THE MEDIA GENERAL ANNUAL MEETING IS NOW ONLY A FEW DAYS AWAY. YOUR VOTE FOR GENE DAVIS, F. JACK LIEBAU, JR. AND J. DANIEL SULLIVAN, TRULY INDEPENDENT CLASS A NOMINEES COMMITTED TO SERVING YOUR INTEREST, IS VITALLY IMPORTANT. WE URGE YOU TO VOTE YOUR SHARES TODAY, BY TELEPHONE OR INTERNET, FOLLOWING THE INSTRUCTIONS ON THE ENCLOSED GREEN PROXY CARD.

April 18, 2008

Dear Fellow Stockholder:

By now you have probably read management's letter to stockholders dated April 14, and you may have questions about the allegations contained in it. You probably have also noticed management's increasingly harsh tone in their other recent communications to stockholders. In advance of Media General's annual meeting coming up on Thursday, April 24, we'd like to shed some light on the company's statements and set the record straight.

Harbinger's Three Nominees Are TheOnly Right Choice

Management has been trying to convince you that their nominees for the three Class A director seats are better qualified than the three outstanding individuals we have nominated. We believe nothing could be further from the truth, and like you, we are astonished that management still hasn't conceded this point, especially in light of all the third party support we have been receiving. The company's nominees include two professors with no stated business or finance experience (other than sitting on the Media General board) and an ex-banker with no other media experience who has sat on the Media General board for 19 years, including the period of massive destruction of shareholder value over the last several years. In contrast, our three nominees are all highly successful business people with deep expertise in and knowledge of broadcasting, newspapers and the Internet. Our three nominees are:

J. Daniel Sullivan, a highly respected, extremely successful 35-year broadcasting veteran who started on the ground floor, rose through the ranks, and ultimately operated, managed or owned over 60 different television stations. He also founded and ran three large broadcasting companies over his career and is credited with creating enormous value for stockholders over the decades. In addition, Dan led the Internet strategy at each of the last three companies he ran.

F. Jack Liebau, Jr., a lifelong investment professional who is president and founder of his own asset management company and was prior to that a portfolio manager at a large investment firm. He has spent his professional career serving as a responsible long-term shareholder on behalf of his clients, focused on things that matter to investors – maximizing shareholder value and ensuring good corporate governance. Jack is an acknowledged expert on the newspaper industry having covered it for many years and is often quoted in the national media regarding his views on media companies. Jack has been analyzing Media General and its peers for more than 20 years.

Eugene I. Davis, chairman of a consulting company that specializes in turn-around management and strategic planning for companies across a wide range of industries. He has held positions as CEO, COO and CFO of public companies and has served on the boards of numerous companies that, like Media General, were facing serious challenges or going through a major transition. Gene boasts a long list of huge successes helping to create shareholder value during his tenure as an officer or board member of the companies he has served. Gene also has significant business experience in media, having been a director of two broadcast companies and currently serving as a chairman of a publishing company.

As stockholders of Media General, we believe we would be extremely fortunate to have these three outstanding individuals join the board and bring their combined experience, judgment, independence and accountability to benefit all shareholders. As you may have already noticed, both ISS Governance Services and Glass Lewis, the two leading independent proxy voting advisory firms used by thousands of institutional investors, have recommended that their clients all vote the GREEN proxy for one and two of our nominees, respectively, and in each case not to vote for any of management's nominees. In addition the company's largest Class A stockholder GAMCO, has also publically stated its support for all three of our nominees.

Harbinger Is Completely Aligned With You

Management has engaged in fear-mongering about us for months and has been trying to convince you that Harbinger's interests run counter to yours. This is simply untrue. In fact, our interests are 100% aligned with yours. We are the company's second largest shareholder, we have millions of dollars at stake in the same exact type of shares in the company that you own, and like you we only benefit when all shareholders benefit from an increase in the value of the company's stock. As you may know, we have a history of providing long-term support to companies that face serious challenges or are out of favor, such as is currently the case with Media General. In this case, we are trying to help the company by nominating outstanding candidates who will bring fresh ideas and valuable perspective to the company's board. We have also continued to spend months analyzing the company, comparing it to its peers, listening to management, probing its challenges and opportunities, identifying what it needs to do better, and formulating a prescription for the company going forward – all for the purpose of helping to enhance its strategy and operational execution in order to increase the value of the shares that you and we both hold.

