an arrangement will be reached. If a mutually acceptable arrangement is not reached, and the forbearance period is not extended, the lenders have all rights available to them under the Credit Agreement, including acceleration, termination or enforcement of security interests.
