VODAFONE AND NOKIA AGREE TO LAUNCH INTEGRATED VODAFONE SERVICES ON NOKIA HANDSETS

Vodafone, the world's largest mobile operator by revenue, and Nokia, the world's largest handset manufacturer, have agreed to launch an integrated suite of Vodafone services combined with Nokia Ovi Services on a range of Nokia handsets. These services will offer customers a greater choice of communications, Internet services, content and browsing through a range of premium handsets on high speed 3G and 3G broadband networks. Vodafone and Nokia also have agreed that a number of these handsets will be exclusive to Vodafone.

Customers will get faster and easier access to all of Vodafone's Internet and entertainment services as well as all of Ovi from Nokia services on a wide range of handsets. Vodafone customers will be able to access the widest and most attractive choice of Internet services.

Vodafone and Nokia will make it easier to access the Internet quickly at the click of a button. Customers will get the full suite of communications, content, Internet services and browsing, through seamlessly integrated Vodafone services on Nokia handsets.

Vodafone and Nokia will also deliver greater choice in music for customers, by making both the Vodafone music service and the Nokia Music Store available on Nokia's 2008 handsets.

We're pleased to be working with Nokia in leading the industry to bring customers a complete suite of Vodafone communications, browsing, content and Internet services said Frank Rovekamp, Global Chief Marketing Officer, Vodafone Group. This is a logical step for Vodafone to make, further improving our customer experience with many of the services already launched with leading Internet partners.

Web2.0 is all about social networking and enabling people to connect with each other in new ways. Bringing location and context awareness to web2.0 services is the next stage in the web development and Nokia multimedia computers enable people to participate to their favourite internet services on-the-go said Executive Vice President and General Manager Nokia Multimedia Anssi Vanjoki. We're excited to work with Vodafone to provide consumers with internet services like navigation, music, games and communities to make their life richer and more enjoyable, independent of time and place.

VERIZON WIRELESS AND VODAFONE CREATE BEST-IN-CLASS GLOBAL SERVICE FOR MULTI-NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Single Account Team Structure, Consistent Approach to Products and Pricing and International Contract Among Key Benefits

BASKING RIDGE, N.J., and NEWBURY, ENGLAND In a move aimed at giving select business customers an enhanced global communications experience, Vodafone, the world's leading international mobile communications group and Verizon Wireless, the leading wireless provider in the United States, have announced a new global services cooperation.

The new program allows both companies to meet the needs of global business customers, while providing a consistent approach to products and pricing. In addition, business customers served by a global account team will be able to have one contract to cover their mobile needs in the United States, Europe and elsewhere in the world.

This program combines the power of world-class organizations and exemplifies our commitment to providing a true global wireless experience, said Lowell McAdam, chief executive officer of Verizon Wireless. Increasingly, enterprise customers are competing in the global market and wireless solutions are integral to their ability to be responsive to their business. By leveraging our Vodafone relationship to create a seamless global program, we are not only providing customers with unmatched wireless service, but unparalleled customer service.

This unique Vodafone Verizon Wireless offer delivers more predictability and consistency to the communications needs of international businesses, said Vittorio Colao, deputy chief executive officer of Vodafone Group. It provides our customers with a single point of contact that makes it easier to do business with both companies. We are confident that this cooperation will provide immediate benefits to our customers and set a new standard in enterprise account management.

Verizon Wireless offers voice and data connectivity solutions customized to match the needs of enterprise customers. With a Verizon Wireless sales team of industry experts to call upon, enterprise customers are assured of getting the right mobile solution for their business.