We Understand The Company, But The Company Still Needs Change

Management has been trying to convince you that you should be satisfied with the company's operations over the last few years, also that management and the board have done their best with the newspaper, television and website assets they manage on behalf of their shareholders. But like us, you probably disagree or believe their best is simply not good enough. As you undoubtedly know, the company's stock has underperformed not only compared to the overall market but also its media peers, and this is the clearest evidence you can have. Management has said they and the board have the right strategy for the company, but take a look at what has happened under their watch:

The evidence doesn't stop there. What management hasn't told you is that the company also substantially underperforms compared to its peers in terms of cash flow margins, excessive spending, return on assets, financial leverage and other key measures. We believe the company has massively overpaid for assets – and has made contradictory statements to shareholders regarding about how much they paid. We believe the company has distracted itself by buying non-core Internet companies that, in our view, are not at all appropriate for Media General to own given that the company could easily have purchased online game and online coupon features and services on a piecemeal basis to service its needs. And finally, the company just today reported a net loss of over $20 million for the first three months of 2008.

We Have Offered Specific Recommendations To Rebuild Shareholder Value

Like you, we don't think the company's performance has been acceptable, which is why we have carefully formulated a series of strategic initiatives and operational steps that we've recommended to rebuild shareholder value. They include:

Pursue broadcast duopoly and retransmission consent revenue opportunities

Reduce spending across the board and apply more rigorous payback analysis to all spending decisions

Be more disciplined on purchase price and more realistic on projections when evaluating future acquisitions

Sell the company's non-core Internet ventures (BlockDot, DealTaker.com, and NTN Buzztime) and instead buy those features and services piecemeal as needed

Refocus the company's online strategy on enhancing the websites tied to the company's television and newspaper properties

Consider selling the Providence, RI and Columbus, OH stations to regain regional focus and pay down debt substantially

Consider alternatives for the challenged Florida publishing properties

Tie management compensation more directly to the creation of shareholder value and hold management at all levels more accountable for their performance

Edgar Filing: MEDIA GENERAL INC - Form DFAN14A

Apply more rigorous analysis to emphasize impact on shareholder value to determine capital allocation decisions

Cut costs more aggressively

Carefully consider the full range of strategic options (i.e. not just a sale) for individual properties, divisions etc. and also financing transactions, spin-offs, mergers, joint ventures etc.

More aggressively reduce debt and consider reducing the company's dividend to accelerate debt reduction

As you can see, these steps would build directly on the company's core long-term strengths as a regional television/newspaper/website company. But our recommendations are also substantially different than the company's current direction and we believe they would put an end to the status quo.

Please Vote The GREEN Proxy Card Today

We believe, as you probably also realize by now, that the company's attempts to disparage us and distort the above facts – about our three nominees, our interests which are aligned with all other public shareholders, and our prescription/recommendations for rebuilding shareholder value are nothing more than a desperate attempt to deprive you of truly independent representation on the board of directors.

However, the good news is that the public shareholders now have a genuine choice. Don't let management prevent you from benefitting from the outstanding experience, judgment, independence and accountability which we believe our three outstanding director candidates would bring to the board.

To help achieve a turnaround at the company and help establish truly independent board representation for the public shareholders, we urge you to vote for our three outstanding nominees by using the telephone or Internet voting procedures described on the enclosed GREEN proxy card.

Do not sign any WHITE proxy cards from the company, and please DISCARD them. If you have already signed the company's card, you may revoke it by delivering a later-dated GREEN proxy card in the enclosed postage-prepaid envelope or voting by telephone or on the Internet as described on the enclosed GREEN proxy card. Only your latest dated, executed vote counts.
